Sindh Unveils Massive Rs 3.056 Trillion Budget Prioritizing Unparalleled Development and Social Welfare

By Rahib Gaho

KARACHI: Sindh Chief Minister Syed Murad Ali Shah on Friday presented a Rs3.056 trillion budget for the next fiscal year 2024-25, proposing up to 30% massive increase in the salaries of government employees.

Besides the salary hike, the budget also includes a significantly higher development expense of Rs959 billion, which accounts for 31% of the outlay.

The "balanced" budget mainly centers around the rehabilitation of flood-affected people and social protection for the poor. The majority of the total projected revenue for the province comes from the 62% federal transfers, followed by 22% provincial receipts.

As per the budgetary document released by the provincial government, the remaining receipts are through current capital receipts of Rs22 billion, foreign project assistance of Rs334 billion, other federal grants in the form of Public Sector Development Programme's (PSDP) Rs77 billion, foreign grants of Rs6 billion and a carryover cash balance of Rs55 billion.

Provincial receipts of Rs662 billion comprise sales tax on services of Rs350 billion, tax excluding GST of Rs269 billion, and provincial non-tax receipts of Rs42.9 billion.

These funds are strategically allocated, a total of 63% or Rs1.9 trillion goes towards current revenue, 6% or Rs184 billion for current capital, and the remaining 31% or Rs959 billion is dedicated to the development expenditure.

Education receives the largest allocation at Rs519 billion, with Rs459 billion dedicated to current revenue expenditure.

Healthcare follows closely with a total allocation of Rs334 billion, with Rs302 billion earmarked for current expenses.

Local government rounds out the top three with a proposed budget of Rs329 billion.

Rs58 billion have been allocated for agriculture, Rs77 billion for energy, Rs94 billion for irrigation, Rs86 bil-lion's commitment to strengthening the province's social safety net and fostering economic recovery.

The provincial budget extends its focus beyond immediate relief measures. Several new initiatives target the long-term development of the province's economy and social well-being.

Hari Card: An allocation of Rs8 billion will provide financial support to 12 million farmers, bolstering the agricultural backbone of Sindh.

Inclusive Enclave: Rs5 billion allocations to build a complex to offer education, rehabilitation, training, accommodation, clinical services, recreation and other facilities within a compound at Korangi along the Malir Expressway.

Fiscal Decentralisation in Police: For the first time 485 police station-specific budget has been allocated to enable them to meet their fuel, repair and maintenance, and day-to-day expenditures to serve communities.

Solarisation Initiative: Another Rs5 billion will be directed towards distributing solar home systems, and promoting clean energy access over five years.

Hub Canal Project: A dedicated Rs25 billion will fund the construction of a new canal to provide water to Karachi.

Mazdoor Card: A Rs5 billion welfare program will provide support for labourers in Sindh.

Pro-Poor Initiatives: To ensure social upward mobility, the budget allocates Rs11 billion to agriculture, Rs12 billion for social protection.

Meanwhile, another Rs3.2 billion have been allocated for Universities & Board, Rs2 billion for Housing & Town Planning, and Rs1.5 billion for Department of Empowerment of Persons with Disabilities (DEPD).

The provincial budget prioritises investment in human capital through significant grants for education and healthcare. Major grants amount to a total of Rs190 billion, with Rs35 billion specifically earmarked for universities across Sindh.

These grants will also support major hospitals and medical institutes like Sindh Institute of Urology and Transplantation (SIUT), National Institute of Cardiovascular Diseases (NICVD), Indus Hospital, Sindh Institute of Child Health & Neonatology (SICHN) and trauma centres.

This targeted funding aims to strengthen educational institutions and improve access to quality healthcare services for the people of Sindh.

Kashmiri Poet Ahmed Farhad Freed from Prison In Dramatic Bail Decision

MUZAFFARABAD: Kashmiri poet Ahmed Farhad was released from prison hours after the Azad Jammu and Kashmir (AJK) High Court granted him bail weeks after his arrest.

The AJK High Court approved Farhad's bail petition against a surety bond worth Rs200,000, earlier in the day.

Earlier this week, the Islamabad High Court (IHC) declared Farhad as a "missing person" until he returned to his home and termed his arrest "illegal".

The court's order read that the poet had been missing since May 15 and couldn't reach home, while a first information report (FIR) regarding his disappearance was registered with the Lohber Police Station in Islamabad under Section 427 and 365 PPC.

As per the order, the court was told that Farhad Ali was arrested by Police Station Dherkot Kashmir and was also wanted by the Saddar Police Station Muzaaffarabad in another case of terrorism.

It added that in the

Therefore, the court reached a conclusion that he was forcibly disappeared and the institution concerned failed to recover him.

The court, in its order, mentioned that Farhad was currently in judicial custody, as per the investigation officer, and declared his arrest "illegal".

The court stated that the investigation officer of Lohber Police Station was bound to record the poet's statement under Section 164 before a judicial magistrate after his return and proceed with the investigation in light of his statement.

Farhad, a defiant poet from Kashmir, remained missing for 15 days last month after which Attorney General for Pakistan Mansoor Usman Awan revealed that he was, in fact, arrested and in AJK police's custody.

The AGP's statement came on May 29, in response to IHC's directions to ensure Farhad's recovery.

The poet was arrested and transferred to Muzaaffarabad from Dherkot under multiple sections of the Anti-Terrorism Act (ATA).

His matter came into the spotlight after he allegedly went missing during protests in AJK in May following which his wife, Urooj Zainab, moved the IHC seeking her husband's recovery, requesting the court to identify, investigate, and prosecute those responsible for his disappearance.—RT/Agency

Imran Says, Negotiating With 'Powerless' Government Is Useless

ISLAMABAD: Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) founder Imran Khan on Friday stated that there is no point in negotiating with a government that lacks authority.

During an informal conversation with the media during the hearing of the $190 million reference at Rawalpindi's Adiala Jail, he accused the administration of pressuring judges who rule in favour of PTI and criticised the recent budget for burdening salaried individuals.

Khan alleged that a judge from Sargodha informed the Lahore High Court about pressure exerted by intelligence agencies. He claimed that the judge's household gas supply was cut off and that judges sympathetic to PTI face immense pressure.

"Journalists speaking in favour of PTI are being targeted, Raouf Hassan was attacked, and Ali Zaman was tortured," Khan asserted, implicating intelligence agencies in these actions.

Khan urged the Chief Justice of Pakistan Qazi Faez Isa to uphold the rule of law amidst these interferences. Khan praised a judge from Sargodha, six judges from Islamabad High Court, and PTI avoids negotiations, he recounted past dialogues during Pervez Musharraf's regime but pointed out that negotiations are futile when decisions are made by "higher authorities".

He mentioned an instance when PTI negotiated with PDM on ex-Chief Justice Bandial's request, only to be told that no elections would occur as long as Bandial was in office.

In a stern message to his party, Khan demanded an end to internal groupings, calling it a matter of life and death for Pakistan. ## No amount of money can improve Sindh until there is better governance and corruption is curbed

The recently unveiled Sindh budget for 2024-25, with its ambitious Rs3.056 trillion outlay, is a testament to the provincial government's intent to address pressing socio-economic challenges. The budget includes significant hikes in salaries and pensions, substantial allocations for education and healthcare, and a plethora of social welfare initiatives, all aimed at improving the living standards of Sindh's residents. Key initiatives like the Benazir Haari Card, free solar panels for 2.6 million households, and substantial investments in infrastructure projects signal a promising future.

On paper, the budget seems well-crafted to foster development and social upliftment. However, history has shown that grand financial plans often fall short due to systemic issues plaguing governance in Sindh. Chronic corruption and inefficient governance have been persistent obstacles, undermining the effectiveness of past budgets. The allocated funds frequently do not reach the intended beneficiaries due to deep-rooted corrupt practices within the system.

For the promises of the 2024-25 budget to translate into tangible improvements, a drastic overhaul in governance is imperative. Transparency in fund allocation, stringent anti-corruption measures, and accountability at every administrative level are crucial. Without these reforms, the substantial financial allocations risk being siphoned off or mismanaged, leaving the people of Sindh in the same plight.

Furthermore, improving institutional capacities to effectively manage and implement the proposed projects is essential. This includes better training for government employees, robust monitoring mechanisms, and public involvement in oversight processes. Only through genuine governance reforms can the budget's ambitious goals be realized, ensuring that the substantial funds allocated truly benefit the people of Sindh.

In conclusion, while the Sindh budget for 2024-25 is commendable for its comprehensive and people-friendly approach, its success hinges on addressing the endemic corruption and governance issues that have long plagued the province. Only with these changes can Sindh hope to achieve the prosperity and development envisioned in its budget.

Disappointing Pakistan out of T20 World Cup after US vs Ireland match called off due to rain

Pakistan are out of the T20 World Cup 2024 after the United States vs Ireland match was called off due to a wet outfield at the Central Broward Regional Park, Lauderdale, Florida, on Friday.

The US have earlier played three matches, kicking off history's largest T20 tournament with a win against Canada. The Americans also defeated Pakistan last week. Ireland earlier played two innings of the current tournament. Their first face-off was with India and then with Canada but they lost in both of the clashes.

The US defeated Canada and Pakistan in their first two matches of the tournament while the Men in Green were defeated by the Americans and India.

The Green Shirts have one more match to play against Ireland but that would be a dead rubber as they are now out of the largest cricket T20 tournament.

In the last two editions, Pakistan made it to the semi-final in 2021 where they lost to Australia while in 2022, despite a poor start, the Green Shirts went all the way to the final but lost to England at Melbourne Cricket Ground (MCG).

Pakistan have played the T20 World Cup semi-final six times - 2007, 2009, 2010, 2012, 2021 and 2022 — the most by any team and this will be their first group-stage exit since 2016 and only third overall.

Pat Cummins denies Australia manipulating England's World Cup exit

Pat Cummins ruled out the prospect of Australia under-performing against Scotland in a bid to oust rivals England from the ongoing ICC Men's T20 World Cup 2024, saying it would be against the 'spirit of cricket.'

Bowling spearhead Josh Hazlewood caused controversy this week when he said it would be in Australia's interests for reigning champions England to be out of the competition. Australia have already secured their place in the next round, the Super 8s and he suggested they could ease up in their closing Group B game against Scotland this weekend to engineer their bitter rivals' exit. That scenario now appears less likely after England crushed Oman by eight wickets on Thursday to move above Scotland on net run rate with a final game to come against Namibia.

In this case, if England beat Namibia then Scotland will have to overcome Australia to qualify for the Super Eight England coach Matthew Mott — an Australian — said he hoped Hazlewood was joking and Australia's Test and one-day skipper Cummins assured him — that the bowler was "When you go out and play you're trying your best every time. And if you're not, it's probably against the spirit of cricket." Pat Cummins told reporters in St Lucia "I don't think you can (go into a game not trying to win) — ever. You're playing an international game in the middle of a World Cup." You still want to try and have a good game and carry that on into the Super Eights. I've never stepped onto the field without the mindset of being aggressive like the guys have so far.—Agency

Openers Rahmanullah Gurbaz (7) and Ibrahim Zadran (0) were dismissed early but Gulbadin Naib scored an unbeaten 49 runs in 36 balls, with the help of four fours and two sixes, to take his side over the line. Earlier, a clinical bowling display helped Afghanistan dismiss PNG for only 95 runs in 19.5 overs.

PNG quickly slipped to 17-4 in the fourth over of the innings which severely dented their chances of post-

Imam-ul Haq defends Form 47 Babar Azam amid Ahmed Shehzad's criticism

Pakistan squad's skipper Babar Azam was defended by cricketer Imam-ul Haq after he got gashed by veteran Ahmed Shehzad for his "unimpressive" performance during the ongoing T20 World Cup 2024.

Imam, who is also one of the panelists in Haama Mana Hai, a Geo News show, alongside cricketer veterans Shehzad and Imran Nazir, put forward the idea that the element of respect should not be ignored while commenting on the performance of the team.

"He's your captain, you don't want to consider him as a captain it's fine. The world has made him the king, you haven't," said Imam.

Imam emphasised that Babar should be respected for his services for the team and the fact that he has played 250 international matches.

Imam maintained that Babar's statistics from the last 20 matches should not overshadow his statistics over the last 250 matches while denying to justify the lack of performance by the Pakistan's captain. Moreover, he stressed on respecting his contribution.

"Is there anyone who have been the number one in Pakistan's ODI ranking as well as in the T20I," said the veteran Ahmed added while criticising the Pakistan captain: "You destroyed the entire domestic structure. You sacrificed good performers in domestic cricket to adjust your friends in the team."—Agency

'Body shaming is intolerable': Ahmad Shahzad defends Azam Khan

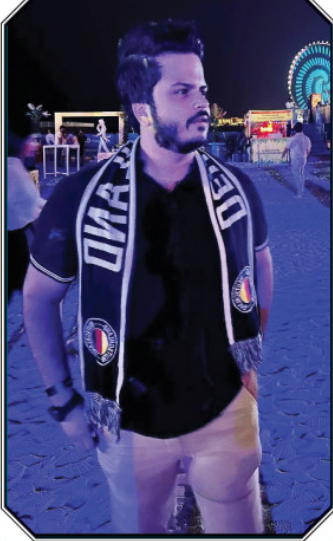

Speaking up on criticism faced by Pakistani wicketkeeper Azam Khan over his dismal performance and lack of physical fitness, former Pakistan opener Ahmad Shahzad said it was everybody's right to speak on performance but one should avoid body shaming others. The development came after son of legendary wicketkeeper-batter Moin Khan has consistently faced criticism over his physical fitness and poor performance in the recent T20 series against England and Ireland and the World Cup match against United States. Over Pakistan's first two losses in the ongoing World Cup, Shahzad said it was not an individual's fault, but the entire team was accountable for that Pakistan, after featuring him in back to back matches, axed the middle-order batsman from the playing XI in

Azam amid trolling on social media, saying that it affects a player's performance. Imam said that a cricketer was unable to perform well in the matches because of the trolling on social media, adding that the social media warriors instantly blasted a cricketer's performance. Since his international debut three years ago in July 2018, Azam has struggled to make an impact in T20s for Pakistan, having scored only 88 runs in at least 14 innings. Both his on-field performance and physical fitness have drawn harsh criticism for the 25-year-old cricketer. —Agency

PHDEC Enhances Pakistan's Banana Exports With Distribution Of Banana Bags

HYDERABAD: The Pakistan Horticulture Development & Export Company (PHDEC) has launched a pilot project aimed at improving Pakistan's banana exports through the distribution of banana bunch bags to progressive growers in the Hyderabad region. This initiative seeks to enhance banana quality and cosmetic appeal, facilitating access to lucrative international markets. PHDEC continues its commitment to advancing Pakistan's horticulture sector by improving product quality to boost exports.

PHDEC's $52 million banana export in 2023.

Sindh province, which covers 93% of Pakistan's banana cultivation area and produces 83% of the country's bananas, mainly grows the Cavendish variety. However, climate change effects, such as high temperatures causing physiological disorders like chilling injury and sunburn, have impacted fruit quality and market prices. The banana bagging initiative aims to mitigate these effects and diversify products for niche markets.

Pakistan, a significant banana producer with approximately 33 thousand hectares under cultivation, currently exports bananas to Iran and the Central Asian Republics (CARs). Improving the cosmetic appeal and overall quality of bananas is crucial for accessing higher-value markets, exemplified by Pakistan's $52 million banana export in 2023.

In addition to distributing banana bags, PHDEC collaborated with the Agriculture Research Department in Tandojam to organize a seminar on banana bagging and good agricultural practices. Held at the Agriculture Research Department's auditorium hall, the seminar covered topics from production to post-harvest management and export marketing.

Mr. Athar Hussain Khokhar, CEO of PHDEC, highlighted banana's emergence as a potential export crop and stressed the importance of adopting good agricultural practices amid climate challenges. He cited the success of PHDEC's mango bagging initiative in Multan and Hyderabad regions.

Mr. Niaz Ahmad Nizami, a progressive banana grower and value chain expert, instructed growers on effective banana bunch bagging techniques during the seminar. He emphasized the types of bags, their benefits, and installation procedures critical for enhancing fruit appearance.

Dr. Abdul Mubeen Lodhi, Professor at the Department of Plant Protection, Sindh Agriculture University, provided insights into current crop conditions, agricultural practices, and challenges. He addressed issues like Panama disease, symptoms, and control measures impacting banana production in Pakistan.

The seminar concluded with a call for growers to adopt modern agricultural practices, including banana bagging, to enhance crop quality and market competitiveness. PHDEC's initiative underscores its commitment to sustainable agriculture and boosting Pakistan's position in global fruit markets.—RT

Qandhari also criticized the budget's additional taxes on current taxpayers, driven by the IMF's demands, warning that such measures would only exacerbate inflation and push more people below the poverty line. He highlighted the complete tax exemption for the agricultural sector, which accounts for 20% of the GDP, as a concerning disparity.

Qandhari pointed out that the budget includes an unprecedented 40% lump sum tax increase on exports, raising significant concerns within the business community. He emphasized that the burden on existing taxpayers has increased without a corresponding effort to expand the tax net. The lack of measures to promote investment, combined with increased taxes and duties on raw materials, will lead to higher product prices and stifle industrial growth.

Jamaat-e-Islami Rejects Sindh Budget

KARACHI: Following the proposal of budget for the fiscal year 2024-25, Jamaat-e-Islami (JI) expressed strong disapproval of the Sindh government's budget 2024-25, media reported on Friday.

Farooq criticized the budget for providing tax waivers to agriculture, specifically benefiting large landowners. He emphasized that this policy favors the wealthy elite at the expense of broader economic equity. The JI leader argued that instead of waiving taxes for big landowners, the tax tariffs should be increased for holdings between 100 to 1000 acres. This, he suggested, would ensure a fairer distribution of the tax burden and contribute more effectively to provincial revenues. A major point of contention for JI is the alleged neglect of Karachi in the budget. Farooq highlighted that there is "nothing for Karachi" in the financial plan, underscoring the city's critical needs and the absence of adequate funding to address them.—RT/Agency

LHC CJ Foresees Imminent End to Establishment's Interference in Judiciary

RAWALPINDI: Lahore High Court (LHC) Chief Justice Malik Shehzad Ahmed Khan on Friday said he believes that interference of the establishment in the matters of the judiciary will end soon.

"Interference in the judiciary will have to be fought with faith that it will come to an end," said the LHC chief justice while addressing the opening ceremony of the judicial complex e-courts in Rawalpindi.

Justice Khan said there was an issue of establishment's interference in the judiciary's matters, adding that they receive letters claiming involvement in the judicial affairs.

"The establishment's interference in judiciary will and my experience [tells me] that it will come to an end," said the judge, assuring that these difficulties will end if there is fear of God.

The LHC chief justice also said that he was happy that the judiciary was "fulfilling its responsibilities without any fear or greed".

The chief justice's comments came after six Islamabad High Court (IHC) judges wrote a letter to the Supreme Court on March 25, accusing spy agencies of meddling in judicial affairs.

The IHC judges had demanded Chief Justice of Pakistan Qazi Faez Isa to convene the judicial convention to consider the matter of alleged interference of intelligence operatives in the judicial functions or "intimidation" of judges in a manner that undermined the independence of the judiciary.

The six IHC judges — Justice Mohsin Akhtar Kayani, Justice Babar Sattar, Justice Arbab Muhammad Tahir, Justice Tariq Mahmood Jehangiri, Justice Sardar Ejaz Ishaq Khan and Justice Saman Rifat Imtiaz — had written a letter to the chief justice, who is also chairman of the Supreme Judicial Council (SJC).

Speaking about the issues in the judiciary, the LHC CJ said delay in verdicts of cases is the biggest problem. "Three generations [of a family] wait for verdicts and it [sometimes] take 30 years," he lamented.

Justice Khan maintained that the cases are delayed because of the unavailability of witnesses, adding that he has consulted with high court judges to solve the issues.

He said that the people living overseas had trouble appearing before the court and their properties in Pakistan are stolen.

The LHC chief justice said legal issues were also reviewed in the context of e-courts, adding that those absconders will not be allowed to appear via video link.

"Pakistanis living abroad will be able to get video link facility by coming to the embassy," he added. The LHC CJ also blamed the lawyers as the main reason for delay in cases.—RT/Agency

Pakistan's Skyrocketing Debt Poses Dire Threat To Financial Stability

ISLAMABAD: Global rating agency Moody's on Friday said that the country's weak debt affordability drives high debt sustainability risks as it noted that the government spends more than half its revenue on interest payments.

In a comment regarding the newly finalized bill for the fiscal year (FY) 2025, it said, "The budget estimated debt servicing payments to have increased by about 18pc for fiscal 2025 compared with a year ago."

"The government spends more than half its revenue on interest payments, indicating very weak debt affordability which drives high debt sustainability risks" it said, adding that "about 55pc of fiscal year 2025 revenue (Rs9.8 trillion) is earmarked for interest payments on the government's debt".

Regarding the increase in expenditure, the rating agency said it reflected "lack of significant cost-containment measures and Pakistan's very high interest payments".

It was quick to note that the subsidies increased by 27pc to Rs1.4 trillion, "mainly driven by large increases in subsidies to the power sector" which reflected little progress in energy sector reforms.

Overall, the rating agency said that budget reflected "quicker fiscal consolidation, but ability to sustain reforms will be key to easing liquidity risks".

Moreover, the agency echoed the same sentiments as experts as it highlighted that the finance bill "will likely support Pakistan's ongoing negotiations with the IMF for a new Extended Fund Facility (EFF) programme that will be crucial for the government to unlock financing from IMF and other bilateral and multilateral partners to meet its external financing needs".

However, it cautioned that the government's ability to "sustain reform implementation" will be key to meeting the budget targets and unlocking external financing, which is necessary for easing of liquidity risks.

It highlighted that "a resurgence of social tensions on the back of high cost of living — which may increase because of higher taxes and future adjustments to energy tariffs — could weigh on reform implementation." Moreover, risks that the coalition government may not have a sufficiently strong electoral mandate to continually implement difficult reforms remain," it commented.

In the budget, the government had announced a consolidated budget deficit of 5.9 per cent of the GDP for the fiscal year 2025 — from the previous year's estimated 7.4pc — with the primary balance set at a surplus of 2pc of GDP for the upcoming year, the report recounted. Additionally, the government has projected real GDP growth at 3.6pc and headline inflation at 12pc. It also sought to increase federal government revenue to an ambitious Rs17.8 trillion — 46pc higher than previous year's — through a "combination of new taxes and stronger nominal growth".

According to the comment, this showed that "the government seeks to achieve quicker fiscal consolidation mainly through increases in revenue, with little spending-containment measures"—RT/Agency

PM Declares Big Cut In Electricity Prices For Industrial Sector

ISLAMABAD: Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif announced a significant reduction in electricity tariffs for the industrial sector on Friday, cutting rates by Rs10.69 per unit.

This move aims to boost exports and industrial production.

Due to the prime minister's special efforts, the new electricity price per unit for the industrial and export sector is set at Rs34.99. According to a statement from the PM Office, the National Electricity Power Regulatory Authority (NEPRA) recommended this reduction for industries.

The PM's package is expected to provide over Rs200 billion in relief to industries, enhancing their competitiveness in the global market.

The package aims to align the country's manufacturing costs with international markets, reducing production costs for industrial and agricultural commodities.

This is anticipated to lead to an increase in exports.—RT/Agency

PTI Shocks with Sudden Reversal on Talks Offer with 'Three Parties'

ISLAMABAD: After a seeming change of heart in the PTI to reach out to the government to end the political impasse, the party on Friday walked back and said it would not talk with "three parties".

In February, PTI spokesperson Raouf Hasan had said that party founder Imran Khan had given instructions to initiate contact with all other political parties, except the PML-N, PPP and Muttahida Qaumi Movement-Pakistan.

The three parties are part of the coalition that is heading the government.

In an apparent U-turn from its earlier assertions that the former ruling party would only talk to "empowered stakeholders and not the 'toothless ruling' coalition, Imran on Tuesday had ordered the party's top brass to reach out to the government for a dialogue.

The change of heart came in light of remarks by the Supreme Court during a hearing of the graft laws amendments case, in which the bench observed that the PTI should initiate talks with the government and resolve its issues in parliament through dialogue.

Speaking to journalists outside Adiala Jail, PTI leader Gohar Ali Khan had said that Imran gave the go-ahead for the talks with the government. He had said the party would initially take its allies into confidence but could also take a solo flight on the issue.

Gohar had said that talks with the government could be initiated through the platform of the opposition's multi-party coalition alliance or by the PTI on its own, adding that it had concluded that talks were the only option available to the party.

However, while addressing a press conference in Islamabad today with Leader of the Opposition in the National Assembly Omar Ayub, Hasan said: "Regarding a controversy on the media that the PTI is moving to have negotiations with three political parties that are mandate usurpers, Imran has clearly told us that there is no situation like this."

He said Imran had asked for the three parties to first bring and show their "letter of authorisation from their sponsors and patrons" about whether they actually had any authority to negotiate with the PTI and if they would be able to deliver on any promises to the party.

"Our contention since the first day is that they have nothing and they're only mummies and dummies whose strings are controlled from elsewhere and they dance according to them."

He said Imran had clearly directed in "blunt words that we have no intention to negotiate with these three political parties at any stage".

Hasan said if there was any ambiguity left about the matter then it should be removed now.

Omar added that Imran said that if Tehreek-i-Tahafuz-i-Aain-i-Pakistan president Mahmood Khan Achakzai wanted to hold talks with anyone from the coalition alliance's platform then he was welcome to do so but such negotiations would only be on the movement's behalf.

"The PTI has a demand that they have to fulfill our prerequisites [and] eliminate all cases against Imran, Bushra Bibi and our officers and any talks will be held after that."—RT/Agency

Parliamentary Committee Greenlights Judges' Names For Supreme Court Promotion

ISLAMABAD: The Parliamentary Committee on the Appointment of Judges Friday approved the names of judges proposed by the Judicial Commission of Pakistan (JCP) for elevation to the Supreme Court.

The development came after a meeting of the parliamentary committee was held in Islamabad today to take a decision on the appointment of apex court judges.

The committee approved all the names proposed by the JCP which included Lahore High Court Chief Justice Malik Shehzad Ahmad Khan, Sindh High Court Chief Justice Aqeel Ahmad Abbasi and LHC's Justice Shahid Bilal.

Last week, the JCP sent the names of three high court judges to be considered for elevation to the SC for final approval by the Parliamentary committee.

Justice Qazi Faiz Isa, said the sources.

CJP Isa had, last month, convened the JCP meeting for deliberations over the appointment of three judges in the SC.

The JCP was constituted under the 18th Constitutional Amendment mandated to appoint judges in the superior judiciary.

It was tasked to consider names of nine judges, including LHC chief justice and SHC chief justice, for filling the three vacant posts in the apex court. Chaired by the JCP, the meeting was to be attended JCP members — Justice Syed Mansoor Ali Shah, Justice Munib Akhtar, Justice Yahaya

Afridi, Justice Amin-ud-Din Khan, Justice (ret) Manzoor Ahmed Malik, Federal Minister for Law Azam Nazir Tarar, Attorney General Mansoor Usman Awan and Pakistan Bar Council representative advocate Akhtar Hussain.

As per the Constitution, the actual strength of judges of the Supreme Court is 17 while at present the apex court only has 14 judges including the CJP.

The three posts are to be filled after the retirement of former chief justice Umar Ata Bandial and resignations of Justice Ijazul Ahsan and Justice Syed Mazahar Ali Akbar Naqvi.—RT/Agency

ECP Sets Explosive Hearing Date for Contempt Case Against Imran and Fawad

ISLAMABAD: The Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP) has rescheduled the hearing of the contempt case against PTI founder Imran Khan and Fawad Chaudhry for June 26, media reported on Friday.

The contempt case, filed against Imran Khan and Fawad Chaudhry for allegedly using derogatory language against the ECP, will be heard by the Election Commission Bench. Evidence will be recorded against the PTI leaders on the scheduled date.

This development comes after a three-month hiatus in the case, which was previously stalled due to various reasons.

It is pertinent to mention that PTI founder Imran Khan and former federal minister Fawad Chaudhry were indicted in the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP) contempt case on Jan 3, 2024.

The hearing of the contempt case was held in Adiala Jail — where the court currently holds the founder of PTI.

During the hearing, the accused in the case were mally charged through a read-aloud indictment, after which the hearing was adjourned till January 16.

In August 2022, the ECP issued notices to the founder of PTI and others for allegedly using "intemperate" language against Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Sikander Sultan Raja and the electoral watchdog.

The political leaders repeatedly lambasted the commission and CEC Sikandar Raja and termed the electoral body a "subsidiary of the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz".—RT/Agency
