Supreme Court Overturns Verdict Preventing Lawmakers From Defecting In Parliament

ISLAMABAD: The Supreme Court on Thursday annulled its 2022 verdict on the interpretation of Article 63(A) of the Constitution, which barred lawmakers from going against party directions when voting in parliament.

Hearing the Supreme Court Bar Association's (SCBA) plea, the five-member bench led by Chief Justice of Pakistan (CJP) Qazi Faez Isa announced the unanimous verdict and approved the petition with the top judge saying that the detailed verdict will be issued later.

The case revolves around the apex court's previous ruling, which stated that the votes of parliamentarians who deviated from their party's directives and policies were to be disregarded and not counted.

During the hearing today, Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) lawyer Barrister Ali Zafar apprised the court that he met the PTI founder, however, the meeting didn't have the attorney-client privilege as it was also attended by police officers.

The lawyer further said that the incarcerated ex-prime minister has requested to appear before the court himself and that he wishes to raise certain arguments via virtual appearance.

Earlier opposition to the bench, he said that the PTI founder said that the bench is not legal and so there is no point of moving forward," he remarked, adding that the PTI wanted to distance itself from the court proceedings.

"If you announce a verdict then there would be a conflict of interest [...] the PTI founder said that the bench is not legal and so there is no point of moving forward," he remarked, adding that the PTI wanted to distance itself from the court proceedings.

The court then appointed the lawyer as amicus curiae after SCBA President Shahzad Shaukat said that he didn't oppose the said nomination after which the PTI lawyer continued his arguments before the court.

Addressing the PTI counsel, CJP Isa said all the political parties should sit together and settle their issues, clarifying that "there is no division among judges"—RT/Agency

Fazl Accepts SC Ruling On Rebel MPs Amid Concerns Over 'Match-Fixing' As Constitutional Package Approaches

ISLAMABAD: Hours after the Supreme Court annulled its 2022 verdict on the interpretation of Article 63(A) of the Constitution, JUI-F chief Maulana Fazlur Rahman said he accepts the verdict but warned against any 'match-fixing' amid the government's efforts to pass judiciary-centric constitutional package.

Deemed a major win for ruling coalition, the apex court unanimously accepted a review petition against its 2022 verdict related to the defection clause, which barred lawmakers from going against party directions when voting in parliament.

In its May 17, 2022 verdict, the SC — via 3-2 judgment — ruled that votes cast contrary to the parliamentary party lines in four instances outlined in Article 63(A) should not be counted.

These four instances are the election of prime minister and chief minister, a vote of confidence or no-confidence, a Constitution amendment bill, and a money bill.

Three judges — then-CJP Umar Ata Bandial, then Justice Ijazul Ahsan, and Justice Munib Akhtar — had voted in favour whereas Justice Jamal Khan Mandokhail and Justice Mazhar Alam Khan

Miankhal were the dissenting judges.

Today's verdict, pronounced by Chief Justice of Pakistan (CJP) Qazi Faez Isa, means that in any future legislation, the votes of parliamentarians who deviated from their party's directives and policies will be counted.

"We accept the court's ruling, but there should be no match-fixing [...] It should not become a mean of buying or selling," the JUI-F chief said while addressing a press conference in Islamabad on Thursday.

In response to a question regarding potential horse-trading ahead of constitutional package, Maulana Fazl said that not a single member of his parliamentary party has ever resorted to "floor crossing" in national and provincial assemblies.

Meanwhile, the veteran

Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) to postpone its anti-government protests.

However, he clarified, his party has no intention of put its weight behind the government's proposed judicial package at any cost. "No legislation was made on any of our recommendations," he regretted.

Questioning the government's urgency in tabling the constitutional package, the JUI-F chief said they waited for almost nine months for the passage of 18th Amendment.

"Today, they [the government] are insisting on amending the Constitution within 24 hours," he said, adding that in its current state with its details and rules, the bill was incapable of "being passed and supported".

Furthermore, Fazl noted that no progress was made for an Islamic legislation, noting that the matter related to registration of madrassahs was still unresolved.

Responding to a question, the politician said JUI-F and Pakistan People's Party (PPP) have decided to separately chalk out constitutional amendment drafts and try to achieve a consensus.

A day earlier, Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz

(PML-N) Senator Irfan Siddiqui said the constitutional amendment proposed by the government was amended with the consent of Maulana Fazl.

"Maulana Fazlur Rahman informed me about his reservations regarding the amendment. He has no objection on formation of the constitutional court as well as the amendment's basic points," he said while speaking on Geo News programme 'Aaj Shahzeb Khanzada Kay Saath'.

Last month, the coalition government made a futile attempt to pass a "closely-guarded" constitutional package amid speculation about a potential extension in the tenure of Chief Justice of Pakistan (CJP) Qazi Faez Isa.

However, the government failed to even table the amendments in parliament after JUI-F chief Maulana Fazlur Rahman refused to support the government's judicial package, leaving the contentious amendments hanging in the balance.

Ostensibly, the government was short of 13 votes in the National Assembly and nine in the Senate as the said legislation requires a two-thirds majority in both houses.—RT/Agency

US Responds To Pakistan's Management Of $400M Flood Aid Following Bilawal's Claims

WASHINGTON: The United States took notice of a statement by Pakistan Peoples Party (PPP) Chairman Bilawal Bhutto Zardari regarding his allegations against the Shehbaz Sharif government for mismanaging $400 million intended for flood victims.

Bilawal Bhutto Zardari claimed that he secured a $400 million loan and aid for flood victims, which the federal government has allegedly appropriated for itself.

The PPP chief stated that the $400 million obtained from the World Bank has been retained by the federal government, which is providing him with rupees instead, under the pretext that they will be used for projects.

He criticized the federal government for failing to construct a single house in recent years and urged that the funds be directed to the flood victims.

"We take this matter very seriously, not just in Pakistan but also wherever American taxpayer dollars are used and where urgent humanitarian interests are at stake," State Department spokesperson Matthew Miller said during a press briefing.

Miller highlighted that both the State Department and USAID employ stringent monitoring and evaluation systems in providing assistance, and they cease assistance when it is observed to be misdirected or misused.

Responding to a query about Secretary Blinken's meeting with Indian counterpart Jaishankar, Miller stated that they discussed their enduring commitment to strengthening bilateral ties, coordinating closely on regional and global challenges, and advancing cooperation on critical and emerging technologies.

"I won't divulge all the details of those conversations, but we frequently raise human rights issues in our discussions with governments worldwide," he remarked when asked if human rights violations and religious freedom were discussed with the Indian Minister.—RT/Agency

Pakistan Condemns Israel's Ban On UN Chief's Entry

UNITED NATIONS: Pakistan has condemned Israel for its "unjustified and slanderous" attacks against the UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres, barring him from entering the country and declaring him "persona non grata".

"Pakistan stands in full solidarity with the UN Secretary-General and commends his principled and courageous stance on the situation in the Middle East, particularly the atrocities in Gaza and the aggression against Lebanon," Ambassador Munir Akram said in an interview with APP's UN correspondent.

"We strongly condemn Israel's unjustified and slanderous attacks against the UN Secretary-General and the UN, which is a pillar of world order," the Pakistan UN envoy said. "Insult and abuse is the weapon of aggressors and oppressors," he added.

Israel's aggression in Gaza has killed over 41,000 Palestinians, mostly women and children, and its new offensive against Lebanon has also caused thousands of casualties in both war zones as well as massive displacement of people there.—RT/Agency

Vawda Accuses Imran Of Inciting Violence

ISLAMABAD: Senator Faisal Vawda has claimed that the PTI was calling for protests that could endanger innocent lives.

During a press conference in Islamabad, Vawda stated that a political party was playing a nefarious game for power, expressing concern that the PTI founder was worried about the improved economy.

He criticised Imran Khan for speaking about freedom and liberation, urging him to first free himself from mental slavery. Vawda accused the PTI of planning to create unrest, saying they were now seeking casualties.

He remarked that the PTI was trying to provoke conflict, calling for protests to incite violence.

Vawda noted that foreign personalities and investors were coming to the country, and criticised the government for not highlighting these developments.

Vawda further stated that Gandapur was merely a pawn in a larger narrative. He suggested that if one wished to engage in politics, it should be done constructively rather than resorting to thuggery and intimidation.—RT/Agency

Supreme Court: CJP Cannot Force Participation On A Bench

ISLAMABAD: The Supreme Court of Pakistan has rejected objections raised by the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) legal team during the hearing of the Article 63-A review case.

The court stated that the chief justice cannot compel any judge to sit on a bench and that the objections raised were not legally justified.

The court also dismissed the concerns regarding the late filing of the review petition and the formation of the bench, clarifying that the review petition was filed 21 days before the detailed decision was issued.

During the proceedings, PTI's lawyer, Ali Zafar, raised concerns regarding the formation of the bench, objecting to the presence of certain judges.

However, the Supreme Court stated that bench formation is carried out according to the law, and the chief justice cannot force any judge to be part of a bench.

The court said that Justice Mansoor Ali Shah had voluntarily excused himself from the bench, following which Justice Naem Akhtar Afghan was included.

The court also addressed the issue of the petition being heard out of turn, a claim raised by the PTI legal team.

The court clarified that the review petition was rightly scheduled and dismissed this objection as well.

It stated that the opposition to the review petition being filed out of time was not supported by Additional Attorney General and Farooq H. Naek, while Ali Zafar was the only one objecting. The court further explained the role of the President in filing the reference. It stated that the President, as a symbol of national unity, does not need to issue notices to every citizen when filing a reference, clarifying the legal process. The Supreme Court made it clear that while the chief justice is responsible for forming benches, he is not legally required to provide an explanation for his decisions. However, in this case, the chief justice chose to issue a clarifying statement despite not being bound to do so by law.—RT/Agency

Task Force Reports Completion Of Discussions With Most IPPs, NA Informed

ISLAMABAD: The National Assembly's standing committee on power on Thursday considered mechanism to determine the lifeline and protected consumers.

PTI MNA Sher Ali Arbab complained that instead of Chairman NEPRA Waseem Mukhtar, a junior officer has been sent to represent the regulator.

Secretary Power Division said that the committee didn't summon the Chairman National Electric Power Regulatory Authority (NEPRA), all information of government's contracts with the Independent Power Producers (IPPs), Nepra official said.

"If the NA committee wants, it can summon the chairman Nepra in its next session," secretary said.

"The NA body has been provided all details of government's contracts with the Independent Power Producers (IPPs)," Nepra official said. "It has been the crucial issue of the IPPs, and the chairman Nepra should have been present in the committee's meeting," PPP's Khurshed Junejo said.

Secretary power division said the Task Force has been in talks with the IPPs.

PML-N's Ameer Muqam said, it will be better to get briefing after completion of report on the IPPs. Secretary power division informed the meeting that the task force has made enough work, and talks have been completed with most of the IPPs.—RT/Agency

Bilawal Pledges Support For Jamaat-E-Islami's Gaza Million March

ISLAMABAD: Chairman of Pakistan Peoples Party (PPP), Bilawal Bhutto Zardari, was invited to participate in the Gaza Million March by Ameer of Jamaat-E-Islami Pakistan, Hafiz Naem-ur-Rehman, during a meeting between the two leaders.

A delegation led by Hafiz Naem-ur-Rehman reached Zardari House in Islamabad for the meeting with Bilawal Bhutto.

Liaqat Baloch and Mayor of Karachi Murtaza Wahab were also present on the occasion. Hafiz Naem extended the invitation to Bilawal Bhutto for the Gaza March. Speaking to the media after the meeting, Hafiz Naem-ur-Rehman, along with Bilawal Bhutto, condemned Israel for state terrorism, highlighting its recent attack on Lebanon. He called on the government to focus on the Gaza situation. "On October 7, we will take to the streets across the country at 12 pm to protest. Despite political differences, we must unite for Palestine," he stated. It is noteworthy that Jamaat-e-Islami will hold a Million March on October 7 from Embassy Road in Islamabad to express solidarity with Gaza and Lebanon. Bilawal Bhutto, while speaking on the occasion, said that despite ideological differences, "we stand together on this issue.—RT/Agency

During the event, it was noted that Anwar Ibrahim, an admirer of Allama Iqbal, has found inspiration in the philosopher's works. Anwar's career has been distinguished by his advocacy for humanitarian causes and Islamic values, with a focus on social justice and addressing issues facing the Muslim world. The Malaysian prime minister has been a strong supporter of self-determination movements, speaking out against global oppression. He continues to fight against Islamophobia and promotes interfaith harmony by encouraging understanding and respect among different cultures and religions. President Zardari later hosted a state dinner in honour of Prime Minister Anwar and his delegation.—RT/Agency

PTI's Alvi Accuses Chief Justice Isa Of Encouraging Floor-Crossing To Extend Tenure

LAHORE: Former president and Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) leader Dr Arif Alvi has accused Chief Justice of Pakistan Qazi Faez Isa of creating an atmosphere conducive to floor-crossing, driven by a "lust" to extend his tenure. Alvi likened Isa's actions to those of the current government, which he alleged is "ruining the Constitution for its survival."

"I have never seen a chief justice like Faez Isa in my life," Alvi said while speaking to reporters at the Anti-Terrorism Court, where he met with PTI lawmakers arrested in connection with the May 9 riots following the arrest of PTI founder Imran Khan.

Alvi went on to criticise the chief justice, stating, "He has damaged the country more than Justice Munir," referring to the controversial former judge who was criticised for judicial overreach in the 1950s.

The former president expressed concern over what he described as a "bazar of cruelty," claiming that the CJP had opened "a market for buying and selling people, like how slaves were once sold in America."

Alvi also questioned the timing of the invocation of Article 63-A, which deals with defection, claiming it was unnecessary and only served to prolong Faez Isa's tenure. He stressed the need for judicial reforms in the lower courts to provide justice to the public, instead of what he saw as efforts to extend each other's tenures.

Regarding PTI's rallies, Alvi said that the police were solely responsible for the violence and chaos at the rallies. "PTI's rallies are peaceful, it's the police who create anarchy," he stated.

When asked about the ongoing situation in Gaza and Palestine, Alvi thanked Iran for its response to Israel and urged Muslim countries not to forget the plight of Muslims in Gaza, Palestine, and Kashmir. "Israel is acting like a hooligan, and Muslims must stand united. Quid-e-Azam's vision was for a single state with a Palestinian majority," he said.—RT/Agency

Egyptian, Ethiopian Envoys Meet National Assembly Speaker To Discuss Bilateral And Regional Issues

ISLAMABAD: National Assembly (NA) Speaker, Sardar Ayaz Sadiq on Thursday said Pakistan valued high its cordial ties with Egypt and intended to further expand the existing relations through enhanced parliamentary and economic cooperation. He expressed these views in a meeting with Ambassador of Egypt Dr. Ihab AbdelHamid Hassan who called on him at the Parliament House. Ayaz Sadiq said the relation between the two brotherly countries was based on common religion, culture, history, mutual respect and brotherhood. He expressed grave concern over the current situation in the Middle East and condemned Israeli aggression in Palestine and Lebanon. He urged upon the international community to play its role in ending Israeli occupation and aggression so that durable peace can prevail in the region. Highlighting the importance of parliamentary diplomacy, the speaker said parliamentary diplomacy could play a vital role in strengthening the bilateral relations. He further said the exchange of parliamentary delegations would enable parliamentarians of both countries to learn from each other's experiences. He also said enhanced contacts between Parliamentary Friendship Groups (PFGs) of both countries would result in strengthening of bilateral relations as well. Ayaz also extended invitation to his Egyptian counterpart to visit Pakistan along with parliamentary delegation. Egyptian Ambassador Dr. Ihab AbdelHamid Hassan appreciated the remarks of the speaker for further expanding relations between both brotherly countries and parliaments.—RT/Agency

Police Brutality Reported In Toba Tek Singh

By Abid Mehmood Ch

TOBA TEK SINGH: In Chak 94 JB, under Thana Saddar Gojra, a police sub-inspector and his team have been accused of brutally torturing a villager, Abdul Qadir. A medical board confirmed the abuse, leading to a formal complaint submitted to the judicial magistrate.

Abdul Qadir claims that despite being a law-abiding citizen with no prior complaints against him, Sub-Inspector Javed Shaukat forcibly took him in a police vehicle and assaulted him after he refused illegal orders regarding the release of his cattle. The magistrate questioned Javed Shaukat about any existing complaints against Abdul Qadir, but the officer could not provide any documentation.

A medico-legal report from the District Headquarters Hospital supports Abdul Qadir's claims. He also reported that two individuals, Imran alias Mana and Ramzan, were present with the police during the incident. Abdul Qadir is seeking the registration of a case and legal action against the involved officers.

The Path to Peace Must Prevail

The escalation of violence between Iran and Israel has brought the Middle East to the edge of a catastrophic regional conflict. Missiles flying across borders, lives lost, and the intensifying rhetoric from both sides have only heightened the danger of a wider war. It is imperative to recognize that this dangerous cycle of aggression and retaliation cannot be the solution to the deep-rooted issues plaguing the region. Violence only breeds more violence, leading to further devastation and suffering for countless civilians.

Dialogue, no matter how difficult, remains the only viable path to lasting peace. The international community must step forward, not to fan the flames of conflict by supporting one side against the other, but to bring the parties to the negotiating table. Israel's actions, including assassinations of key figures and bombings, may be seen as strategic moves, but they ultimately undermine any possibility of reconciliation. Similarly, Iran's missile strikes, justified or not, only exacerbate tensions, risking a full-scale war that could engulf the entire region.

Both sides must show restraint and take meaningful steps towards de-escalation. Global powers, especially the United States and the United Kingdom, have a responsibility to temper their support and instead encourage genuine diplomatic efforts. The cost of war is too high, and without peaceful dialogue, this conflict threatens to spiral beyond control. Now is the time for calm heads and constructive conversations, not more violence and inflammatory rhetoric. Only through diplomacy can peace be achieved and stability restored in the region.

Sujawal growers protest against decrease in rate of paddy crops

By Kamran Hidayat

SUJAWAL: Farmers in Sujawal district staged protests against traders for reducing the prices of paddy. The protests took place at both the barrage mori and the DC office, where farmers expressed their dissatisfaction with the low prices they were receiving.

Demonstrators blocked the main Karachi-Badin highway near Barrage Mori, causing long traffic jams. Simultaneously, farmers marched from Public Park Sujawal to the DC office, demanding action.

Leaders such as Abdul Ghafoor Palipoto, Hussain Azad Memon, Ayaz Laghari, and others highlighted that as paddy crops were coming to market, traders were artificially lowering prices, causing significant distress among farmers.

They criticized the district administration for being helpless against the trading mafia and demanded that the government set price for paddy to be established to protect farmers from economic hardship.

JUL-F district leader Fazlullah Fayaz also participated in the protests. The administration eventually negotiated with the farmers to end the demonstration.

PCB awards international broadcast rights, reveals star commentary team for Pak Vs Eng Test series

LAHORE: The Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) has announced a stellar commentary team for the series, which begins on 7 October at Multan Cricket Stadium. Former England captains David Gower, Michael Atherton, and Nasser Hussain will return as commentators, having previously covered Pakistan's Test series against England in December 2022.

In addition to the broadcast, the PCB has announced a stellar commentary team for the series, which begins on 7 October at Multan Cricket Stadium. Former England captains David Gower, Michael Atherton, and Nasser Hussain will return as commentators, having previously covered Pakistan's Test series against England in December 2022.

They will be joined by fellow English commentator Ian Ward. On the Pakistani side, former captains Aamir Sohail and Kamiz Raja, Test cricketer Bazid Khan, and former Pakistan women's captain Urooj Mumtaz will provide expert analysis. Zainab Abbas will serve as the presenter for the series.—Agency

Stepping away from captaincy will be beneficial for Babar Azam, says Younis Khan

LAHORE: Former Pakistan skipper Younis Khan has endorsed ex-captain Babar Azam's decision to resign from captaincy, stating that it will be "beneficial" for him.

The veteran cricketer has also proposed the names of wicketkeeper-batter Mohammad Rizwan and left-hand batter Fakhar Zaman as new contenders for the post.

"In our culture, we often make the biggest player the captain, which I believe is a mistake," said Younis, adding that Rizwan or Zaman should be considered for the role.

Babar, on Tuesday, announced that he was stepping down from white-ball captaincy, saying that it was time for him to focus on his playing role and personal growth.

The Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) had reappointed him as the national team's captain for T20I and one-day internationals (ODIs) on March 31. He had earlier ended his years-long stint as skipper in November 2023 after he stepped down as captain of the national side.

The former batter's remarks came during his visit to the Adelaide Oval earlier today where he was honored with the official South Australia Redbacks cap by Mark Cosgrove, former Australian cricketer and current High-Performance Coach of the South Australian Cricket Association (SACA).

The legendary batter, who arrived in Australia this morning, represented the Redbacks during the 2008-2009 season.

During a media briefing at the iconic venue, Younis expressed optimism about Pakistan's chances in Australia, acknowledging the presence of young talent in the current white ball squad but also pointing to issues with team selection.

"I hope the Pakistan men's cricket team performs well in Australia. The current squad includes young players, and there are certainly some issues with team selection that need to be addressed," the veteran cricketer stated.

"I have played cricket with Jason Gillespie, he is working hard to improve the Pakistan team. However, there needs to be better decision-making when it comes to selection," he added. Younis is also set to take part in the upcoming Australian Summer Cricket Festival, scheduled for October 5 in Melbourne.—Agency

Pakistan to host South Asian Cross Country Athletics Championship next month

KARACHI: Pakistan will host the South Asian Cross Country Athletics Championship for the first time, with the event scheduled to take place on November 24 in Islamabad, officials confirmed.

The championship, a major milestone for athletics in Pakistan, will feature athletes from seven South Asian nations, including India, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Nepal, Sri Lanka, and the Maldives.

The Athletics Federation of Pakistan (AFP) confirmed that the government has granted clearance to all participating teams, including India's, ensuring a smooth process for international participation.

"This is a significant event for Pakistan's sporting landscape," an AFP official said, adding that the Pakistan Sports Board has also issued the necessary no objection certificate (NOC) for the event. Cross country running is a long-distance sport where individuals and teams compete over natural terrain. The courses typically range from 3 to 12 kilometers and often feature varied surfaces, including grass, dirt, and gravel, along with natural obstacles like hills and woodlands. Athletes are evaluated both on their individual performance and through a team-based points system.—Agency

Stuart Broad backs England's 'Bazball' style for triumph against Pakistan

MULTAN: England's former bowler Stuart Broad said that his national team's aggressive approach, famously known as the 'Bazball' style, will help when they face spin-friendly conditions in Pakistan during their Test series this month.

England returned to Pakistan for a red-ball series after defeating the hosts 3-0 in Tests in 2022 when Harry Brook scored three centuries and spinners thrived.

The three-Test series against Pakistan, as part of the ICC World Test Championship 2023-25, will begin in Multan on October 7.

The 38-year-old former cricketer said England have got the players to deal with spin in Pakistan but will have to play with their ultra-aggressive style to get positive results, Reuters reported.

"I think the style will work in Pakistan, for sure," Broad said, during an interview, ahead of the launch of Inside Lord's, Marylebone Cricket Club's (MCC) new digital platform.

"I think they're really positive and aggressive, they can find the boundary and don't get tied down by spin. England will have to play fast-paced cricket to force results over there because you generally do need five days to make something happen."

England's fast-bowling unit, led by Chris Woakes and including Matthew Potts, Olly Stone, Gus Atkinson and Brydon Carse, will be without experienced Mark Wood, who has an elbow injury, and skipper Ben Stokes, who is not yet fit to bowl.

Broad said Pakistan, who were defeated 2-0 at home by Bangladesh last month, would be looking to take advantage of England's inexperienced fast bowling lineup, but the visitors must capitalise on the hosts' underwhelming form.

"Pakistan have not been playing the best cricket. They've been struggling, so England should see that as a positive and go there trying to apply pressure to that team as soon as they possibly can," Broad said.—Agency

Bowlers give Bangladesh triumphant start to Women's T20 World Cup 2024

SHARJAH: Sobhana Mostary's anchoring 36-run knock, followed by a combined bowling effort led Bangladesh to edge past Scotland in the opening match of the ICC Women's T20 World Cup 2024.

Set to chase 120, Scotland's batting unit struggled against a disciplined Bangladesh bowling attack and could accumulate 103/7 in the allotted 20 overs despite Sarah Bryce's unbeaten 49-run knock.

Bryce lamented subtle support from the other end as none of her teammates could put up a fight against Bangladesh's bowling with only Kathryn Bryce and Ailsa Lister, 11 each, managing to amass double figures.

The wicketkeeper batter remained stranded on an unbeaten 49 off 52 deliveries with the help of a boundary.

Ritu Moni led the bowling charge for Sri Lanka with two wickets, while Rabeya Khan, Fahima Khatun, Nahida Akter and Marufa Akter shared four wickets between them.

Bangladesh opted to bat first but failed to get the desired start as Murshida Khatun departed after scoring 12 runs in the fifth over.

Shathi Rani and Sobhana Mostary then stitched a 42-run partnership for the second wicket to push the team's total to 68. Katherine Fraser provided the breakthrough when she dismissed Rani, who scored 29 off 32.

Meanwhile, Mostary fell prey to Olivia Bell, after top-scoring for Bangladesh with a scratchy 36-run knock from 38 balls.

Horley further dented Bangladesh's progress with a double-wicket over, dismissing Shorna Akter (5) and Ritu Moni (5).

Skipper Nigar Sultana (18) and Fahima Khatun helped push the total to 118 before the former also fell to Horley off the penultimate ball of the innings. Fahima Khatun remained unbeaten on 10 as Bangladesh managed 119-7 in their allocated 20 overs.—Agency

Leg-Spinner Usman Qadir bids farewell to Pakistan cricket

LAHORE: Pakistan's leg-spinner Usman Qadir has announced his retirement from international cricket, marking the end of a career that saw him represent his country in 25 T20 Internationals and one ODI. The 31-year-old cricketer shared the news via a heartfelt post on X (formerly known as Twitter), expressing gratitude for the opportunity to represent Pakistan.

Qadir, the son of legendary leg-spinner Abdul Qadir, reflected on his journey, thanking his coaches, teammates, and the fans who supported him throughout his career.

"It has been an immense honour to represent my country," Qadir wrote. "I'm thankful for the support of my coaches and teammates who have been with me every step of the way."

Despite his accomplishments, Qadir also faced challenges, including frustrations over his exclusion from the national team.

In May 2024, he voiced concerns about former PCB technical director Mohammad Hafeez, alleging that Hafeez influenced his absence from the squad.

Qadir has vowed to continue his father's legacy as he steps away from Pakistan cricket. "As I step into this new chapter, I will be continuing my dad's legacy, embracing both my love for cricket and the lessons he instilled in me," Qadir stated.

Usman Qadir concluded his international career with 29 wickets and an economy rate of 7.95 in T20Is. He last represented Pakistan in 2022 and had since been playing for the Dolphins in the Champions One-Day Cup.—Agency

Women's T20 World Cup: ICC launches AI tool to help players avoid 'toxic content'

DUBAI: The International Cricket Council (ICC) has launched a new AI tool as part of the social media moderation programme for the Women's T20 World Cup to help protect the players from harmful content.

The move will help the women cricketers avoid hate speech, harassment and misogyny during the mega event.

The cricketing body released a statement on the opening day of the T20 World Cup 2024 saying that the software will "promote a more positive and inclusive online experience for teams and players."

As per the statement issued by ICC, 60 of the cricketers participating in the event have already opted for the programme.

ICC has collaborated with GoBubble to provide a combination of AI and human resources to monitor comments on ICC's social media handles and the 60 players who have signed up for the initiative.

"The cutting-edge technology is designed to identify and hide from public view toxic content such as hate speech, harassment, and misogyny, helping to create a safer and more welcoming space for fans to engage with the World Cup," the ICC release said.

"We are dedicated to fostering a positive and inclusive environment for all participants and fans of the ICC Women's T20 World Cup, it's been great to see so many of the players and teams embrace our new initiative," ICC head of digital, Finn Bradshaw said.

The women cricketers are overjoyed with this initiative with South African wicketkeeper-batter Sinalo Jaftha saying that this kind of protection is "very big."

"For me with social media protection I think it takes a lot of weight off players, especially at World Cup campaigns as that is the worst of it," the Proteas keeper was quoted saying in the ICC release.

"There is nothing worse than opening up your phone after a loss - or after a victory - and regardless of what side you find yourself there is always some degrading content about your personality," she added.—Agency

Jennifer Aniston breaks silence on bizarre rumour about her late therapist

Jennifer Aniston has addressed strange rumour about her late therapist.

During her appearance on Jimmy Kimmel Live, Aniston talked about bizarre piece of gossip surrounding her late therapist's ashes.

Kimmel questioned Aniston, "You have a zip-lock bag filled with your dead therapist's ashes?" adding, "That was a little bit true, right?"

Aniston, famed for her role as Rachel Green in hit show Friends, admitted, "It's a little true."

She hilariously added, "I'm going to sound like I really need a therapist after this."

Previously in an interview with GQ in 2012, Aniston talked about her late therapist saying she had been a mother figure to her.

The Good Girl actress revealed that after the therapist's passing, attendees at the funeral were given small bags of her ashes. "They split her up into little Ziploc bags they handed out like party favors," she told the magazine.

Additionally, Aniston also confirmed other rumours including that she once received a salmon sperm facial.

She said to Kimmel, "I just took the woman's word for it. Don't have beautiful salmon skin?"

Selena Gomez 'makes every dream come true' with Benny Blanco

Selena Gomez is reportedly happier than ever after meeting the love of her life, Benny Blanco.

Recently, an insider shared with Life & Style that the Emilia Perez actress is living the life of her dreams alongside new beau, Benny Blanco, who is reportedly really "supportive" of her.

"Life is good for Selena. She's telling friends she has everything she could ever hope for and more," they also claimed.

Moreover, the source didn't fail to admit that it was her mother's constant support which allowed Selena to make her dream come true.

Through multiple jobs and sacrifices, her mother, who was also an aspiring actress, "made sure Selena got an education."

Her mother set an example for Selena, and her work ethic "taught her to work hard and follow her dreams," the source remarked in conclusion.

This report comes after claims that the songstress is planning a child with Benny Blanco despite the fact that she cannot carry one on her own.

"While the thought of not being able to give birth on her own still hurts at times, she's moving on," the source dished earlier.

Selena and Benny have definitely talked about both adoption and surrogacy. They might have even started at least one of the processes already," the source concluded. "They would have no problem welcoming a child before tying the knot."

Italian Consulate In Karachi Celebrates Italian Language Week With Puppetry Performance For Children

KARACHI: The Consulate of Italy in Karachi celebrated "Italian Language Week 2024" by hosting a special puppetry performance by Italian artist Pamela Mastroianni. The event, organized in collaboration with Paramount Books Pvt. Ltd. and sponsored by Gerry's Group, took place at Habitat City, with Turkish Airlines serving as the travel partner for the celebration.

The initiative aimed to introduce young students to the beauty of the Italian language and culture, fostering an appreciation for Italy's rich heritage. Italian, spoken by approximately 85 million people worldwide, is one of the most studied languages for culture and tourism. Consul General Danilo Giurdanella warmly welcomed students and teachers from various schools, encouraging them to explore Italy's language and culture. The children were entertained by puppet artists Pamela Mastroianni and Franck Le Lay, who captivated the audience with their interactive performance. The event also included a delightful breakfast for the children, adding to the festive atmosphere. As part of the celebration, the Consulate distributed special editions of "A Thousand Wonders" by Gerónimo Stilton, a beloved children's character. The book takes readers on a journey through Italy, showcasing the country's rich cultural, historical, and traditional treasures. Italian Language Week, scheduled for October 2024, will be celebrated globally by Italian diplomatic and cultural missions. This year's theme, "Italian and the Book: The World Between the Lines," will focus on the connection between language and literature, emphasizing the importance of books in preserving Italian cultural heritage and identity.—RT

Turkish Consulate Hosts Event Honoring Hassan Ali Effendi's Legacy And Pakistan-Türkiye Relations

KARACHI: The Turkish Consulate General in Karachi, in collaboration with the Yunus Emre Institute, organized a special event titled "Love for Türkiye in the Context of Hassan Ali Effendi." The gathering celebrated the contributions of Hassan Ali Effendi, the first Consul General of the Ottoman Empire in Sindh and the founder of Sindh Madressatul Islam University (SMIU), highlighting his role in modern education and fostering cultural ties between Pakistan and Türkiye.

The event commenced with a recitation from the Holy Quran, followed by a welcome address from Mr. Cemal Sangu, Consul General of Türkiye in Karachi. He praised Effendi's efforts in strengthening educational and cultural exchanges between the two nations. Prominent scholars enriched the event with their speeches. Prof. Dr. Hail Tokar from Istanbul University discussed the historical ties between Türkiye and Pakistan, offering insights from his book "Journey of Friendship and Brotherhood." He traced Turkish roots in the subcontinent, even before the Mughal Empire, revealing centuries-old graves as evidence of early Turkish presence.

Dr. Fatima Hassan, a lecturer, author, and poet, explored the literary and historical significance of Pakistan-Türkiye brotherhood. He also announced the upcoming English translation of biographies on Effendi, which will help introduce his legacy to a global audience. The keynote address was delivered by Prof. Dr. Muhammad Ali Shaikh, former Vice Chancellor of SMIU, who highlighted Effendi's role in building ties between Sindh and Türkiye. He shared personal stories, including his meeting with Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan, where Effendi's contributions were recognized and honored.

The event concluded with a speech from Dr. Shaista Effendi, Hassan Ali Effendi's grandchild, who expressed her gratitude to the Turkish Consulate for acknowledging her grandfather's legacy and staying connected with the Effendi family. Participants enjoyed high tea, further engaging in discussions about the rich historical and cultural relationship between Pakistan and Türkiye. This event was a tribute to Hassan Ali Effendi's lasting contributions and reinforced the enduring bond between the two nations.—RT

He emphasized that their doors remain open for public service. Other town members were also present at the meeting.

Positive Outlook For Pakistan's Ghee Exports As Local Companies Eye UAE And African Markets

KARACHI: Encouraging developments are underway for Pakistan's export sector, with local companies gearing up to export ghee to the United Arab Emirates and African countries. During a media briefing on Thursday, Sheikh Umar Rehman, Chairman of the Pakistan Vanaspathi Manufacturers Association, announced that a delegation will soon meet with Federal Finance Minister Muhammad Aurangzeb to discuss export opportunities.

Currently, Pakistan exports ghee to Afghanistan via road, with sea exports restricted. Rehman highlighted the need to lift these restrictions, stressing that the local ghee industry could significantly boost foreign exchange earnings if given the opportunity. A major challenge facing the ghee industry is the sales tax under section 8-B, with over 100 billion rupees stuck with the government, according to Rehman. He noted that Pakistan has 148 ghee manufacturing companies, but only 100 mills are needed to meet domestic demand. He called on the Ministry of Industry to implement regulations for establishing new ghee factories, similar to those in place for the sugar industry.

Sindh Food Authority Intensifies Inspections Of Water Plants Following Sindh High Court Directive

KARACHI: Following directives from the Sindh High Court, the Sindh Food Authority (SFA) re-examined licenses of water plants across the province, ensuring compliance with water testing standards set by the World Health Organization (WHO). The SFA launched a comprehensive campaign, physically inspecting 463 food business units and Reverse Osmosis (RO) plants involved in producing and supplying bottled and filtered water to the public.

The inspection campaign began by visiting 13 units were discovered operating in unsafe and unhygienic conditions, and their production was suspended immediately to protect public health. Improvement notices were issued to 238 units, giving them 14 days to address safety and quality concerns identified by the SFA teams. So far, sample results from 82 plants were deemed satisfactory and safe for human consumption, while 62 were found unfit, leading to the suspension of their production and legal action. Additionally, 52 unlisted RO plants were visited, and those failing to meet standards were temporarily sealed. The Director General of the SFA, Muzamil Hussain Halepot, presented the findings to the Sindh High Court, which praised the SFA's efforts and urged the authority to expedite its work to ensure the public receives safe drinking water.—RT

Prime Ministers Of Pakistan And Malaysia Reaffirm Commitment To Strengthen Partnership

ISLAMABAD: Pakistan and Malaysia on Thursday agreed to enhance bilateral cooperation across multiple sectors, including trade, investment, defence, and agriculture. Both countries also reiterated their strong positions on regional issues such as Gaza and Kashmir.

Following a one-on-one meeting and delegation-level talks, the two prime ministers held a joint press conference, highlighting their commitment to strengthening collaboration in areas of mutual interest and addressing regional and international matters.

As part of their efforts to boost bilateral trade, both leaders announced that Pakistan would export halal meat worth $200 million annually, along with 100,000 metric tonnes of Basmati rice to Malaysia.

The total trade volume between Malaysia and Pakistan currently stands at $1.4 billion, encompassing products such as palm oil, textiles, chemicals, electronics, and apparel. Pakistan is Malaysia's third-largest trading partner in South Asia.

Prime Minister Shehbaz expressed confidence in the quality of Pakistan's exports. He assured that Pakistan would uphold the highest standards for its products. Malaysian PM Anwar Ibrahim assured Pakistan that any discrepancies in the import of Pakistani rice would be addressed.

PM Shehbaz described their meeting as "wonderful," noting that they discussed enhancing trade and investment, as well as exploring further cooperation in defence, tourism, agriculture, green energy, skilled labour, and youth empowerment.

He stressed both countries' commitment to elevating trade and investment cooperation to new heights, envisioning a bright future for the two nations.

On defence and security cooperation, he expressed Pakistan's readiness to further strengthen ties. He also highlighted the role of the thousands of Pakistani students currently studying in Malaysia in fostering closer people-to-people connections.

Shehbaz also praised Malaysia's development, suggesting it as a model for other Muslim countries due to its success in attracting foreign direct investment and boosting exports.

He stated that both leaders discussed the tragic situation in Gaza, condemning the ongoing Israeli aggression.

He called for an immediate ceasefire, describing the situation as "heart-wrenching" and "heart-breaking."

Regarding Kashmir, he reiterated Pakistan's stance, condemning the denial of Kashmiris' right to self-determination despite decades of sacrifices. He expressed hope that Kashmiris would soon attain their rights in accordance with the UN Security Council resolutions and their aspirations.

PM Ibrahim stated that both countries had reached significant agreements, with follow-up discussions planned at the upcoming joint commission meeting in Kuala Lumpur to ensure swift implementation. He announced the opening of a Malaysian trade office in Karachi to bolster economic cooperation. He also expressed Malaysia's interest in hiring more skilled labour, particularly in sectors like IT, artificial intelligence, and semiconductors, identifying Pakistan as a potential source of this talent. Additionally, he confirmed Malaysia's commitment to importing 100,000 tonnes of Basmati rice from Pakistan. He praised PM Shehbaz's address at the UN General Assembly for effectively advocating for Gaza and commending Pakistan's firm stance against Israel's aggression. He further remarked that the current violence in Gaza and Lebanon was not simply a conflict between two nations but a violation of international norms, criticising the global community's inaction.

Reaffirming Malaysia's support for a peaceful resolution of the Kashmir issue, PM Ibrahim reiterated Malaysia's commitment to the UN Security Council resolutions. The two leaders witnessed the signing of several Memorandums of Understanding (MoUs) and a Letter of Cooperation. These agreements included an MoU between the Trade Development Authority of Pakistan (TDAP) and the Malaysia External Trade Development Corporation (MATRADE) on trade cooperation, an MoU between the Pakistan-Malaysia Business Council (PMBC) and the Malaysia-Pakistan Business Council (MPBC) for cooperation in halal trade, a Letter of Cooperation between the Pakistan Telecommunication Authority (PTA) and the Malaysia Communications and Multimedia Commission (MCMC) was also signed.—RT/Agency

IMF Official States Bailout Could Be Last If Reforms Are Implemented Earnestly

ISLAMABAD: International Monetary Fund's mission director for Pakistan Nathan Porter has said that the recent bailout package secured by the country could be its last if the reforms suggested by the lender are sincerely implemented and its advice is acted upon in letter and spirit, media reported on Thursday.

Speaking to an American media outlet, Porter said that the IMF would ensure Islamabad retained a strong macro exchange rate and fiscal and monetary policies along with liberalising its economy enabling the private sector to contribute to the country's economic development.

The remarks come as the country, on September 25, secured the much-awaited approval of the Washington-based lender's Executive Board for the $7 billion Extended Fund Facility (EFF).

Ever since, Pakistan has received the first tranche of $1.03 billion (SDR 760 million) pushing the foreign exchange reserves, as per the publication, to $10.7 billion.

The incumbent government has, time and again, expressed that it wants the existing bailout programme to be the country's last.

Addressing the hurdles in Pakistan's economic progress and the Fund's role along with factors behind declining foreign investments, the IMF official elaborated on the country's 24th loan programme and said that the first review of the ongoing debt programme would start in December and probably by March or April it would be sent to the board.

The Pakistani government and some economic experts have stated that the IMF imposed strict conditions on the country for the current programme. Recently, Pakistani Finance Minister Muhammad Aurangzeb also stated that owing to the trust deficit, the IMF had put strict conditions on Islamabad for the debt programme.

Porter, however, disagreed with such claims. He said the IMF considered issues of the country whenever it came up with a programme for any country and recommended their solutions. He said the programme for Pakistan was devised in a similar manner and it was not very strict.

He recalled that when the IMF initiated its last programme, inflation was very high in Pakistan along with a high deficit in the current account. He said no economic progress was happening and the programme intended to stabilise the country's economy and be successful.

Regarding the Chinese loans to Pakistan, he said Beijing was a major Islamabad and was not different from its stance on the loans of other countries.

The lender has also called for steps for the country's agricultural sector, with reports saying that the IMF's recommendations include ending the support price system for food and subsidies on agriculture.

Commenting on this, the Fund's mission director explained that there was evidence that the support price benefited wealthy and big farmers but small farmers actually faced difficulties due to it.

He said such schemes resulted in a debt increase that was to be borne by the provinces and last year, the support price scheme actually caused an increase in the flour price.

To a question about the economic burden on the people of Pakistan as a result of adopting the IMF policies, the mission director said Pakistan needed to make its tax system effective and fair, for which steps had been taken in this year's budget.—RT/Agency

Aurangzeb Dismisses Immediate Changes To NFC Award In Centre-Provinces Fiscal Pact

ISLAMABAD: Finance Minister Muhammad Aurangzeb has said that there would be no immediate change in the National Finance Commission (NFC) regarding the financial agreement between the federal and provincial governments, media reported on Thursday.

"At the first stage, there will be no changes in the NFC Award at the moment but the fiscal space will be created through shifting provincial nature projects from the Public Sector Development Programme (PSDP) to the federating units from the PSDP and thereby improving governance through collaborative efforts."

"For instance, the Higher Education Commission (HEC) related spending will be shifted to the provinces. Benazir Income Support Programme (BISP) has not yet been taken as discussions are still underway," he said while talking to a select group of reporters after launching the Pakistan Economy Dashboard.

The statement follows the finance czar's earlier remarks regarding a "National Fiscal Pact" (NFP) aimed at addressing Pakistan's external financing gap through the harmonisation of provincial taxes and enhancement of revenue collection.

"We will sign the National Fiscal Pact with the provinces, which will help us address the external financing gap," he said last month.

The fiscal pact is aimed at creating a unified fiscal framework between the federal government and all four provinces, focusing on expanding tax revenues from the agriculture sector, growing provincial revenues and realigning federal expenditures.

Expanding on the matter, Aurangzeb said that the NFP would focus on three major areas, including raising tax revenues through close coordination such as slapping Agriculture Income Tax (AIT) by the provinces, devolving expenditures such as shifting provincial nature development projects to the federating units from the PSDP and thereby improving governance through collaborative efforts.

He mentioned that the stabilisation was achieved and now the focus will be on the growth path. He said debt management rejected bids for the provision of borrowing in recent weeks conveying a clear message that the government was no more a desperate borrower. The inflation, he said, had receded more than expected and the government was no more desperate for borrowing. The banks, he said, would have to go out to find out borrowing from the private sector, which is known as the engine of growth. There is not only the policy rate but it's the KIBOR (Karachi Inter-Bank Offered Rates) which plays an important role in increased borrowing for the private sector. The minister said there was a need to leverage hard-earned macro-economic stability for achieving economic growth on a sustained basis. "We will continue undertaking structural reforms for improving tax to GDP ratio," he said, adding that there was a need to avoid the populist approach.—RT/Agency

Naqvi Issues Warning Against Leniency Regarding PTI's Planned Protest In Islamabad

ISLAMABAD: Interior Minister Imran Khan Naqvi has warned of a strict action against those who launch an "onslaught on Islamabad" as the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) plans to stage a demonstration at the federal capital's famous D-Chowk area on Friday (tomorrow).

Amid its anti-government campaign, the former ruling party — founded by Imran Khan — is holding protests for the "independence" of the judiciary and the release of the former prime minister from jail. The protest will coincide with the final day of the upcoming Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) summit. The authorities have already enforced Section 144 and "the Peaceful Assembly and Public Order Act, 2024", regulating holding of public assemblies at certain places in Islamabad.

"The PTI's top leadership should review its protest call [...]. No one will be allowed for an onrush on Islamabad," the security czar said while addressing a presser along with officials of the federal police.

The interior minister said Section 144 was already in place in Islamabad, warning that the authorities were prepared to deal with any potential protests.

The foreign delegations including from China and Saudi Arabia would be arriving in the federal capital, the minister said adding that the upcoming SCO summit, scheduled for October 15 and 16 in Islamabad, is of utmost importance for the country.

"Paramilitary forces, army and Rangers have been called in. We have to ensure security in the [federal capital]," he added. Naqvi said the country's interest should be given priority over political goals, stating that any act that could tarnish the country's image should be avoided.—RT/Agency

Coalition Seeks Fazl's Support For Constitutional Amendments: Irfan Siddiqui

ISLAMABAD: Senior leader of the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) and Parliamentary Leader in the Senate, Irfan Siddiqui, has emphasised the need for JUI-F chief Maulana Fazlur Rehman's support, not just his votes, in the coalition's efforts to pass constitutional amendments.

Speaking to a private TV channel on Thursday, Siddiqui hailed the Supreme Court's recent decision on the review petition regarding Article 63-A, calling it a correction of a major mistake. "This decision doesn't give relief to the government or any party—it gives relief to the Constitution," he remarked.

Siddiqui criticised the previous ruling by former chief justice Umar Ata Bandial, Justices Ijazul Haque, and Muneeb Akhtar, claiming they had effectively rewritten the Constitution to favour one political party in Punjab. "They added an extra clause to ensure Chief Justice Pervaiz Elahi took the chair-minister's seat, instead of Hamza Shehbaz," he alleged.

He further warned of the dangers of judicial overreach, calling it "the most frightening form of dictatorship." Siddiqui said, "Unlike military or administrative authoritarianism, judicial dictatorship knows no bounds and uses justice as a weapon to cross all limits."

Siddiqui stressed the importance of Maulana Fazlur Rehman's involvement in ongoing negotiations between political parties, stating, "We need not only his votes but Maulana himself. Everything is happening in broad daylight, and media discussions show political parties are engaging in talks."

He expressed confidence that Fazlur Rehman would soon reach a decision and predicted that a parliamentary session would be convened within the next 10 days.

Commenting on the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf's (PTI) actions, Siddiqui drew parallels to the party's behaviour during the 2014 protests, suggesting that PTI's approach had not changed since the May 9 incidents. He criticised PTI's plans for unrest during the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) meeting, saying it was consistent with their past conduct.

Siddiqui also echoed Pakistan Peoples Party (PPP) Chairman Bilawal Bhutto-Zardari's concerns, stating that after October 25, passing constitutional amendments could become more difficult.

He recalled that on May 3, the Law Minister informed the Judicial Commission with full transparency about the government's intent to introduce a constitutional package. "If we wanted to do this in secrecy, we would have remained silent," Siddiqui added.

He claimed that certain judges became alarmed and acted out of fear, attempting to block the ruling coalition's two-thirds majority to prevent any amendments to the Constitution.—RT/Agency

IHC Rejects Petition Against CEC's Appointment

ISLAMABAD: The Islamabad High Court (IHC) on Thursday dismissed a petition challenging the appointment of Chief Election Commissioner Sikandar Sultan Raja declaring it non-maintainable.

IHC Chief Justice Aamer Farooq, who heard the case filed by PTI leader Akram Khan Bari, observed that Mr Raja had retired from government service before his appointment as CEC.

The petitioner claimed that Sikandar Sultan Raja was a serving bureaucrat when he was appointed against the key post.

Citing judicial verdicts, he pleaded that a serving bureaucrat could not be appointed against the instant post. Only a retired Grade-22 officer or the top court's serving or retired judges were eligible for the post, he added.

The chief justice asked the petitioner to satisfy the court as he had not attached any relevant material to prove his case.

The petitioner replied that he had taken information from the website of Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP). The ECP's lawyer on the occasion presented the retirement notification of Sikandar Sultan Raja before his appointment as CEC.

Mr Raja was appointed as Chief Election Commissioner on January 24, 2020 while he retired from service in November, 2019, he said. After hearing arguments, the court reserved the verdict and later nullified the case.—RT/Agency

Bushra Bibi Seeks Bail In Toshakhana-II Case Through IHC Petition

ISLAMABAD: Imran Khan's spouse Bushra Bibi has moved Islamabad High Court (IHC) for post-arrest bail in Toshakhana-II case.

The spouse of PTI founder Imran Khan challenged the court verdict rejecting her bail plea in Islamabad High Court.

Bushra Bibi filed the plea through her counsel Khalid Yousef Chaudhry, requesting the court to approve the post-arrest bail plea. The application mentioned that the arrest of the leader was unfair with false allegations and blackmailing witnesses to record statements against her in the Toshakhana case. It was added that the case based on mal-intent and FIA had violated law. It is pertinent to note that a special judge central Islamabad rejected the post-arrest bail pleas of former prime minister Imran Khan and Bushra Bibi in Toshakhana-II case on Toshakhana-II case.—RT/Agency

PIA Privatization: Bidders Urge Swift Action Against Employees

ISLAMABAD: As the government proceeds with the privatization of Pakistan International Airlines (PIA), new conditions from potential buyers have emerged related to airline's employees, media reported.

During a Senate Privatization Committee meeting chaired by Senator Talal Chaudhry, it was revealed that companies interested in acquiring PIA are requesting significant changes.

Key among the new demands is the immediate dismissal of all employees, alongside the acquisition of 76 per cent of PIA's shares, with the government responsible for clearing tax payments.

The bidders also requested an extension on the date for completing due diligence, indicating that the privatization process could be delayed.

The Privatization Commission sought to negotiate terms that would protect employees from layoffs for at least two to three years.

However, the bidders have reportedly refused to commit to this, expressing reluctance to retain employees or cover pension obligations.

Despite four pre-bid meetings, there is still uncertainty over taxes and the future of PIA's workforce.

The privatization process, now set for October 31, has drawn criticism for the lack of a clear plan to safeguard employees.

Chairman Talal Chaudhry expressed concern over the impact of the delays on PIA's reputation, while the Privatization Commission acknowledged that negotiations with the bidders are underway.

The outcome could see the sale of up to 76 per cent of PIA's shares, depending on the final agreements reached.

Mohsin Aziz criticized the Privatization Commission, stating that it has not achieved anything significant in the past 12 years, aside from the privatization of a few banks.—RT/Agency
