Govt Racing To Restore PIA's UK Flights

LONDON: Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Minister Ishaq Dar said on Saturday that they are making efforts to resume flights to and from the United Kingdom as soon as possible as the aviation services between the two countries remain suspended for over four years.

"We have made every effort, even we changed the laws as per the latest requirements of the Aviation Authority of UK to solve the issue of resumption of PIA flights," the deputy prime minister, who is currently visiting Britain, said while addressing the Pakistani diaspora there.

PIA flights to Europe and the UK were suspended after the European Union's Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) revoked the national carrier's authorisation to fly to the bloc in 2020 in the aftermath of a fake pilot licence scandal in Pakistan.

The issue resulted in the grounding of 262 of Pakistan's 860 pilots, including 141 of PIA's 434, whose licences were termed "dubious" by the then aviation minister Ghulam Sarwar Khan.

The deputy prime minister, while addressing the event, said that an "irresponsible statement" of a minister from the former minister of the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI)-led government grounded all aircraft of the country in Europe, UK and the Western world.

He said the government was taking two more actions on privatisation of the Pakistan International Airlines (PIA) and outsourcing of Islamabad International Airport.

Dar went on to say that the process was moving on the fast track, hoping that it might be completed by the middle of October.

He pointed out that Pakistan attached high importance to the long-standing partnership with the UK and the real pivot of the bilateral relationship was Pakistani diaspora.

Later, while addressing the press conference in London, the deputy PM further said that discussions on the resumption of PIA flight operations were held with the British authorities while talks with the European Union were also underway.

"We are determined to comply with the international standards in the aviation sector. All our efforts are being made for the resumption of services," he added. It may be noted that Deputy PM Dar had held meetings with UK officials including his British counterpart Angela Rayner, on the sidelines of his visit.—RT/Agency

Govt In Talks To Slash Power Tariffs Amid Soaring Costs

ISLAMABAD: The coalition government led by the PML-N is renegotiating contracts with independent power producers (IPPs) to rein in "unsustainable" electricity tariffs, Energy Minister Awais Leghari said as households and businesses buckle under soaring energy costs.

Rising power tariffs have stirred social unrest and shuttered industries in the $350 billion economy, which has contracted twice in recent years as inflation hit record highs.

"The existing price structure of power in this country is not sustainable," Awais Leghari, the federal minister heading Power Division, told Reuters in an interview on Friday.

He said discussions were underway between power producers and the government because "there is a clear understanding on both sides that the status quo can't be maintained."

Leghari stressed that all stakeholders would have to "give in to a certain point" — though without compromising completely on business sustainability — and this would have to be done "as soon as possible".

Faced with chronic shortages a decade ago, Pakistan approved dozens of private projects by the IPPs, financed mostly by foreign lenders. The incentivised deals included high guaranteed returns and commitments to even pay for unused power. However, a sustained economic crisis has slashed power consumption, leaving the country with excess capacity that it needs to pay for.

Short of funds, the government has built those fixed costs and capacity payments into consumer bills, sparking protests by domestic users and industrial associations.

Four sources in the power sector told Reuters changes to contracts demanded included slashing guaranteed returns, capping dollar rates and moving away from paying for unused power. The sources requested anonymity as they were not authorised to speak to the media. Energy sector viability was the focus of a critical staff level pact in May with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) for a $7 billion bailout. The IMF's staff report stressed the need to revisit power deals. Pakistan has already initiated talks on reprofiling power sector debt owed to China as well as negotiations on structural reforms, but progress has been slow. Pakistan has also committed to stop power sector subsidies. Leghari said current rates were not affordable for domestic or commercial consumers and this was hurting growth because power prices were no longer regionally competitive, putting critical exports at a disadvantage. He said the aim was to bring tariffs down to 9 US cents per unit for commercial users from about 28 cents currently.—RT/Agency

Qureshi Vows Loyalty To Imran, Won't Consider Exit

LAHORE: Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf Vice-Chairman and former foreign minister Shah Mahmood Qureshi has stated that he is committed to Imran Khan and would not consider leaving the party.

Shah Mahmood Qureshi appeared before the court during the hearing of the May 9 vandalism cases at the Anti-Terrorism Court (ATC) Lahore.

He mentioned that he was not even in Punjab when the cases were filed and was arrested 14 months later. Upon his release, he was immediately re-arrested in connection with the May 9 cases.

Qureshi said that as Imran Khan's deputy, he could not even think of abandoning the party.

He criticised the authorities for fearing his presence into the public. He alleged that the sudden rise in number of cases, allegedly 55 cases, against him was an attempt to intimidate him, despite his 40 years in politics without a single case.

He questioned why arguments were not being presented in court by the prosecution, and accused the authorities of intentionally delaying the process. He urged the court to pass judgment if they believed he was guilty.

In an informal conversation with journalists after the court session, Qureshi called on PTI's ideological workers to attend the upcoming rally. He reminded that despite numerous challenges, the nation made correct decisions on Feb 8.

When asked about the proposed judicial package and increasing the number of judges, Qureshi criticised the bills as attempts to undermine parliament. He suggested that the details of the bills should be presented in front of the public.

Regarding the silence of PTI President Chaudhry Parvez Elahi, Qureshi explained that they were together in Adiala Jail and confirmed that Elahi was indeed unwell.

In response to queries about his alleged connections to attend the upcoming rally, Qureshi questioned why he would be in jail if he was associated with them.

He criticised the internal party campaign against him and challenged anyone to ask Imran Khan who else stood with him from the core cabinet other than himself.—RT/Agency

RAWALPINDI: Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) founder Imran Khan on Saturday sought acquittal from the £190 million case after the Supreme Court's verdict in the NAB amendments case.

During the hearing today at the accountability court in Rawalpindi's Adiala jail, the PTI founder filed a petition seeking acquittal in the case that accused both Khan and his wife, Bushra Bibi, of causing billions of rupees loss to the national exchequer.

The former prime minister's lawyer told the court that the £190 million case is no longer valid after the verdict as all the cabinet decisions are protected in NAB amendments.

"The question that arises here is whether the accountability court has jurisdiction in this case or not after the NAB amendments," the NAB prosecutor said.

He further said if the court has jurisdiction in the case, then the "acquittal plea can be heard."

At this, the PTI founder's advocate said they have not challenged the jurisdiction of the court. He added that it is the discretion of the court to decide its jurisdiction.

The accountability court then adjourned the hearing on Khan's acquittal plea till September 10.

The PTI founder filed the plea after Supreme Court's decision on Friday accepting intra-court appeals filed against the September 15, 2023, majority judgement striking down the amendments to the National Accountability Ordinance (NAO), 1999.

The amendments — National Accountability (Second Amendment) Act 2022 — were passed in a joint sitting of the parliament in April 2022 during the Pakistan Democratic Movement (PDM)-led government which came into power after ousting ex-premier Khan via a no-trust move in 2022. It modified sections 2, 4, 5, 6, 25 and 26 of the NAB laws, however, nine out of 10 amendments were declared "null and void" by the CJP Bandial-led bench on the PTI founder's petition filed in June 2022.—RT/Agency

NEPRA Greenlights Rs1.74 Per Unit Hike For Sept-Nov

ISLAMABAD: The National Electric Power Regulatory Authority (Nepra) has approved an additional charge of Rs1.743 per unit for the next three months starting in September 2024, allowing distribution companies and K-Electric to recover Rs423 billion through quarterly adjustments for the fourth quarter (April-June) of fiscal year 2023-24.

This will affect customers of both state-owned distribution companies and K-Electric, adding to the financial burden on households already grappling with rising energy costs.

At the heart of this recovery lies a hefty Rs21.253 billion, or nearly half of the total amount, earmarked for capacity charges — payments that go to independent power producers (IPPs) to ensure generation capacity is maintained, regardless of how much electricity is consumed. An additional Rs7.368 billion is being re-coupled in system usage charges and market operator fees, Rs11.23 billion as impact of transmission and distribution (T&D) losses, and Rs3.5 billion for variable operation and maintenance charges.

Notably, the imposition of an 18% GST on the total recovery amount would further inflate the burden by Rs7.78 billion, raising the total to Rs51 billion to be collected from consumers.

On August 26, Nepra held a public hearing, led by Nepra Chairman Waseem Mukhtar. Electricity distribution companies (Discos) in a petition had submitted that adjustments were largely result of lack of sales as compared to the projections during the instant quarter.

However, Nepra observed that certain Discos, such as Peshawar Electric Supply Company (PESCO), failed to draw energy as per its demand, and opted to carry out loadshedding in its service area. While this reduced their share of capacity charges from overall pool, it also contributed to lower sales. These companies had sought for Rs1.9/unit additional collection. The CPPA, as an agent of the Discos, engaged in local and international legal proceedings had requested to allow Rs51 million on account of legal charges in the instant quarterly adjustment, but the authority turned it down. The authority noted that since such costs are included in Market Operation Fee (MOF), and for it the authority had already approved Rs500 million on account of legal charges as part of CPPA MOF for the FY 2023-24. The CPPA, in its plant-wise data, also included an amount of Rs72.23 million on account of Kot Addu Power Company (KAPCO) charges on account of tax differential for the period from July 1 to October 24, 2022. But the authority did not consider the amount claimed for Kapco. The authority also adjusted an amount of Rs73.18 million charged by the CPPA-G to Discos on account of PPB fee as part of PMLTC invoice for January 2024.

The matter of PPB is under consideration of the authority through separate proceedings; therefore, the matter would be decided once those proceedings were concluded.—RT/Agency

Imprudent Financial Priorities

The Sindh government's decision to allocate a staggering Rs 2 billion for the purchase of 138 luxury SUVs for Assistant Commissioners is not only a poor judgment of priorities but a glaring mismanagement of public funds. At a time when Pakistan faces immense economic challenges, with millions struggling to make ends meet, the justification for such an extravagant expenditure is indefensible.

This move has rightly been suspended by the Sindh High Court following a petition by Jamaat-e-Islami MPA Muhammad Farooq, who highlighted the absurdity of spending such a large amount on vehicles when the public is in dire need of essential services like healthcare, education, and employment opportunities. The court's intervention is a much-needed check on the provincial government's actions, which seem increasingly out of touch with the needs of the common man.

The Rs 2 billion earmarked for these vehicles could be far better utilized in areas that directly improve the lives of Sindh's citizens. For instance, investing in education and vocational training would equip young people with the skills they need to secure employment, thereby fostering long-term economic growth. Similarly, improving healthcare infrastructure, especially in rural areas, is critical for ensuring basic human dignity for all citizens, not just the privileged few.

Ultimately, this decision by the Sindh government reflects a troubling disconnect between its priorities and the actual needs of the public. The court's suspension is a step in the right direction, but the government must reevaluate its spending choices and focus on projects that lead to real, sustainable development for the province.

Naqvi confirms England Test series will be held in Pakistan

LAHORE: Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) Chairman Mohsin Naqvi on Saturday dismissed reports claiming non-availability of the venues for the upcoming three-match Test series against England, saying that the matches will be held in Pakistan.

"No Tests will be played outside [the country]. Multan and Rawalpindi venues are final," the PCB chief said in an interaction with journalists during his visit to oversee the ongoing renovation work being carried out at the Gaddafi Stadium.

Earlier this week, reports emerged that the schedule for next month's three-match series could be altered due to construction work at the country's major stadiums. The matches are scheduled to be held in Multan (Oct 7-11), Karachi (Oct 15-19) and Rawalpindi (Oct 24-28). But reports claimed that the Karachi Test was likely to be moved to the United Arab Emirates (UAE) - Pakistan's "home venue" until cricket returned to the country.

England did not tour Pakistan between 2005 and 2022, owing to security concerns, with the PCB staging matches in the UAE throughout that period. Addressing the reports, Naqvi clarified that the Test series between Pakistan and England will be played in Multan and Rawalpindi. He further shared that the PCB is in contact with the England and Wales Cricket Board (ECB) and "there are no issues". —Agency

PCB 'Connection Camp' to decide Pakistan team's future

LAHORE: The Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) will hold a "Connection Camp" - a meeting-cum-workshop of the board's top brass - that will design the Pakistan cricket's future course of actions, sources told media on Saturday.

The sources said Pakistan white ball head coach Gary Kirsten, red ball head coach Jason Gillespie, heads of high performance centres, senior cricketers, senior board officials as well as international and domestic directors will attend the camp meeting presided by PCB Chairman Mohsin Naqvi.

The meeting is expected to come about on September 22.

Decisions about fate of the team would be taken in light of the recommendations made in the Connection Camp, the sources added.

It should be noted that Kirsten had gone to his homeland after submitting a report to the PCB in July, whereas, Gillespie went back to Australia after the Bangladesh Test series in August.

The sources said the coaches of red ball and white ball cricket would hold a separate meeting among themselves.

Moreover, they said, ideas tender for the post of captaincy, though initially for the white ball cricket only.

Sources said that the PCB's snubbing Babar Azam from captaincy in the Champions One-Day Cup was an indication that he might not stay the national squad's captain in the longer run.

There was a fair chance of appointment of a new captain in place of the star batsman later this year, the sources said, adding that the appointment of new skipper for one-day international and T20 formats was likely ahead of the Australia tour, slated for November.

The sources said Rizwan's name was likely to be discussed for the lead role. If agreed upon, the wicket-keeper might be appointed as captain for all the three formats in the future, they maintained. —Agency

Brazil secures narrow victory over Ecuador with Rodrygo's goal

Brazil got back to winning ways in the South American World Cup qualifiers by a 1-0 victory over Ecuador thanks to first-half goal by Real Madrid forward Rodrygo.

After its first streak of losses in three successive qualifiers, Brazil did just enough to earn the win that lifted the struggling five-time World Cup champions to fourth in the standings with 10 points.

They are eight points behind leaders Argentina and only two points over Ecuador in sixth, the last spot guaranteed a berth at the 2026 finals.

Playing their first match after a disappointing Copa America defeat to Uruguay in the quarter-final, Brazil had another lacklustre performance, dominating possession but failing to create clear chances throughout the match.

Brazil misplaced too many passes and struggled to connect up front, out of ideas on how to beat Ecuador's rock solid defensive block.

Ecuador were relentless while applying a physically aggressive pressure high with three hardworking forwards, making the locals uncomfortable when putting the ball in play. —Agency

England's pacer Mark Wood ruled out of upcoming Pakistan series

KARACHI: England fast bowler Mark Wood has been ruled out of the upcoming series against Pakistan due to an elbow injury which has also ruled him out from the remainder of the year.

According to the England and Wales Cricket Board (ECB), Wood's injury will not only keep him out of the Pakistan tour but will also sideline him from the series against New Zealand.

The ECB statement said that Wood sustained the elbow injury during the series against the West Indies, although he continued to play in the subsequent Test match against Sri Lanka.

"He had noticed increasing stiffness and discomfort in his elbow during the Test series against the West Indies earlier in the summer. He played a full part in the first Test against Sri Lanka at Old Trafford managed the discomfort whilst he was bowling, during that Test match, Wood also sustained a right thigh injury, which is being managed and from which he is recovering well."

Medical scans have confirmed that Wood has a bone stress injury of the right elbow injury," the ECB said. According to the ECB, Mark Wood will miss England's upcoming winter Test tours of Pakistan in October and New Zealand in December and he aims to return to full fitness by early 2025, in time for England's white-ball tour of India and the ICC Champions Trophy in Pakistan, scheduled to begin in February 2025. The ECB further stated that Wood's injury is being monitored by specialists and that his rehabilitation programme will need complete rest and medical care to ensure he regains full fitness and returns to the team. —Agency

Italy stages a comeback to defeat France 3-1 in a thrilling victory

Italy fell behind just 12 seconds into the match but staged a comeback to defeat France 3-1 in a captivating Nations League A Group 2 opener.

Bradley Barcola struck early, scoring in the first minute by exploiting a lapse from Giovanni Di Lorenzo and curling the ball past Gianluigi Donnarumma.

Italy equalized after 30 minutes when Federico Dimarco volleyed in a clever back-heel pass from Sandro Tonali, with the teams heading into the break level following an exciting first half.

Five minutes after the interval and France were rocked again with Davide Frattesi putting Italy ahead, and Giacomo Raspadori gave the visitors the breathing space they needed in the 74th minute to silence the Parc des Princes crowd.

Both sides came into the game looking for redemption after failing to impress at Euro 2024, but it was Italy who earned the much-needed victory. It was a terrible start for the visitors with Di Lorenzo taking far too long over a back-pass and Barcola pounced to score his first international goal.

A frantic start to the game gave Italy the chance to level five minutes later but Frattesi hammered a close range header off the crossbar.

Donnarumma pulled off saves from Kylian Mbappe and Michael Olise, making his debut, before Italy found the equaliser, with Tonali's assist just as impressive as the strike which found the net.

Tonali, back in the side after serving a 10-month ban for breaching betting rules, played a beautiful one-two with Dimarco who continued his run into the box and struck a sweet left-footed volley beyond the reach of Maignan. —Agency

Fritz defeats Tiafoe to book US Open final clash with Sinner

NEW YORK: Taylor Fritz fought back to defeat compatriot Frances Tiafoe at the US Open, becoming the first American man to reach a Grand Slam final in 15 years.

Fritz, the world number 12, won 4-6, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1 and will take on top-ranked Jannik Sinner for the title on Sunday.

"He overwhelmed me at the start and I was freaking out a little," said 26-year-old Fritz after securing victory with a 16th ace.

"I just told myself to stay in it, hold serve and apply scoreboard pressure. I did all I could to stay in it. If I hadn't have done that, I'd regret it forever. In the final, I will come out and give it everything."

Australian Open champion Jannik Sinner earlier became the first Italian man to make the US Open final with a 7-5, 7-6 (7/3), 6-2 win over Britain's Jack Draper.

Andy Roddick was the last American to make a men's singles final at the Slams at Wimbledon in 2009. He was also the last man from the country to capture a Slam title when he won the 2003 US Open.

Tiafoe went into Friday's match trailing 6-1 in his head-to-head record against his compatriot.

However, he boasted the more impressive Grand Slam credentials, playing in his second US Open semi-final in his last three appearances.

Taylor Fritz was in unknown territory, having fallen at the quarter-final stage at the Slams on four occasions.

Tiafoe used that greater experience to hit back from 3-0 in the first set to clinch the opener.

Fritz, who had reached the semi-final by defeating fourth-ranked Alexander Zverev in the previous round, was unable to convert a set point in the 10th game of the second set.

He succeeded at the next time of asking to level the match before handing the initiative straight back when Tiafoe broke for 1-0 in the third and held the advantage to retake the lead.

In a match where there were few rallies and little real drama, Fritz levelled again in the 10th game when Tiafoe dumped a lazy drop shot into the net. —Agency

Shakira settles tax fraud case for protection of her sons

Shakira gets caught in second tax fraud case in Spain nearly 10 months after she was ordered to stand trial in a $13.9 million tax evasion case.

On July 20, a Spanish court located in the town of Espulgades de Llobregat near Barcelona, Spain, said that it has started a new investigation against Shakira.

According to InTouch Weekly, the recent investigation was linked to alleged fraud on personal income tax and wealth tax in 2018.

As per the publication, the second case was opened after the Barcelona Economic Crimes Prosecutor issued a complaint that Shakira allegedly defrauded the Tax Agency.

Additionally, the prosecutor's office filed a complaint for two alleged tax crimes.

In September 2024, Shakira decided to settle the $15 million fraud case for the sake of her two sons as Shakira said in a statement to El Mundo, "I did it to protect my children and to get on with my life, not out of cowardice or guilt."

As per the outlet, the Waka Waka singer's first fraud case was determined based on where she lived from 2012 to 2014.

In this regard, the prosecutors in Barcelona claimed that Shakira spent more than half of that period in Spain and argued that she should have paid taxes in the country.

Furthermore, she allegedly owes 14.5 million euros, which is $13.9 million, in taxes on income earned between those years.

It is worth mentioning that Shakira previously rejected a settlement offer in the case in July 2022, which would have let them settle the case out of court.

PM Shatters 'Pakistan Isolation' Narrative

LONDON: Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Minister Muhammad Ishaq Dar said on Saturday that the claims of Pakistan being in international isolation have been proven wrong due to the active guidance and tireless efforts of Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif and his team.

Speaking to the media, Dar highlighted that Pakistan has secured a non-permanent seat on the United Nations Security Council (UNSC) for two years, garnering 182 votes—a significant increase compared to the single-vote majority it achieved 12 years ago. The first congratulatory message was received from David Lammy, the UK Foreign Secretary.

He stated that Pakistan will actively contribute as a non-permanent member during its term and is currently engaged in discussions with permanent member states to finalize its agenda. Pakistan aims to play a proactive role in addressing global conflicts and plans to strongly advocate for the issues of Palestine, Kashmir, and Islamophobia at the UNSC.

He emphasized that it is the global community's responsibility to implement UN resolutions on international conflicts. He expressed regret that the UN resolutions on Kashmir remained unimplemented. Similarly, resolutions concerning the Gaza bombings have yielded no results, despite the tragic loss of over 40,000 Palestinian lives. Pakistan will persist in advocating for these issues across all forums, including the OIC, D8, and the UN.

Dar mentioned that he has already taken up the issues of Palestine, Kashmir, and Islamophobia at various forums. Additionally, for the first time, the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC) has appointed a special representative of the Secretary-General specifically to combat Islamophobia. He noted that Pakistan has already sent nine consignments of medical and essential supplies to Palestine. Moreover, Pakistan has decided to continue the education of Palestinian medical students whose studies were interrupted or left incomplete by admitting them to complete their studies in Pakistani medical colleges. Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Minister Ishaq Dar stated that efforts are underway to quickly restore flights between Pakistan and the United Kingdom, which will benefit the Pakistani diaspora. "We've updated laws to meet UK Aviation Authority standards to resolve the PIA flight issue," Dar said. He also noted that a previous PTI minister's statement had led to the grounding of Pakistani aircraft in Europe and the UK.

During his UK visit, Dar revealed plans to privatize Pakistan International Airlines (PIA) and outsource Islamabad International Airport, aiming for completion by the 10th of next month. He stressed that Pakistan values its partnership with the UK, with the Pakistani diaspora being a key element of this relationship. Discussing his meetings with UK ministers and others, he described his discussion with the British Foreign Secretary as highly positive, with both parties committed to elevating their bilateral strategic relations.—RT/Agency

After the passage of the bill in NA with a majority vote on Friday, Law Minister Azam Nazir Tarar said the purpose of the bill was to maintain peace during public assemblies and processions.

He dismissed the opposition's concerns, noting that the increasing number of demonstrations in the federal capital had caused significant inconvenience to citizens.

Tarar added that, "the 'Peaceful Assembly and Public Order Bill 2024' is an effort to ensure that the public space is not disturbed by public gatherings.

He rejected the notion of the opposition and said the federal capital was seemingly "under siege" and the growing number of processions had made the lives of citizens miserable.—RT/Agency
