NA Speaker Calls for Immediate Release of PTI Legislators

ISLAMABAD: A day after Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) lawmakers were chased within the Parliament's premises, National Assembly Speaker Ayaz Sadiq Tuesday reprimanded the Islamabad Inspector General (IG) of Police Syed Ali Nasir Rizvi, demanding their immediate release. "You cannot arrest anyone from the Parliament House or lodges. These parliamentarians should be released immediately," said the speaker. Sadiq's directive comes in the wake of the arrests of PTI lawmakers followed by a fiery speech delivered by the party's leader Ali Muhammad Khan on the floor of the lower house today. Sadiq added that he is "very saddened" by this incident and also watched the footage of PTI leader Sher Afzal Marwat's arrest. "What way was it to arrest a parliamentarian?" the speaker questioned IG Rizvi. The speaker maintained he won't remain silent on arrests of lawmakers and will act. "Whatever happened in the Parliament will have to be protested. I have ordered all the videos," he said, summoning the leadership of all political parties in the chamber. Sadiq stressed that the matter is to be looked into with seriousness. "I will file a case against those involved in yesterday's incident." In the next move, the speaker immediately summoned IG Islamabad, DIG operations and senior superintendent of police (SSP) operations.—RT/Agency

PTI Chairman Barrister Gohar Released From Police Custody After Islamabad Power Show

ISLAMABAD: Police on Tuesday released Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) Chairman Barrister Gohar Ali Khan a day after he was arrested over violation of newly-implemented rules regarding public gathering in Islamabad. The PTI chief was also discharged from a case registered against him in the Sangani police station. He told media that police took him into custody and interrogated about some cases. Police told him that there was no case registered against him, he said. A day earlier, police arrested PTI Chairman Barrister Gohar outside Parliament House. Earlier, PTI's firebrand leader Sher Afzal Marwat was also taken into custody. A scuffle was also witnessed between the police officials and Marwat's guards after which one of the guards of the PTI leader was also taken into custody.

After the arrest of Marwat, PTI leader Shoaib Shaheen was also detained by the Islamabad police from his office. Talking to media outside the judicial complex, the PTI chairman condemned the crackdown launched against the PTI leaders following the Sept 8 public gathering in the federal capital. He said some masked men entered Parliament House to arrest the PTI lawmakers, saying it would be remembered as a "black day in democracy." Khan said he and Sher Afzal Marwat came out of parliament to get arrested, adding, "Our MNAs were illegally arrested." He lamented over registration of cases against the PTI leaders for failing to end the rally on time, saying if it was organised in a marriage hall, "If a party representing 70 percent of public is not given space, extremists will become stronger," he said, adding that sanctity of the assembly was violated on Monday. Barrister Gohar said the PTI would oppose any legislation regarding the judiciary.—RT/Agency

KP CM Ali Amin Gandapur Reemerges In Peshawar After Being Out Of Contact

PESHAWAR: Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Chief Minister Ali Amin Gandapur has reached Peshawar after being "missing" for hours in the wake of the crackdown against Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) leadership over alleged violation of law in relation to the party's rally in Islamabad, sources told media on Tuesday. The development was confirmed by PTI's member National Assembly (MNA) Shahid Khattak with sources saying that the CM was "busy in various meetings" in the federal capital after the party's power show. The former ruling party maintained that Gandapur held a long meeting with government officials over the law and order situation in the province and that he couldn't be reached due to mobile phone jammers at the location of the said meeting. The update comes after the Imran Khan-founded party had raised concerns about the possible arrest of the province's chief executive as he couldn't be contacted for over eight hours. A day earlier, KP CM's

Adviser on Information Barrister Mohammad Ali Saif claimed that the federal government might have taken him into custody as he was not in contact since 6pm Monday. Expressing his doubts, the PTI leader urged the federal government to inform them about the whereabouts of the missing CM. Saif's concerns came as Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif launched a fresh crackdown against the PTI leadership for violating Peaceful Assembly and Public Order Bill, 2024, and arrested party Chairman Barrister Gohar Khan, lawmaker Sher Afzal Marwat from outside the Parliament House. Other party leaders who have been arrested include Zain Qureshi, Sheikh Waqas Akram, Naseem-ur-Rehman, Zubair Khan, Shoaib Shaheen and Sunni Ittehad Council (SIC) Chairman Sahibzada Hamid Raza. Raza Police have filed cases against several leaders of the Imran-founded party under the newly-enacted law, at the Noon Village and Sangani police stations. At least 28 local leaders including Seemabia Tahir and Raja Basharat were also nominated in the cases. The first information report (FIR) stated that charged PTI workers attacked police teams with batons and pelted them with stones when officers tried to stop them from violating the Islamabad rally's route.—RT/Agency

Bill To Increase Supreme Court Judges Presented In National Assembly

ISLAMABAD: An amendment bill to the Supreme Court Act of 1997 has been presented in the National Assembly. The bill proposes increasing the number of judges in the Supreme Court from 17 to 23. According to sources, the bill was introduced by government member of the National Assembly, Daniyal Chaudhry. The amendment aims to address the backlog of cases by increasing the number of judges. The bill states that increasing the number of judges will ensure timely hearings and decisions. It also highlights the need for experts in various fields, including cybercrime, environmental law, and international trade, to make informed decisions. The amendment proposes that increasing the number of judges will reduce undue pressure on any single judge. The government did not object to the bill; however, opposition leader Mahmood Khan Achakzai raised concerns about the bill and pointed out a quorum issue in the assembly. Nonetheless, a count of the members confirmed that the quorum was met. The Information Minister supported sending the bill to a committee for further processing, and it has been referred to the relevant committee. Earlier this month, an amendment bill aimed at increasing the number of judges in the Supreme Court of Pakistan was introduced in the Senate by Senator Abdul Qadir during a session chaired by Chairman Yousaf Raza Gillani. The proposed bill seeks to raise the number of Supreme Court judges from 17 to 23. Senator Qadir argued that the growing backlog of cases is a significant issue, attributing it to the shortage of judges. He highlighted that delays in case scheduling, especially in tax-related cases involving substantial amounts, are forcing the country to seek financial assistance from abroad. The bill has sparked controversy. Opposition members expressed concerns that the amendment could be a strategic move by the PML-N government to alter the balance of power within the judiciary. PTI Senator Ali Zafar criticised the bill, suggesting that it aims to manipulate the judiciary, while Senator Saifullah Abro accused the government of having ulterior motives related to recent Supreme Court decisions. The timing of the bill is also notable. Chief Justice of Pakistan (CJP) Qazi Faez Isa is set to retire on October 25, and there are reports that the PML-N government desires to extend his tenure for the continuity of the current judicial system. However, CJP Isa stated he was not interested in a person-specific extension, although he may remain if parliament extends the retirement age for all superior court judges by three years. Political and legal commentators have expressed skepticism about the bill. Critics, including senior lawyer Chaudhry Aitzaz Ahsan and JUI-F legal expert Kamran Murtaza, suggest that the increase in judges could be an attempt to influence the Supreme Court's composition for political gain. They argued that the primary issues affecting the judiciary were systemic delays and a high volume of cases, rather than the number of judges.—RT/Agency

The Minister also lauded the initiatives taken by K-Electric for further investment and expansion of its energy and distribution operations, and assured full support for its efforts to transition to renewables and production of cheaper and affordable energy through the use of domestic resources.—RT/Agency

£190 Million Case: Hearing On Imran And Bushra's Acquittal Pleas Postponed To September 12

RAWALPINDI: The hearing on the acquittal pleas filed by Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) founder Imran Khan and wife Bushra Bibi in the £190m case was adjourned on Tuesday by the accountability court till September 12. The ex-prime minister and former first lady were presented before the court during the hearing today at Rawalpindi's Adiala jail conducted by accountability court Judge Nasir Javed Rana. Khan on Saturday had filed a plea seeking acquittal in the £190 million case under the National Accountability Bureau (NAB) amendments case wherein the court accepted the intra-court appeals filed against last year's verdict which struck down the charges made to the National Accountability Ordinance (NAO). The couple is accused of causing billions of rupees loss to the national exchequer. Last week, the court had reserved verdict on Bushra's acquittal plea in the said case. During the hearing today, Khan and Bushra's lawyers were not able to appear before the court owing to their commitments in the Lahore High Court (LHC) due to which reference's last witness Mian Umer Nadeem couldn't be cross-examined. Furthermore, assistant counsel Faisal Chaudhry's request seeking adjournment of the hearing was opposed by the NAB's prosecution team. The anti-graft body's prosecutor said that Khan and Bushra's counsel were using delay tactics in the case as they have been given 16 opportunities to cross-examine the last witness in the reference. Noting that 12 affidavits have been submitted by the defence lawyers in this reference, the NAB prosecutor said that since counsels Barrister Ali Zafar and Chaudhry were present at the moment, they should cross-examine the witness.—RT/Agency

SIC's Sahibzada Hamid Raza Arrested Amidst Crackdown On Top PTI Leadership

ISLAMABAD: Police stormed the parliament on Tuesday, arresting several prominent Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) leaders, including Sahibzada Hamid Raza, head of Sunni Ittehad Council (SIC). A day after PTI ventured into a legal minefield to stage its rally in the capital, the government wasted no time on Monday to arrest its leaders for flouting the last-gasp laws hastily enacted ahead of the highly anticipated event—widely seen as a test of embattled party's political muscle. Sources revealed that the lights inside the National Assembly (NA) were turned off before officers in plain clothes entered the building. The arrests started rolling in, with Islamabad police arresting PTI leaders Barrister Gohar Ali Khan, Sher Afzal Khan Marwat, and Advocate Shoaib Shaheen outside the parliament. Masked officers reportedly took Hamid Raza into custody from inside the parliament building. In addition to the political leaders, two security personnel stationed outside the Parliament Service Centre were also detained. Confirming the arrests, Islamabad police spokesperson Jawad Taqi said more detentions were on the horizon as PTI's Omar Ayub Khan and Zartaj Gul Wazir were also in the crosshairs. Further, Omar Ayub Khan alleged on X that Khyber-Pakhtunkhwa (K-P) Chief Minister Ali Amin Gandapur was being held "incommunicado by the federal government/establishment after being invited for a cup of tea." He claimed Gandapur's security staff was untraceable, and his phone were off. "This is the state of affairs in Pakistan today," he lamented, criticising the arrest of PTI leaders and alleging that the arrests were a reaction to their peaceful protest on September 8.—RT/Agency

A CM goes missing

The recent unexplained seven-hour disappearance of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Chief Minister Ali Amin Gandapur raises grave concerns about the state of governance and security in Pakistan. This episode, marked by Gandapur's sudden absence and subsequent reappearance amid a crackdown on Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) leaders, is troubling for several reasons.

The fact that the Chief Minister of a province could vanish without explanation reflects an alarming deterioration in both administrative stability and personal safety for high-ranking officials. If the leadership at this level is subject to such unsettling events, it signals a dangerous precedent for the country's political climate. Such incidents undermine the public's trust in the state's ability to maintain order and uphold the rule of law.

The circumstances of Gandapur's disappearance—his phone being out of reach, the activation of mobile jammers, and the lack of security—suggest a severe lapse in both protocol and protection. These are not trivial concerns; they hint at deeper systemic issues. When a high-profile figure can disappear for hours, it casts doubt on the reliability of security agencies and the effectiveness of crisis management.

This episode fits into a troubling pattern of recent events that reflect a decline in democratic norms and institutional integrity. The fact that such actions occur amidst a crackdown against political figures further exacerbates the situation, casting a shadow over the fairness of political processes and governance. The gravity of this issue cannot be overstated. If a provincial chief minister can be so easily removed from sight, the integrity of democratic institutions and the future of governance in Pakistan are at stake. Urgent clarity is needed on this matter, not only to address the immediate concerns but to restore confidence in the nation's democratic framework. The implications of such incidents are profound, and they demand a thorough investigation to prevent further erosion of trust and stability in Pakistan's political landscape.

Martinez refutes claims of 'dependence' on Ronaldo after win over Scotland

After a poor performance from Cristiano Ronaldo's national team at Euro 2024 and the squad's struggle to score during their UEFA Nations League clash with Scotland, people are now debating the team's over-reliance on the Portuguese football legend to win a match.

According to Goal, despite Ronaldo's recent form being questioned, his stand-out performance in the Nations League has reaffirmed his prowess.

The 39-year-old Al Nassr striker, who missed out on many goals during this year's European Championship, was benched by the team's 51-year-old manager, Roberto Martinez, for the Nations League match against Scotland on Sunday.

However, the five-time Ballon d'Or award winner impressed critics when he scored the winning goal against Scotland in the dying minutes of the match.

He had even managed to score during Portugal's opening match against Croatia.

Ronaldo's performance in the Nations League so far has led Martinez to face criticism for the squad's struggle to score goals this year, leading to concerns about the dependence on the team's captain to get favourable results.

However, the former Belgium coach has vehemently denied the suggestions.

Speaking to the media persons, Martinez said, "Dependence? He's an incredible player. There's no dependence. He's an asset. In front of goal, he's very important. His intelligence in opening up spaces is important. Talking about dependence is not something I value."

Martinez will be very pleased with Portugal's start to the Nations League group stages with two wins in two games as the September international period comes to an end.

Portugal will be in action again next month when they take on Poland and Scotland.—Agency

Ikram won the 2022 election by defeating Belgium's Marc Coudron, securing 79 votes to Coudron's 47. His unchallenged re-election highlights his significant contributions to international hockey.

'We will never come here again': Afghanistan cricket team criticises Indian venue

NOIDA: The Afghanistan national cricket team has voiced its dissatisfaction with the facilities at the Shaheed Vijay Singh Pathik Stadium in India's Greater Noida state, following a rain-hit one-off Test match against New Zealand.

The opening day on September 9 was washed out due to a wet outfield and persistent rain, and the match continued to be halted on the second day for the same reasons.

Despite prior efforts to ensure readiness, the team raised issues regarding the stadium's facilities over what they see as mismanagement and inadequate amenities at the venue.

Reports indicate that the team has formally announced they will not return to this stadium for future matches.

A source within the Afghanistan Cricket Board (ACB) confirmed that future games will be relocated to Lucknow, citing the lack of basic facilities as the primary reason.

"There are no facilities. We will never come here again. Our preference will be Lucknow," an ACB official stated, adding that even the training facilities were substandard.

A team of approximately 20-25 ground staff, including 15 outsourced workers, struggled with the challenging conditions, hindered by insufficient resources.

Despite having five super soppers on hand (two automatic and three manual), the drying process remained slow and ineffective.

The stadium's infrastructure has come under scrutiny, particularly due to the absence of an efficient drainage system. While rain delays are common in cricket, most modern venues are equipped to handle such disruptions quickly.

This marks a setback for Afghanistan's 10th Test match in their history, where they hoped to build on their recent success in shorter formats, including a win over New Zealand in the T20 World Cup.—Agency

GDA And Opposition Reject Proposed IRSA Amendments, Call For Presidential Zardari's Resignation

By Rahib Gaho

KARACHI: The Grand Democratic Alliance (GDA) and other Sindh opposition parties have rejected the proposed amendments to the Indus River System Authority (IRSA) Act, demanding the resignation of President Asif Ali Zardari. They condemned the amendments as unconstitutional, describing them as part of a conspiracy to deprive Sindh of its rightful water resources. The opposition vowed to block the implementation of these changes.

At a joint press conference, GDA leaders Dr. Safdar Abbasi, Sardar Abdul Rahim, Liaqat Ali Jatoi, Syed Zain Shah, and others, alongside representatives from PTI, Jamaat-e-Islami, and other political groups, announced protests across Sindh on September 19. They urged the public to participate in the demonstrations against the "anti-Sindh" decisions made by the Presidential House. Dr. Safdar Abbasi warned that the proposed amendments would destroy the Indus River system and water distribution agreements. He reiterated that the 1991 Water Accord, which governs water sharing between provinces, is the framework under which IRSA operates, and any changes should be managed by the Council of Common Interests (CCI).

Syed Zain Shah stressed that tampering with the water system could lead to catastrophic consequences, warning that if water is not released into the sea, cities like Karachi, Hyderabad, and Tando Muhammad Khan could be severely impacted. He demanded the resignation of President Zardari and urged the Sindh Assembly to do the same if these concerns are not addressed. Former Chief Minister Liaqat Jatoi criticized the lack of consultation with Sindh stakeholders on the IRSA amendments and highlighted the ongoing water scarcity in Badin, which has left millions of acres of land uncultivated. He emphasized the importance of ensuring Sindh's fair share of water, calling the amendments detrimental to the province's agriculture and economy.

Opposition leaders across the political spectrum voiced their opposition, uniting in their call for a mass mobilization on September 19 to protect Sindh's water rights and resist the IRSA amendments.

Sharjeel Condemns Use Of Offensive Language Against Women, Journalists

By Rahib Gaho

KARACHI: Sindh Senior Minister Sharjeel Inam Memon has strongly criticized the use of offensive language towards women and threats against journalists in a recent speech by a provincial chief minister. He condemned the remarks against state institutions, pointing out that such behavior not only reflects poorly on the individual but also on the party's leadership and the mindset they promote.

Speaking in the Sindh Assembly, Memon highlighted the detrimental impact of this political party, stating that its history has stained Pakistan's politics, turning differences into personal enmity. "In the past, political disagreements never crossed into hostility. But this party's leadership has cultivated an environment where abusive language is rewarded with higher positions," Memon remarked. He contrasted the legacy of the Pakistan Peoples Party (PPP), which has produced respected leaders such as Aftab Shaban Mirani, Syed Qaim Ali Shah, Syed Abdullah Shah, and Syed Murad Ali Shah, with the leadership of the PTI, mentioning figures like Usman Buzdar and Ali Amin Gandapur. Memon criticized the PTI's leadership for promoting individuals who engage in derogatory behavior, reflecting the mindset of the party. Sharjeel Memon further rebuked former Prime Minister Imran Khan, referencing a controversial statement in which Khan blamed a rape victim's attire for the crime. He expressed disbelief that a leader responsible for the welfare of 240 million people could make such a claim. Memon questioned Khan's judgment, calling his comments shameful. He went on to point out the hypocrisy within PTI ranks, where some members support Gandapur's statements, while others, like PTI's Barrister Gohar and Umar Ayub, have publicly apologized to journalists. Memon noted that while Khan has spent less than a year in jail, PPP leaders like President Asif Ali Zardari and Shabeer Bhatti endured far greater hardships without undermining the nation's institutions. Memon also criticized stranded. Najeubullah Khan Khilji further stated that due to the absence of the terminal, transporters who had settled on the Green Belt along the Super Highway are facing difficulties. He added that despite meeting with representatives of the Sindh government, provincial ministers, and important personalities, no significant action has been taken yet. The absence of the terminal has led to a situation where transporters on the Green Belt feel insecure and constantly fear potential threats from criminals. He urged President Asif Ali Zardari, Chairman Bilawal Bhattu Zardari, Sindh Chief Minister Syed Murad Ali Shah, Governor of Sindh Kamran Khan Tessori, Karachi Commissioner Syed Hassan Naqvi, Chairman of Sohrab Goth Town Lala Abdul Rahim, and others to address the concerns of the transporters and expedite the completion of the terminal on Northern Bypass so that transporters can operate safely.

PTI Vows To Persist After Arrests Of Party Leaders For Rally Violations

PESHAWAR: The Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) has vowed to continue its anti-government movement a day after several of its leaders were arrested from Parliament House in late night police crackdown.

"There should be no misunderstanding as people have stood up," said PTI leader Salman Akram Raja while addressing a press conference in Peshawar on Tuesday.

PTI leaders including Omar Ayub Khan, Asad Qaiser, Azam Swati, and Salman Akram Raja were also present at the presser held after the conclusion of the former ruling party's core committee meeting.

"Some people are influencing the country's political and democratic process," alleged Raja, adding that they would not back off and let anyone suppress the voice of public gathering law's violations.

Defending the PTI leaders' speeches in the Islamabad rally, the lawyer-cum-politician was of the view that political power show has a different environment.

The opposition party strongly condemned the law-makers' arrests, including the detention of some MNAs from the parliament, in a police crackdown on its leadership in Islamabad launched on alleged violations of the had assured that he would render an apology for his indecent remarks. Raja replied that CM Gandapur departed for an assembly session.

Addressing the press conference, Ayub, who is also the Opposition Leader in the National Assembly, slammed the coalition government for using all tactics to stop his party's Islamabad public gathering.

He went on to say that the ruling parties in the coalition government levelled false allegations against the Islamabad-founded party and jailed its leaders.

Condemning the arrests of the PTI leaders in a police crackdown yesterday, Ayub termed September 9 a "black day" and claimed that "masked whisked away several party leaders" besides arresting MNA Sher Afzal Marwat and Shoaib Shaheen.

PTI senior leader Asad Qaiser, in the press conference, announced that his party will fight for its rights on the streets besides continuing its legal battle in the courts. He demanded the release of PTI founder Imran Khan and other party inmates.

The former National Assembly speaker also demanded free elections in the country and termed it illegitimate.

He suggested that contempt of court cases should be filed against the Islamabad police chief and commissioner as they placed obstacles along the rally in the federal capital.

Earlier today, the former ruling party convened its core committee's session at the CM House, Peshawar, which central leaders, including KP CM Gandapur attended.—RT/Agency

Indian Minister To Skip Pakistan Visit, Will Attend SCO Meeting Virtually

ISLAMABAD: The Indian trade minister will virtually attend the upcoming meeting of Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) officials hosted by Pakistan, officials familiar with the development said here on Tuesday.

The SCO trade ministers meeting will be held in Islamabad on Thursday, according to officials.

Pakistan invited India along with other SCO members for the meeting. India, according to sources, confirmed its participation online, meaning its trade minister will not travel to Pakistan.

This may serve as a template for India to attend other SCO meetings including the summit of heads of governments meeting to be held in Islamabad in October.

Pakistan already sent an invitation to Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi for the meeting. It is expected that India, like the trade ministers meeting, will join the October 15 and 16 hurdle through online.

India is unlikely to attend the SCO meeting in person but other member countries are expected to send their high-powered delegations. China already confirmed that its prime minister would undertake a visit to Islamabad for the SCO meeting as well as bilateral visit.

SCO is a Eurasian political, economic, and security alliance, founded in 2001 by China, Russia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, and Uzbekistan. It has since expanded to include India, Pakistan, and Iran as full members, with Afghanistan, Belarus, and Mongolia as observers, and other countries as dialogue partners. The SCO is often seen as a counterbalance to Western alliances like NATO and plays a significant role in fostering regional cooperation.

Pakistan attended all the meetings of SCO hosted by India last year either in person or virtually.

Then foreign minister Bilawal Bhutto-Zardari visited Goa for the meeting of SCO Foreign Ministers in May 2023. India extended the invitation to Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif for the SCO summit held in New Delhi. Before Pakistan could take a decision whether to attend the summit in New Delhi, India suddenly decided to host the meeting virtually instead of in person. It is believed that India took the decision at the last moment because of its tensions with China and Pakistan.

The SCO is pivotal in addressing regional security concerns, including terrorism, extremism, and separatism. It conducts joint military exercises and intelligence sharing among member states.

The SCO promotes economic cooperation through initiatives like the Belt and Road Initiative (BRI). It seeks to enhance trade, energy partnerships, and infrastructure development across Eurasia. It also provides a platform for member states to align on major international issues, often advocating for a multipolar world order and challenging Western dominance in global affairs. The 23rd SCO Summit was held on July 4, 2023, hosted by India via video conference. This summit marked a significant moment for the organization, as it was the first time India chaired the SCO after becoming a full member in 2017.—RT/Agency

PTI Senator Falak Naz Suspended For Offensive Remarks Against Faisal Vawda

ISLAMABAD: Senate Chairman Yousuf Raza Gilani on Tuesday suspended Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) Senator Falak Naz's membership of the upper house for two days over the use of unparliamentary language against fellow lawmaker Faisal Vawda amid pandemonium.

The ruckus comes a day after police arrested several PTI lawmakers and leaders in midnight raids a day after it held a major rally in the capital to demand party founder Imran Khan's release.

The law-enforcers cited the violation of a newly enacted law regulating public rallies as the reason for the arrests.

The PTI said nearly a dozen of its parliamentarians had been picked up in Islamabad. Others had sought refuge in parliament to evade law enforcers, it said.

The turbulent Senate session, marked by an indiscriminate exchange of barbs between senators, saw an enraged Vawda accuse opposition members of hypocrisy.

Reportedly, PTI Senator Falak Naz hurled swear words at Vawda, prompting him to vehemently protest her inappropriate language.

The Senate chairman first ordered the expungement of the abusive words from the record, but the outspoken senator was not satisfied with it.

"Abuse is rampant, but we will respond with reason," Vawda said, demanding action from Gilani.

"They are using abusive language even in the Senate," Chairman Sahib, arrest them."

Calling on the chairman for strict action and not a slap on the wrist, the former federal minister stressed that apologies wouldn't be enough to resolve the situation.

"Words won't fix this, chairman Sahib, you must take action," he insisted, suggesting suspending the female senator if she refused to apologise.

Gilani, who initially hesitated, finally gave in under Vawda's pressure, and declared: "If she doesn't apologise, I will suspend her."

Vawda, in his outburst, demanded that those respon-

Yousuf Raza Gilani Challenges NAB's Authority In Toshakhana Case

ISLAMABAD: Senate Chairman and Pakistan People's Party (PPP) leader Yousuf Raza Gilani has challenged the jurisdiction of National Accountability Bureau (NAB) in Toshakhana case registered against him.

Gilani challenged the jurisdiction of the NAB court through his lawyer following the restoration of the NAB tweaks by the Supreme Court.

After initial arguments, Judge Abid Sajjad of the accountability court in Islamabad has issued a notice to NAB directing them to clarify whether the Toshakhana case falls under their jurisdiction.

The court has adjourned the hearing on the petition until September 26.

The NAB had filed a reference with the accountability court against the former heads of the state for not depositing luxury vehicles and valuable gifts received from the foreign leaders in the treasury.

NAB sources said that former president Asif Ali Zardari had only paid 15 per cent of the total cost of the vehicles received as gifts through fake accounts.

Zardari had received expensive cars as a gift from Libya and the UAE as president but did not deposit it in the Toshakhana, the sources added. Nawaz Sharif and Yousuf Raza Gilani had also received cars as a gift from different foreign leaders as prime ministers and used it themselves instead of depositing them in the treasury.—RT/Agency

ATC Grants 8-Day Physical Remand For PTI Leaders In Islamabad Rally Case

ISLAMABAD: An Anti-Terrorism Court (ATC) on Tuesday approved an eight-day physical remand for PTI leaders Sher Afzal Marwat, Aamir Dogar, Zain Qureshi, Naseem Shah, Ahmed Chattha, and others in connection with the Sangiani police station case, while rejecting the physical remand request for Advocate Shoaib Shaheen and sending him to judicial custody.

Islamabad police had arrested PTI Chairman Barrister Gohar and MNAs including Sher Afzal Marwat outside Parliament House following a National Assembly session last night.

A heavy police presence had gathered outside the Parliament House in anticipation. As PTI leaders exited the building, police took positions and swiftly moved to detain them.

The arrest took place over violations during PTI's rally in Islamabad on Sunday.

The violations include disrupting the agreed route, breaching commitments, attacking Islamabad police, exceeding permitted timings, and delivering anti-state speeches.

According to media, Islamabad police presented Shoaib Shaheen and other arrested workers, charged under terrorism provisions, before Judge Abul Hasnain Zulqarnain of the ATC today, Prosecutor Raja Naveed requested a 15-day physical remand for the accused, stating that they used police equipment during the attack on police and that police kits were still to be recovered following their party's rally in Islamabad's Sangiani on Sunday.

Raja Naveed argued that while no recovery was filed tied to Shaheen, "everything was done under his instructions," which warranted the remand request. Shaheen's lawyers opposed this, urging the court to discharge him from the case.

When asked, the court was informed that around 60 to 70 individuals had been arrested. After hearing the arguments, the court rejected the physical remand request for Shoaib Shaheen and ordered his transfer to jail on judicial remand.

The court also requested arguments for his post-arrest bail application tomorrow.

Five Members of the National Assembly (MNAs), including Sher Afzal Marwat, Aamir Dogar, Zain Qureshi, and Ahmed Chattha, were presented in court, where police requested their remand.

Marwat questioned the legitimacy of the case, saying, "Does the police have a single witness? This FIR was filed this morning, and [PTI Chairman] Barrister Gohar Ali Khan was discharged on the same evidence we are being presented with here."

The court noted, "You discharged a Kalashnikov, he did not," to which Marwat responded, "You are fabricating this. I only had a pistol."

After reviewing the police's request, the court granted an 8-day physical remand for the five MNAs and three other suspects.

The court ordered their return for further proceedings after the remand period concludes.—RT/Agency

Imran Khan Supports K-P CM, Urges PTI To Exclude 'Cowards' Who Apologized For Gandapur

ISLAMABAD: Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) founding leader Imran Khan has defended Ali Amin Gandapur and the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Chief Minister's controversial remarks that have landed him in hot water recently.

"Party members who had apologized for Gandapur's remarks are weak cowards, they should not remain in the PTI," Imran Khan said.

Imran Khan also stated that the establishment has deceived them, and he is closing the doors to negotiations with all parties from today.

Speaking informally with journalists at Adiala Jail, he said that from today he is instructing his party not to engage in any discussions with the establishment.

Lahore High Court Reinstates Lieutenant General Munir Afsar As NADRA Chairman

LAHORE: The Lahore High Court (LHC) has reinstated Lieutenant General Munir Afsar as the chairman of the National Database and Registration Authority (NADRA).

Hearing the intra-court appeal filed by the federal government, LHC's two-member bench comprising Justices Chaudhry Muhammad Iqbal and Ahmad Nadeem Arshad suspended the high court's September 6 verdict wherein it had declared Lt Gen Afsar's appointment null and void.

The decision, announced by Justice Asim Hafeez, came after a citizen named Ashba Kamran challenged NADRA Ordinance. The caretaker government cannot interfere in permanent policy matters, the plea added.

During the hearing today, the government's lawyer apprised the court that NADRA chairman's appointment notification was challenged in the plea. However, he added, the petitioner's request was limited only to the extent of the notification issued by the caretaker government.

The applicant never challenged the new rule, he said, while requesting the court to annul the single-member bench's last week's verdict.—RT/Agency
