PML-N Re-Elects Nawaz Unopposed As Party Head After Six Years

LAHORE: Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) Tuesday elected Nawaz Sharif as the party's president "unopposed" — six years after a court ruling had removed him from office.

Nawaz had lost the prime minister's office in 2017 and the presidency of his party in 2018, as a result of the Panama Papers ruling. Ever since, the PML-N has constructed a narrative centred around the catchphrase "mujhy kyun nikala" (Why was I removed?), in reference to ex-PM.

He said that Pakistan would have held a unique position and power in Asia if the progress under his government had not been halted repeatedly.

However, Nawaz was elected as the party president today once again as no other party leader submitted their nomination papers against the party supremo for the top post.

While addressing the party's general council meeting after being elected to the post after a gap of six years, the former prime minister said that Pakistan would have progressed if his governments had not been toppled repeatedly.

because he was re-elected as the PML-N president but because the decision by former chief justice of Pakistan Saqib Nisar in the Panama Papers case "had been thrown into the waste basket."

Saqib Nisar had given the ruling to remove me from the party's presidency forever. Tell him to come here today and see what happened to his decision," Nawaz added.

"Four to five people compromised the people's mandate," he said while referring to his ouster after being elected by the masses.

The newly elected PML-N president said that he felt pride that his party members had never cared about any difficult situation.

He also hailed his brother, PM Shehbaz for his "resilience" as he always stood with him, saying that many people tried to create rifts between them by offering Shehbaz the post of prime minister but he didn't give into it.

"We should accept that we have shot ourselves in the foot. Believe me, we have never gone to anyone with a begging bowl," he added.

He also congratulated his daughter, Punjab Chief Minister Marium Nawaz, for keeping the party active.

Turning his guns towards the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) founder, Nawaz asked which of the cases against Imran Khan were fake. He also asked Imran whether he was the "third force" behind his ouster.

The PML-N president said that it was Imran who "helped" in toppling the PML-N regime in 2017 and "derailing democracy".—RT/Agency

ISLAMABAD: Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) leader Khawaja Saad Rafique on Tuesday said the approval of NAB (Amendment) Ordinance into law to extend the period of physical remand for a suspect from 14 days to 40 days was deplorable.

Lahore ATC Extends Shah Mahmood's Remand By 9 Days In May 9 Cases

LAHORE: A Lahore anti-terrorism court (ATC) extended incarcerated PTI leader Shah Mahmood Qureshi's physical remand by nine days in eight cases related to the violence that erupted in the country after party founder Imran Khan's arrest on May 9 last year, it emerged on Tuesday.

Qureshi's lawyer advocate Rana Mudassar told media that the remand was granted on extension requests by the police for eight cases.

Countrywide protests erupted on May 9 last year after the paramilitary Rangers whisked away Imran from the Islamabad High Court in a corruption case.

While the protests were underway, social media was flooded with footage of rioting and vandalism at various spots, including the Lahore Corps Commander's residence and General Headquarters, the army's head of office in Rawalpindi.

Qureshi in December was implicated in at least 12 different cases registered by the Rawalpindi district police in connection with the May 9 violence.

Qureshi himself asserted that he was implicated in the case after a year to "humiliate him" and that he was innocent in the matter.

Qureshi's physical remand by 30 days in Monday's hearing with the investigating officer (IO) saying that the USB containing "provoking speech" by the PTI leader was sent to the Punjab Forensic Science Agency while photogrammetry and voice matching tests were still pending.

According to the order, two prosecution witnesses had implicated Qureshi on May 12 last year in the planning, abatement and instigation of the incident's occurrence.

Qureshi's lawyer advocate Rana Mudassar opposed the request and said that the former foreign minister was falsely implicated in the case to delay his release from Ad-

the court order said the photogrammetry and voice matching tests were "essential to ascertain the credibility" of the evidence in the case and thus granted a further physical remand of nine days to the police, adding that the investigation must not be interrupted in the interest of justice.—RT/Agency

ISLAMABAD: Efforts are under way to extinguish a fire at the Noorpur range of Islamabad's Margalla Hills as Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif directed authorities to act swiftly to control the blaze.

Aslam said more than 65 firefighters were engaged in efforts to control the fire, with more teams awaited.

The incident follows two similar fires in hills' Saidpur range yesterday, which were put out by firefighters after seven hours with the support of helicopters.

Aslam, also the CDA deputy director, highlighted that gusts of wind and hot weather had created difficulties in controlling the fire.

He added that all resources were being put to use for the operation.

Spreading over 12,605 hectares, the Margalla Hills National Park witnesses scores of fires every year that damage the forests and create air pollution.

On Monday, two major fires broke out at around 1pm in the Saidpur range in two different locations — Chiran Di Gali and Saidpur area.—RT/Agency

The prime minister told the participants of the meeting that the government in no way would tolerate the over-billing. He directed the acceleration of the privatisation process of the power distribution companies by engaging the experts and formulating a strategy to solarise the tube wells in Balochistan.

During the briefing on load management and power theft issue, it was told that under a joint strategy formulated following a conversa-

It was told that areas with more power theft and line losses and low recovery ratio were being subjected to load-shedding and that the upgradation of the south-north power transmission line would help improve the system.

The meeting participants were told that task forces were being formed at provincial and divisional levels to eliminate the power theft which would undergo a weekly performance review.

The meeting was attended by federal ministers Ahmad Khan Cheema, Muhammad Aurangzeb, Dr Musaddik Malik and Awais Ahmed Leghari, Minister of State Ali Pervaiz Malik, Coordinator to PM Rana Ehsan Afzal,

He said that Pakistan would have held a unique position and power in Asia if the progress under his government had not been halted.

Nawaz lamented the practice of "leg pulling", which he said had been going on since 1977 and had weakened the country. "We should accept that we have shot ourselves in the foot. Believe me, we have never gone to anyone with a begging bowl," he added.

The three-time prime minister reiterated that he would have never complained if he had been ousted from the prime minister's post for corruption.

Nawaz told the party members cheering for him on the occasion, to celebrate not because he was re-elected as the PML-N president but because the decision by former chief justice of Pakistan Saqib Nisar in the Panama Papers case "had been thrown into the waste basket."

Lahore ATC Extends Shah Mahmood's Remand By 9 Days In May 9 Cases

LAHORE: A Lahore anti-terrorism court (ATC) extended incarcerated PTI leader Shah Mahmood Qureshi's physical remand by nine days in eight cases related to the violence that erupted in the country after party founder Imran Khan's arrest on May 9 last year, it emerged on Tuesday.

Qureshi's lawyer advocate Rana Mudassar told media that the remand was granted on extension requests by the police for eight cases.

Countrywide protests erupted on May 9 last year after the paramilitary Rangers whisked away Imran from the Islamabad High Court in a corruption case.

While the protests were underway, social media was flooded with footage of rioting and vandalism at various spots, including the Lahore Corps Commander's residence and General Headquarters, the army's head of office in Rawalpindi.

Qureshi in December was implicated in at least 12 different cases registered by the Rawalpindi district police in connection with the May 9 violence. Qureshi was granted bail in 13 cases in February. He is currently serving his sentence in the Adiala Jail in the cipher case.

ATC Judge Khalid Arshad presided over the hearing on Monday. The court order dated May 27, a copy of which is available with media, said Qureshi was produced via video link for the case on Friday when the court had initially granted police a three-day remand which lapsed on Sunday.

It added that the police requested an extension in Qureshi's physical remand by 30 days in Monday's hearing with the investigating officer (IO) saying that the USB containing "provoking speech" by the PTI leader was sent to the Punjab Forensic Science Agency while photogrammetry and voice matching tests were still pending.

He contended that the police required an extension to recover the mobile phone used by Qureshi to allegedly post inciting messages on X and other social media platforms.

Qureshi's lawyer advocate Rana Mudassar opposed the request and said that the former foreign minister was falsely implicated in the case to delay his release from Adiala Jail.

He said that Qureshi was not present in Lahore on the day of the incident, and neither any video or USB was available to support the IO's claims.

As per the court order, Qureshi himself asserted that he was implicated in the case after a year to "humiliate him" and that he was innocent in the matter.

Ahsan Iqbal Announces Revival Of Belt And Road Initiative Projects

ISLAMABAD: Federal minister for Planning, Development and Special Initiatives, Ahsan Iqbal said here on Tuesday that the incumbent government was hopeful to inject some fresh momentum into projects that fall under China's Belt and Road Initiative, as it tries to boost the country's troubled economy.

The government is looking forward to joint ventures for renewable energy projects, agriculture collaboration and possibly enticing some Chinese companies to relocate to Pakistan, Ahsan Iqbal, who also co-heads the committee responsible for the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor said in an interview with Bloomberg.

"Yeah, I'm very hopeful because I was there in China recently and I had meetings with their senior leadership... So I see great interest on the Chinese side to revive the momentum for CPEC and also to take it into the second phase," he said.

Pakistan was seen as a flagship destination for BRI projects, with CPEC - which includes a port in the southern town of Gwadar and new power plants - the crown jewel. The progress on new projects stalled in the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic and amid Pakistan's on-going economic difficulties that have required the International Monetary Fund's intervention.

According to Bloomberg report, projects worth about $25 billion came online in the first phase, including power plants that ended the nation's chronic power deficit. A Pakistani committee approved a long-delayed railway upgrade project last week.

The project will be done in two phases "so there is not a big burden on Pakistan," said Iqbal. The railway, in its first phase will run from Karachi, the southern coast city, to Multan, a little over halfway to the capital, Islamabad.

The government has also finished some key BRI projects that were pending for years: a water-supply project in Gwadar, dredging work at the port and an electricity transmission line from Iran.

"So all these things really help China see that the new government is again serious and it restored their confidence that now Pakistan is, you know, serious about CPEC initiatives," said Iqbal.

What is good for the goose is good for the gander

Nawaz Sharif's unopposed re-election as the head of the PML-N raises significant questions about the consistency of standards applied to political party elections in Pakistan. Sharif's reinstatement, coming after his disqualification and subsequent acquittal, underscores a troubling inconsistency in the scrutiny of intra-party elections, particularly when contrasted with the treatment of the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI).

The PTI has faced repeated nullifications of its intra-party elections, subjected to rigorous scrutiny by both the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP) and the Supreme Court. This scrutiny has often been cited as necessary to uphold democratic principles within party structures. However, Nawaz Sharif's unchallenged return to the PML-N presidency appears to have bypassed this rigorous oversight. The PTI has rightfully demanded that the ECP and the judiciary apply the same stringent criteria to the PML-N's internal elections as was applied to theirs. This demand highlights a fundamental principle of justice: what is good for the goose is good for the gander.

The lack of competing candidates against Sharif and the unanimous support from the party's election commission led by Rana Sanaullah raises concerns about the democratic integrity of the PML-N's internal processes. It suggests a potential rubber-stamping of Sharif's leadership rather than a robust democratic contest. This contrasts sharply with the PTI's experience, where internal elections have been scrutinized to the point of invalidation, suggesting a double standard in the enforcement of electoral fairness.

The ECP and the judiciary must uphold impartiality and ensure that all political parties adhere to the same democratic standards. Failure to do so not only undermines credibility but also erodes public trust in the democratic process. Nawaz Sharif's unopposed election should be examined with the same diligence that has been applied to the PTI's intra-party elections. Only then can we ensure a truly fair and democratic political landscape in Pakistan.

What is good for the goose is good for the gander

Nawaz Sharif's unopposed re-election as the head of the PML-N raises significant questions about the consistency of standards applied to political party elections in Pakistan. Sharif's reinstatement, coming after his disqualification and subsequent acquittal, underscores a troubling inconsistency in the scrutiny of intra-party elections, particularly when contrasted with the treatment of the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI).

The PTI has faced repeated nullifications of its intra-party elections, subjected to rigorous scrutiny by both the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP) and the Supreme Court. This scrutiny has often been cited as necessary to uphold democratic principles within party structures. However, Nawaz Sharif's unchallenged return to the PML-N presidency appears to have bypassed this rigorous oversight. The PTI has rightfully demanded that the ECP and the judiciary apply the same stringent criteria to the PML-N's internal elections as was applied to theirs. This demand highlights a fundamental principle of justice: what is good for the goose is good for the gander.

The lack of competing candidates against Sharif and the unanimous support from the party's election commission led by Rana Sanaullah raises concerns about the democratic integrity of the PML-N's internal processes. It suggests a potential rubber-stamping of Sharif's leadership rather than a robust democratic contest. This contrasts sharply with the PTI's experience, where internal elections have been scrutinized to the point of invalidation, suggesting a double standard in the enforcement of electoral fairness.

The ECP and the judiciary must uphold impartiality and ensure that all political parties adhere to the same democratic standards. Failure to do so not only undermines credibility but also erodes public trust in the democratic process. Nawaz Sharif's unopposed election should be examined with the same diligence that has been applied to the PTI's intra-party elections. Only then can we ensure a truly fair and democratic political landscape in Pakistan.

Canada stun Nepal in T20 World Cup 2024 warm-up

DALLAS: Nicholas Kirton's anchoring half-century, followed by Dilon Heyliger's four-fer led Canada to an astonishing 63-run victory over Nepal in the ICC Men's T20 World Cup 2024 warm-up match here on Tuesday. Put into bat first, Canada racked up a massive total of 183/7 on the board, courtesy of Kirton's 52 and Ravinderpal Singh's late fireworks. They then lost Rayyan Pathan in the next over with the scoreboard reading 33 as the right-handed batter was drilled out on the first delivery. Kirton then joined Navneet Dhaniwal in the middle and the duo partnered strongly to add 50 runs for the second wicket. The anchoring partnership lasted on the penultimate delivery of the 10th over when Dhaniwal fell victim to Gulshan Jha after scoring a cautious 32 off 27 deliveries. Kirton then formed brief partnerships with Pargat Singh (13) and Shreyas Movva (2) before finally perishing in the 16th over. He remained the top-scorer for Canada with a 39-ball 52 which featured four fours and two sixes. The two men have known each other since childhood and were teammates at Ineos for two seasons from 2020 to 2022. Jennifer Lopez believes 'Atlas' shows good & bad AI

Artificial intelligence has a key role in Jennifer Lopez's upcoming film Atlas, and according to her, the movie gives a balanced view of the technology. At the Los Angeles premiere, the Hustlers actress said, "I think this movie does a good job of showing how AI could go incredibly wrong, and this is how it could go really right." In the film, the 54-year-old faces an evil robot hell-bent on destroying the world, and Jennifer's character seeks AI to help stop him. The Netflix star meanwhile shed light on the pitfalls of AI saying the ads "selling skincare that I know nothing about" using manipulated photos of her face covered in "wrinkles," adding, "It's really scary," noting, "Right away we had them stealing our faces. So, yes, [AI] is really scary." However, Jennifer said her forthcoming film does a decent job of representing both pros and cons of the tech. "I think you should be respectful of AI. We have to be open to all possibilities. These movies that are talking about AI - especially this one - do a really good job of showing both sides."

after the collapse, "I was basically dying," he told Swedish daily Aftonbladet. "I was not contactable and I have no memories from that time," he said, adding that he was now en route to a full recovery. "I've gotten through the worst part. I've had to think, be positive and have patience with everything," he said. Olsson, who is still in rehab, said he planned to play professionally again. "I feel great. I'm going to be able to play football again," he said, adding that it was still too early to say when that would happen. "Of course you want to be back as soon as possible... But I'm not stressing out about it, it will have to take time." "We'll see when it happens," Olsson was in the stands on Sunday when FC Midtjylland won the Danish championship. He said he had already kicked a ball around with a member of his rehab team. "She stood in goal." "I can move well. I can run and my memory is good. I'm getting better every day. Leaders Hail 'Unwavering Determination' As Nation Celebrates Youm-e-Takbeer

RAWALPINDI: Pakistan celebrated the 26th anniversary of Youm-e-Takbeer on Tuesday with national zeal and fervor, commemorating the day in 1998 when the country's defence became impregnable after conducting successful nuclear tests in the hills of Chagai, Balochistan.

On May 28, 1998, Pakistan emerged as the first Muslim-majority country to acquire nuclear capabilities, marking a pivotal moment in its history. This achievement was a response to the regional security dynamics and ensured that Pakistan's defence capabilities were robust and credible.

Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif, in a message to the nation, underscored the significance of the day and highlighted it as a testament to the collective effort of all facets of national power that overcame a seemingly insurmountable challenge to enhance the country's defence capabilities.

"May 28 signifies more than just a mere commemoration of a day; it encapsulates the narrative of our nation's arduous yet remarkable path towards establishing a credible minimum deterrence," the premier shared on his X timeline.

The historic nuclear tests carried out under the leadership of former premier Nawaz Sharif, were in response to Indian nuclear explosions, solidifying Pakistan's defence and making it the seventh nuclear nation in the world and the first Muslim state to possess nuclear weapons.

PM Shehbaz lauded Nawaz's bold leadership in defying international pressure to make Pakistan a nuclear-armed nation.

He also paid tribute to Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, the founder of Pakistan's nuclear program, for his strategic foresight and unwavering commitment.

In his message, Acting President Syed Yousuf Raza Gillani reiterated the resolve to continue working towards a peaceful and stable world and said that on this day, we successfully demonstrated our nuclear capabilities and joined the ranks of nuclear powers.

Gillani added that Youm-e-Takbeer serves as a testament to Pakistan's resilience, unwavering determination, and commitment to maintaining regional peace and stability.

The nation began the day with special prayers in mosques for the peace and prosperity of the country, marking the occasion as a public holiday.

Special prayers were organized nationwide, with religious scholars emphasizing the day's importance in Pakistan's history and praying for the country's progress and prosperity.

The Chairman Joint Chiefs of Staff Committee and service chiefs, on behalf of the armed forces of Pakistan, extended warm felicitations to the nation, the military's media wing said in a statement on Tuesday.

This significant day commemorates the historic achievement of Pakistan's nuclear tests conducted in 1998, which successfully established credible minimum deterrence and restored the balance of power in the region, the Inter-Services Public Relations (ISPR) statement highlighted.

"The Armed Forces and the nation pay tribute to the unwavering dedication and selfless sacrifices of all those who contributed to this remarkable feat, achieved against overwhelming odds," expressed the armed forces, acknowledging the collective effort that led to this monumental milestone.

The armed forces paid respect to all those involved in the achievement stating, "The scientists, engineers, and officials who devoted their lives to realizing this dream rightly deserve the gratitude and admiration of the nation and its Armed Forces."

"On this important day in Pakistan's history, the Armed Forces of Pakistan reaffirm their unwavering resolve to defend the motherland, protect its sovereignty and territorial integrity, and ensure the nation's security at all times and at any cost, InshaAllah," declared the Armed Forces, emphasising their steadfast commitment to safeguarding the nation's interests.—RT/Agency

Shehbaz Invites Chinese Textile Firms To Establish Their Plants In Pakistan

ISLAMABAD: Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif Tuesday invited Chinese firms, especially from the textile sector, to establish plants in Pakistan stressing that the government will provide all possible facilities to Chinese industrialists and investors.

"China is an important partner in Pakistan's economic development," PM Shehbaz said while chairing a high-level review meeting regarding increasing cooperation between the two nations in various fields.

Termining Beijing as a key partner of Islamabad in economic development, the premier expressed intention to boost bilateral cooperation in agriculture, information technology (IT) and energy sectors and increase exports of Pakistani products to China.

Speaking at the huddle, also attended by Federal Planning Minister Ahsan Iqbal, Finance Minister Muhammad Aurangzeb and other senior officials, the prime minister said that the government is ardently preparing for the second phase of the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC).

"Gwadar port will be made a logistics hub with Chinese cooperation [...] the establishment of Agriculture Demonstration Zones will be an important project in the next phase of CPEC," he said.

Underlining that China can help Pakistan in setting up a strategy for increasing its exports, the PM also directed relevant ministries to prepare new projects aimed at enhancing Pakistan-China cooperation as well as undertake measures to promote business ties.

The review meeting comes as PM Shehbaz is set to undertake his maiden visit to China in the second week of June in response to President Xi Jinping's invitation.

On the issue of safety of Chinese citizens in Pakistan, PM Shehbaz said that foolproof security will be provided to Chinese nationals and that a comprehensive security plan has already been chalked up in this regard.

The prime minister's remarks come after Beijing, on Monday, reaffirmed its commitment to continue working with Pakistani authorities to strengthen security cooperation and ensure the safety and security of Chinese personnel.

Speaking at a press conference Chinese Foreign Ministry Spokesperson Mao Ning said that Beijing will continue supporting Islamabad in the investigation of the Dasu attack to hunt down and punish the perpetrators of the terrorist attack.

The spokesperson's comment came after Interior Minister Mohsin Naqvi held a joint press conference with National Counter-Terrorism Authority (Necta) officials on the issue of Dasu suicide attack which saw at least six people, including five Chinese nationals, being killed after a suicide bomber rammed into their vehicle in Bisham.

During the presser, the minister called on Afghanistan to hand over the militants involved in the deadly attack.

"[Pakistan has formally] requested the interim government in Afghanistan to arrest the leadership of [banned] TTP," he said.

Meanwhile, Necta head Tahir Rai revealed that said that the explosive-laden vehicle that had hit the bus carrying the Chinese nationals reached Pakistan via Afghanistan. The official revealed that 11 suspects have been arrested in this case so far. Owing to the fatal attack, the federal cabinet approved the Economic Coordination Committee's (ECC) decision regarding the disbursement of $2.58 million as part of the compensation package for the families of the Chinese nationals killed in the Dasu attack.—RT/Agency

Shehbaz Accuses Imran Of Misleading Public And Slandering Military

ISLAMABAD: Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif on Tuesday accused former prime minister and PTI founder Imran Khan of misleading the public and tarnishing the reputation of the military and their families. His comments came during an address at the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) General Council meeting in Lahore.

"Imran Khan, who once bowed before the military, is now misleading people about the Fall of Dhaka. He is defaming the military and their families," said Shehbaz.

Shehbaz formally handed over his responsibilities back to the party, acknowledging Nawaz Sharif's return to leadership. "The trust the party placed in me, I now return with gratitude. God has reinstated Nawaz Sharif to his position. Efforts are underway to revive the economy under Maryam Nawaz in Punjab and Nawaz Sharif at the federal level."

He condemned those who conspired against Nawaz Sharif, stating, "The faces of the conspirators are blackened, and Nawaz Sharif stands vindicated. He was unjustly punished in the Panama case with an iqama."

The prime minister also criticised Khan for his comments regarding the military and national tragedies. "Imran Khan, who once sat at the feet of soldiers, is now comparing himself with Mujibur Rehman on the Fall of Dhaka. His remarks in London about our martyrs and veterans are unforgivable. If anyone watches that video, they would want to silence him. These soldiers made their children orphans to save millions of others."

Shehbaz warned of dire consequences if Pakistan's prosperity does not return. "If Pakistan does not progress, there will be no politicians or judges left. While many judges are patriotic, a few black sheep facilitated Imran Khan's $190 million corruption. Khan sold gifts and watches. Judges, remember, during Nawaz Sharif's tenure, there were no easy baits, unlike now."

Leaders Hail 'Unwavering Determination' As Nation Celebrates Youm-e-Takbeer

RAWALPINDI: Pakistan celebrated the 26th anniversary of Youm-e-Takbeer on Tuesday with national zeal and fervor, commemorating the day in 1998 when the country's defence became impregnable after conducting successful nuclear tests in the hills of Chagai, Balochistan.

On May 28, 1998, Pakistan emerged as the first Muslim-majority country to acquire nuclear capabilities, marking a pivotal moment in its history. This achievement was a response to the regional security dynamics and ensured that Pakistan's defence capabilities were robust and credible.

Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif, in a message to the nation, underscored the significance of the day and highlighted it as a testament to the collective effort of all facets of national power that overcame a seemingly insurmountable challenge to enhance the country's defence capabilities.

"May 28 signifies more than just a mere commemoration of a day; it encapsulates the narrative of our nation's arduous yet remarkable path towards establishing a credible minimum deterrence," the premier shared on his X timeline.

The historic nuclear tests carried out under the leadership of former premier Nawaz Sharif, were in response to Indian nuclear explosions, solidifying Pakistan's defence and making it the seventh nuclear nation in the world and the first Muslim state to possess nuclear weapons.

PM Shehbaz lauded Nawaz's bold leadership in defying international pressure to make Pakistan a nuclear-armed nation.

He also paid tribute to Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, the founder of Pakistan's nuclear program, for his strategic foresight and unwavering commitment.

In his message, Acting President Syed Yousuf Raza Gillani reiterated the resolve to continue working towards a peaceful and stable world and said that on this day, we successfully demonstrated our nuclear capabilities and joined the ranks of nuclear powers.

Gillani added that Youm-e-Takbeer serves as a testament to Pakistan's resilience, unwavering determination, and commitment to maintaining regional peace and stability.

The nation began the day with special prayers in mosques for the peace and prosperity of the country, marking the occasion as a public holiday.

Special prayers were organized nationwide, with religious scholars emphasizing the day's importance in Pakistan's history and praying for the country's progress and prosperity.

The Chairman Joint Chiefs of Staff Committee and service chiefs, on behalf of the armed forces of Pakistan, extended warm felicitations to the nation, the military's media wing said in a statement on Tuesday.

This significant day commemorates the historic achievement of Pakistan's nuclear tests conducted in 1998, which successfully established credible minimum deterrence and restored the balance of power in the region, the Inter-Services Public Relations (ISPR) statement highlighted.

"The Armed Forces and the nation pay tribute to the unwavering dedication and selfless sacrifices of all those who contributed to this remarkable feat, achieved against overwhelming odds," expressed the armed forces, acknowledging the collective effort that led to this monumental milestone.

The armed forces paid respect to all those involved in the achievement stating, "The scientists, engineers, and officials who devoted their lives to realizing this dream rightly deserve the gratitude and admiration of the nation and its Armed Forces."

"On this important day in Pakistan's history, the Armed Forces of Pakistan reaffirm their unwavering resolve to defend the motherland, protect its sovereignty and territorial integrity, and ensure the nation's security at all times and at any cost, InshaAllah," declared the Armed Forces, emphasising their steadfast commitment to safeguarding the nation's interests.—RT/Agency

ISLAMABAD: Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif Tuesday invited Chinese firms, especially from the textile sector, to establish plants in Pakistan stressing that the government will provide all possible facilities to Chinese industrialists and investors.

"China is an important partner in Pakistan's economic development," PM Shehbaz said while chairing a high-level review meeting regarding increasing cooperation between the two nations in various fields.

Terming Beijing as a key partner of Islamabad in economic development, the premier expressed intention to boost bilateral cooperation in agriculture, information technology (IT) and energy sectors and increase exports of Pakistani products to China.

Speaking at the huddle, also attended by Federal Planning Minister Ahsan Iqbal, Finance Minister Muhammad Aurangzeb and other senior officials, the prime minister said that the government is ardently preparing for the second phase of the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC).

"Gwadar port will be made a logistics hub with Chinese cooperation [...] the establishment of Agriculture Demonstration Zones will be an important project in the next phase of CPEC," he said.

Underscoring that China can help Pakistan in setting up a strategy for increasing its exports, the PM also directed relevant ministries to prepare new projects aimed at enhancing Pakistan-China cooperation as well as undertake measures to promote business ties.

The review meeting comes as PM Shehbaz is set to undertake his maiden visit to China in the second week of June in response to President Xi Jinping's invitation.

On the issue of safety of Chinese citizens in Pakistan, PM Shehbaz said that foolproof security will be provided to Chinese nationals and that a comprehensive security plan has already been chalked up in this regard.

The prime minister's remarks come after Beijing, on Monday, reaffirmed its commitment to continue working with Pakistani authorities to strengthen security cooperation and ensure the safety and security of Chinese personnel.

Speaking at a press conference Chinese Foreign Ministry Spokesperson Mao Ning said that Beijing will continue supporting Islamabad in the investigation of the Dasu attack to hunt down and punish the perpetrators of the terrorist attack.

The spokesperson's comment came after Interior Minister Mohsin Naqvi held a joint press conference with National Counter-Terrorism Authority (Necta) officials on the issue of Dasu officials' attack which saw at least six people, including five Chinese nationals, being killed after a suicide bomber rammed into their vehicle in Bisham.

During the presser, the minister called on Afghanistan to hand over the militants involved in the deadly attack.

"[Pakistan has formally] requested the interim government in Afghanistan to arrest the leadership of [banned] TTP," he said.

Meanwhile, Necta head Tahir Rai revealed that said that the explosive-laden vehicle that had hit the bus carrying the Chinese nationals reached Pakistan via Afghanistan. The official revealed that 11 suspects have been arrested in this case so far. Owing to the fatal attack, the federal cabinet approved the Economic Coordination Committee's (ECC) decision regarding the disbursement of $2.58 million as part of the compensation package for the families of the Chinese nationals killed in the Dasu attack.—RT/Agency

ISLAMABAD: Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif on Tuesday accused former prime minister and PTI founder Imran Khan of misleading the public and tarnishing the reputation of the military and their families. His comments came during an address at the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) General Council meeting in Lahore.

"Imran Khan, who once bowed before the military, is now misleading people about the Fall of Dhaka. He is defaming the military and their families," said Shehbaz.

Shehbaz formally handed over his responsibilities back to the party, acknowledging Nawaz Sharif's return to leadership. "The trust the party placed in me, I now return with gratitude. God has reinstated Nawaz Sharif to his position. Efforts are underway to revive the economy under Maryam Nawaz in Punjab and Nawaz Sharif at the federal level."

He condemned those who conspired against Nawaz Sharif, stating, "The faces of the conspirators are blackened, and Nawaz Sharif stands vindicated. He was unjustly punished in the Panama case with an iqama."

The prime minister also criticised Khan for his comments regarding the military and national tragedies. "Imran Khan, who once sat at the feet of soldiers, is now comparing himself with Mujibur Rehman on the Fall of Dhaka. His remarks in London about our martyrs and veterans are unforgivable. If anyone watches that video, they would want to silence him. These soldiers made their children orphans to save millions of others."

Shehbaz warned of dire consequences if Pakistan's prosperity does not return. "If Pakistan does not progress, there will be no politicians or judges left. While many judges are patriotic, a few black sheep facilitated Imran Khan's $190 million corruption. Khan sold gifts and watches. Judges, remember, during Nawaz Sharif's tenure, there were no easy baits, unlike now."
