The package was announced during a meeting with the delegation of the business community and experts from the industrial and agricultural sectors in Islamabad today.

Pakistan, 14 Nations Condemn Israel's West Bank Sovereignty Moves

ISLAMABAD: Pakistan, in a joint statement with 14 other nations, condemned Tel Aviv's attempt to impose "Israeli sovereignty" over the occupied West Bank, after the Israeli parliament passed bills on annexing the West Bank, the Foreign Office (FO) said on Thursday.

On Wednesday, Israeli lawmakers voted to advance two bills on annexing the occupied West Bank, barely a week after US President Donald Trump pushed through a deal aimed at ending Israel's two-year military offensive in the Gaza Strip.

Trump has warned that Israel would lose its crucial backing from the United States if it annexes the occupied West Bank.

In a statement issued today, the FO condemned "in strongest terms the approval of the Israeli Knesset of two draft laws aiming to impose a so-called 'Israeli sovereignty' over the occupied West Bank", calling it a "blatant" violation of international law.The joint statement was signed by 14 countries, including Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Qatar, and Turkiye.

The FO noted that the move violated the "United Nations Security Council resolutions, particularly Resolution 2334, which condemns all Israeli measures aimed at altering the demographic composition, character, and status of the occupied Palestinian territory since 1967, including East Jerusalem".—RT/Agency

Trump Warns Of Withdrawing US Support If Israel Annexes West Bank

US: President Donald Trump said Israel would lose its crucial backing from the United States if it annexes the occupied West Bank, in a Time magazine interview published on Thursday.

Trump's comments, which Time said were made by telephone on October 15, were published as both Vice President JD Vance and Secretary of State Marco Rubio warned against any annexation."It won't happen. It won't happen because I gave my word to the Arab countries. And you can't do that now. We've had great Arab support," Trump said when asked what the consequences would be for Israel if it did so."Israel would lose all of its support from the United States if that happened."Trump also told Time that he believed Saudi Arabia would join the Abraham Accords, which normalise relations between Israel and Arab states, by the end of the year.

"Yes, I do. I do," he said when asked if he thought Riyadh would join in that timeframe."See they had a problem. They had a Gaza problem and they had an Iran problem.

Now they don't have those two problems," he said, referring to Israel's military onslaught in Gaza and Iran's nuclear programme, which US airstrikes targeted earlier this year.—RT/Agency

Israel's Annexation Threatens Peace Deal, Rubio Warns

WASHINGTON: US Secretary of State Marco Rubio on Wednesday warned Israel against annexing the West Bank, saying steps taken by parliament and settler violence threatened a Gaza peace deal.

Israeli lawmakers voted Wednesday to advance two bills on annexing the occupied West Bank, barely a week after President Donald Trump pushed through a deal aimed at ending a two-year Israeli offensive in the Gaza Strip that was retaliation for a Hamas attack.

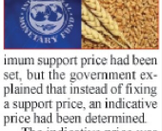

"I think the president's made clear that's not something we can be supportive of right now," Rubio said of annexation as he boarded his plane for a visit to Israel.

Annexation moves are "threatening for the peace deal," he told reporters.

"They're a democracy, they're going to have their votes, and people are going to take these positions," he said.

"But at this time, it's something that we…think might be counterproductive," Rubio said.—RT/Agency

Govt Addresses IMF Concerns On Wheat Price Policy

ISLAMABAD: The government has resolved the International Monetary Fund's (IMF) reservations regarding the wheat support price, sources said.

According to sources, the IMF had raised objections to the fixation of a minimum support price in the wheat policy. After the policy's approval, the IMF informed the Ministry of National Food Security through an official letter.

The international lender also sought details of the wheat policy's framework from the ministry, the sources added. In its response, the ministry clarified that no support price had been fixed and that the matter had been misunderstood.

Sources in the Ministry of National Food Security said the IMF believed that a minimum support price had been set, but the government explained that instead of fixing a support price, an indicative price had been determined.

The indicative price was calculated by referring to the international price of the United States' hard red wheat, which stands at 238 dollars per tonne.

Sources said the indicative price was worked out after including landing costs in Karachi and transportation expenses from Karachi to Multan. After these calculations, the estimated price was determined at Rs3,500 per maund.—RT/Agency

Govt May Shift Imran Khan To Bani Gala If PTI Applies, Says Minister Dr Tariq Fazal

ISLAMABAD: In a goodwill gesture, Minister for Parliamentary Affairs Dr Tariq Fazal Chaudhry on Wednesday offered to shift Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf's (PTI) incarcerated leader Imran Khan from Adiala Jail to his residence in Bani Gala, provided an application is filed.

"We will definitely shift him, and he may meet people, play ludo, or whatever he wants to do. We want the PTI founder to meet political people," he maintained.

Chaudhry added that first-class exercise machines had been provided to the jailed former prime minister.

However, former senator and vice-chairman of the Tehreek Tahafuz Aiyeen-e-Pakistan, Mustafa Nawaz Khokhar, on a TV show reacted to the minister's offer by stating that neither the federal nor the Punjab government has the authority to do so.

He claimed that even if Ahmad Awais (a PTI lawyer also on the show) were to write an application on the party's behalf, the minister would simply fax it to Rawalpindi. To this, the minister quipped, "Where else should the application go, as Adiala Jail is in Rawalpindi?"—RT/Agency

Seoul Rejects Claims Linking ID Outage to Chinese Visa-Free Entry

By SHIM Kyu-Seok

SEOL: South Korea's interior ministry has denied claims that a fire-related outage of the national ID database allowed Chinese tourists to bypass verification rules during their visa-free entry period. Public Data Director Bae Il-gwon said access to the database was restored on September 29, the same day the visa-free program for Chinese group tourists began. "There are no problems now. The system was restored on the 29th," he told AFP, adding that stores continued identity checks manually and completed verification later. The outage followed a September 26 fire at the National Information Resources Service (NIRS) in Daejeon, which briefly disrupted government data systems. However, officials from the Ministry of Science and ICT confirmed that the legal requirement to verify subscribers' identities remained in force. Telecom firms SK Telecom, KT, and LG U+ said they temporarily used an "activate first, verify later" system, and most accounts were later confirmed as legitimate. Authorities emphasized that tourists cannot open mobile phone accounts without an Alien Registration Card, though prepaid SIM cards are allowed. The government and telecoms have dismissed social media claims that the outage enabled "burner phones" for visa-free Chinese tourists as false and misleading.

Enough is Enough: Israel's Annexation Gambit Must Be Stopped

Israel's relentless push to annex the West Bank is a flagrant affront to international law and a dagger aimed at the fragile heart of Middle East peace. Every time there is a glimmer of hope—a ceasefire, a peace plan, or regional normalisation—Israel acts to undermine it, prioritizing territorial ambition over justice and stability. The recent preliminary approval of a bill to extend Israeli law over the occupied West Bank, despite global condemnation, is nothing short of a political provocation.

The United States, Israel's most powerful ally, now faces a crucial test. President Trump has clearly warned that annexation would cost Israel its vital US support, a stance echoed by Vice President JD Vance and Secretary of State Marco Rubio. This is not a mere suggestion; it is a moral and strategic imperative. Every delay, every equivocation, emboldens extremist elements in Israel and jeopardizes the precarious peace achieved in Gaza after years of brutal conflict.

The international community, led by Washington, must act decisively. Annexation is not a domestic matter; it threatens millions of Palestinians, destabilizes the region, and undermines every sincere effort toward reconciliation. Saudi Arabia, Indonesia, Turkey, and 13 other Muslim-majority nations have rightly condemned this move, and the United States must now transform words into action.The world cannot allow history to repeat itself. Israel's settlement expansion and annexation schemes are the mother of all illegalities, a blatant attempt to rewrite borders with impunity. Enough is enough. The United States and its allies must put Israel firmly in its place, enforce international law, and safeguard the dream of a viable Palestinian state. Peace is not optional—it is overdue, and it cannot survive while annexation remains on the table.This is a defining moment: either the world stands up to lawless ambition, or it resigns itself to a Middle East where hope is perpetually sabotaged.

South Africa Crush Pakistan in Pindi Test to Level Series in Style

South Africa beat Pakistan by eight wickets in the second Test at the Rawalpindi Cricket Stadium on Thursday to level a two-match series 1-1.

Chasing a meager 68-run target, the visitors got over the line with eight wickets to spare. Captain Aiden Markram made 42 before being dismissed by Noman Ali, who also removed Tristan Stubbs (0) in the same over.

Resuming Day 4 on 94-4, Pakistan's batters folded, adding just 44 runs. Off-spinner Simon Harmer took six wickets to help dismiss Pakistan for 138. The 36-year-old finished with 6-50 for a maiden five-wicket haul — also completing 1,000 first-class wickets — on a deteriorating Rawalpindi stadium pitch.

Harmer jolted Pakistan's hopes of saving the Test when he trapped Babar Azam leg-before with the fifth ball of the day after the batsman had reached his 30th Test half-century.

Pakistan's hopes had rested on Azam ending his century drought, having not scored a ton since December 2022.

Nine runs later, Harmer had Mohammad Rizwan caught by close-in fielder Tony de Zorzi for 18.

In his next over, the spinner dismissed Noman for nought, caught behind for Harmer's 1,000th wicket in his 235th first-class match. Shaheen Shah Afridi was run out without scoring, while Keshav Maharaj dismissed Salman Agha for 28 and Sajid Khan for 13 to swiftly wrap up the innings.—Agency

Bellingham Magic Seals Real Madrid's Narrow Win Over Juventus

Jude Bellingham's goal helped record 15-time winners Real Madrid maintain their 100 percent start to the Champions League with a 1-0 victory over Juventus on Wednesday.

Xabi Alonso's Spanish giants mostly outplayed their visitors but could not extend their lead after England international Bellingham netted from close range in the second half.

Italian heavyweights Juventus, now without a win in seven games across all competitions, fought hard but failed to find an equaliser at the Santiago Bernabeu.

Madrid's solid win was ideal preparation for Sunday's Clasico against rivals Barcelona in La Liga and left them as one of five sides to win all three of their opening league phase matches, including holders Paris Saint-Germain.

"It was a very tough game with chances at both ends and we had to sweat for it, but it was an important win against a big team," Madrid goalkeeper Thibaut Courtois told Movistar, after making his 300th appearance for the club.—Agency

Babar Azam Returns as Pakistan Announce Squads for Home White-Ball Series

LAHORE: Former captain Babar Azam has made a comeback to Pakistan's T20I squad as the Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) on Thursday announced squads for the upcoming white-ball home series with South Africa, Sri Lanka and Zimbabwe.

Babar last represented the national side in T20Is against South Africa in Centurion in December 2024 and had been sidelined for the series against Bangladesh, West Indies, and the Asia Cup 2025.

A 15-member squad has been named for the T20I series against South Africa and the subsequent tri-nation event, while a 16-member lineup has been selected for the ODIs against South Africa and Sri Lanka.

Meanwhile, Salman Ali Agha has been retained as the T20I captain, and Shaheen Shah Afridi will lead the national team in ODIs for the first time. In the T20I squad, Abdul Samad and Naseem Shah also made their return, while Usman Tariq earned his maiden call-up.

For the ODIs, Faisal Akram, Haris Rauf, and Haseebullah have been recalled to the national setup.

The three-match T20I series between Pakistan and South Africa will be held in Rawalpindi and Lahore from 28 October to 1 November, followed by a three-match ODI series in Faisalabad from 4 to 8 November.

Pakistan will then host Sri Lanka for another ODI series in Rawalpindi from November 11 to 15, before turning their attention to the T20I tri-series (Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Zimbabwe) from November 17 to 29 .

Pakistan T20I squad (15-member):

Salman Ali Agha (captain), Abdul Samad, Abrar Ahmed, Babar Azam, Faheem Ashraf, Hasan Nawaz, Mohammad Nawaz, Mohammad Wasim Jnr, Mohammad Salman Mirza, Naseem Shah, Sahibzada Farhan, Saim Ayub, Shaheen Shah Afridi, Usman Khan (wicket-keeper), Usman Tariq.

Markram Hails Tough Pakistan Conditions After South Africa's Hard-Fought Win

South Africa captain Aiden Markram said on Thursday that their test victory over hosts Pakistan in difficult conditions was a major confidence boost for the tourists, who will be heading to India next and expect an even sterner Test.

South Africa beat Pakistan by eight wickets to level the series at 1-1, dominating on a spinning track and showing some impressive resolve to turn the match on its head when they looked in trouble near the end of their first innings.

"It was a really good response after the first test and we were put under pressure in this test once again, and there were moments where guys had to put their hands up and stand up for the team, and they really did that, and then excelled in that," said Markram.

"We take a lot of confidence and a lot of belief from the win, but when your character is tested and you manage to come out on the right side, I think that means quite a bit more."

South Africa won the World Test Championship in June but have a much tougher programme in the new two-year cycle with away series against Pakistan, India and Sri Lanka.

Usually South Africa sides struggle with the slow wickets.

"It's still a work in progress for us playing in these conditions, but for guys to put up their hands at various stages throughout the game, throughout the series, is a big positive for us," Markram added.

"It gives the change room heaps of belief, heaps of confidence and something that we can keep looking forward to."

Markram said South Africa now boasted a match-winning spin bowling armoury after Simon Harmer, Keshav Maharaj and Senuran Muthusamy all registered significant wicket hauls over the two Tests in Pakistan.

"I think the unit that is out here in these conditions is up with the best in the world. Generally, you think of South Africa as just seamers but in conditions like this the guys put in performances. It's exciting for us as a team to see."—Agency

Masood Defends Slow Pitches Strategy to Aid Pakistan's Test Fortunes

Pakistan captain Shan Masood gave a vote of confidence to his country's controversial policy of preparing slow, spinning wickets for home tests, even after it backfired on Thursday and they lost the second test to South Africa.

Pakistan have deliberately looked to produce dry and deteriorating pitches for their spin bowlers to thrive on in home tests over the last 12 months against England, West Indies and South Africa – a decision that has attracted some criticism.

But after losing by eight wickets to South Africa at the Rawalpindi Cricket Stadium, where giant fans were used to help dry out the pitch, Masood defended the policy.

"Look, it's been four wins out of six since we've operated on these wickets," he said.

"Obviously, the wickets have got a bit better. They've been much more battable. Four out of six isn't bad considering in the two test matches we've lost we got into winning positions. Had we finished those games off it could easily have been six out of six."

Pakistan came from one test down to beat England twice in a row last October when they prepared viciously spinning tracks and then drew 1-1 with West Indies in Multan in January.

The two-test series against South Africa in Lahore and Rawalpindi also saw prodigious spin, but it was the visiting team who best used the conditions in the second test to level the series.

Critics of the Pakistan approach fear it holds back the development of their fast bowlers, and this would erode their competitiveness in away series.

Pakistan had South Africa on the ropes on the third day on Wednesday but struggled to bowl them out as the tourists' tail-enders fought a rearguard action to turn the test on its head before going on to win.—Agency

Short, Connolly Shine as Australia Triumph Over India to Clinch ODI Series

A composed 74 from Matt Short and a maiden half-century by Cooper Connolly steered Australia to a two-wicket win over India on Thursday, sealing the three-match one-day series with a game to go.

After India made 264-9 at a sold-out Adelaide Oval on the back of Rohit Sharma's 73, the hosts reached their target with 22 balls remaining.

Short, who was twice dropped, led the charge before Connolly (61 not out) and Mitch Owen (36) finished the job.

Australia won a rain-affected opening game in Perth by seven wickets, with the dead-rubber clash in Sydney on Saturday.

The hosts made a tentative start to the chase with Marsh falling for 11 to Arshdeep Singh after swinging wildly.

Travis Head also departed softly, thick-edging Harshit Rana to Virat Kohli on 28.

Short was joined by Matt Renshaw, and they got the scoreboard moving with quick singles, putting on 55.

But spin bamboozled Renshaw, bowled for 30 by Axar Patel, then Alex Carey, dismissed for nine by Washington Sundar, attempting a sweep shot.

Short kept his focus, making a third ODI half-century, before departing to Rana, caught on the ropes as he tried to up the tempo.—Agency

PCB Issues NOCs for Pakistan Stars Heading to BBL 15

The Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) has reportedly granted No Objection Certificates (NOCs) for players participating in the Big Bash League (BBL) 15.

Seven Pakistan cricketers, including Babar Azam, Shaheen Shah Afridi, and Mohammad Rizwan, are set to feature in the 15th edition of the tournament.

The development comes after the PCB had initially suspended the NOCs for players to participate in the overseas T20 leagues on 30 September 2025.

"With the approval of Chairman PCB, all No Objection Certificates (NOCs) for players with respect to participation in leagues and other out-of-country tournaments are hereby put on hold until further orders," the board had said.

However, the reason behind the decision was unknown, with reports stating that PCB wanted to link the NOCs to a performance-based system.

For the unversed, the BBL starts on 14th December, with major Pakistani stars like Shaheen Afridi, Babar Azam, and Mohammad Rizwan set to feature in the league.

Earlier today, Sydney Sixers rolled out a grand welcome for Pakistan's batting superstar Babar Azam, announcing the launch of a special fan zone titled "Babaristan" ahead of the upcoming Big Bash League (BBL) season.

The franchise made the announcement across its social media platforms with the caption, "Introducing Babaristan — A Fan Zone Like No Other," sparking excitement among cricket fans both in Australia and Pakistan.—Agency

Kim Kardashian Diagnosed With Rare, Life-Threatening Illness — Fans Express Concern

Kim Kardashian gets diagnosed with life threatening illness

An aneurysm is the bulge in the artery of the brain. Kim Kardashian is now diagnosed to have it, and she blamed Kanye West for it.

The shocking health scare came to fans' knowledge when, in the latest episode of The Kardashians, the mom-of-four went to a doctor for a regular check-up.

After the MRI scan at a medical centre, doctors found a "little" aneurysm, which they attributed to "stress".

In the clip, the Skims mogul is in tears, as she says while on a call with sister Kourtney Kardashian, "Why the * is this happening?"

Regarding the stress, Kim, in a separate clip, pointed to the divorce from Kanye in 2022, which became a chaotic affair in her life.

Earlier, a source claimed to RadarOnline that the 45-year-old's recent faceless mask look at the 2025 Academy Museum Gala in Los Angeles was a message to Ye.

"That outfit wasn't just fashion – it was a statement. Kim felt invisible for years. The faceless mask perfectly captured how she was silenced and shaped by Kanye's control. It's one of the most haunting metaphors Hollywood has ever seen," the source adds.

Ye and Kim tied the knot in 2014. But they called it quits in 2021. They share four kids.

Greater Israel's Dream, India's Failure, and Pakistan's Rising Role

By Qazi Tariq Mahmood

Global politics moves in patterns shaped by old ambitions and modern power games. Israel's long-cherished dream of "Greater Israel" has always been more than a territorial idea—it is a religious and civilizational pursuit centered on constructing the Third Temple. To achieve it, no strong Muslim state was to remain capable of defiance. Arab nations were dismantled one by one—Iraq, Syria, Libya, and Yemen reduced to chaos—while Afghanistan was crushed under America's 20-year invasion, leaving it too weak to play any strategic role.The U.S. war in Afghanistan (2001–2021) cost over 243,000 lives and more than two trillion dollars. Its deeper objective was to neutralize the region, ensuring that no united Muslim front could challenge Western or Israeli designs. With the Middle East destabilized, focus shifted toward Iran and Pakistan—the last two strongholds of resistance.

Israel targeted Iran through a web of cyberattacks, assassinations, and sabotage. From the 2010 Stuxnet virus to the 2020 killing of nuclear scientist Mohsen Fakhrizadeh, and later covert operations in 2025, the aim was clear: cripple Iran's nuclear capability and fracture its internal unity. Yet Iran's steadfastness and national cohesion turned these attacks into Israel's strategic failure.

Next in line was Pakistan. For this mission, India was built up as a regional enforcer—equipped, financed, and elevated by the U.S., France, and Israel. Through defence pacts and the Quad alliance, India amassed Rafale jets, Barak-8 systems, and advanced military technology. The objective was to use New Delhi as the primary force against China and Pakistan.

That strategy collapsed in May 2025. Under the pretext of a Kashmir provocation, India launched a sudden offensive—widely seen as a false flag—expecting Pakistan to falter. But Islamabad's rapid, precise counter-strike overturned expectations. Within hours, Pakistan downed six Indian jets, including two Rafales, and seized the initiative. The myth of India's invincible military strength crumbled instantly.This shock forced a global rethink. Western capitals, which had poured billions into India's defence and economy, began questioning their returns. The U.S. imposed steep tariffs, tightened H1B visa rules, and slowed joint ventures like Chabahar—while quietly softening its stance toward Pakistan. Russia, China, and Gulf nations also recalibrated their regional approaches, signalling a subtle but clear shift in Pakistan's favor.

Behind these power shifts lies a grim human tragedy. Millions have paid the price for wars driven by ideology and greed—from the ruins of Aleppo and Tripoli to the refugee camps of Kabul and Sana'a. The dream of Greater Israel has left a trail of devastation that continues to haunt the Muslim world.

Yet amid this turmoil, Pakistan has emerged stronger and more self-aware. Its resilience now depends not on military might alone but on domestic stability, economic reform, and unified leadership. If Islamabad safeguards CPEC and BRI projects, achieves energy self-reliance, and invests in its youth, it can redefine its role as a stabilizing force in South Asia and the Middle East.

Poland's Deputy PM Sikorski Arrives In Pakistan For Two-Day Visit

Poland Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Minister Radoslaw Sikorski arrived in Pakistan on Thursday on a two-day official visit from October 23 to 24.

The Foreign Office (FO) said in a statement that Sikorski was received by Poland's ambassador and other senior officials.

According to FO, Sikorski is visiting Pakistan at the invitation of Deputy Prime Minister Senator Ishaq Dar. This marks Sikorski's second visit to Pakistan, as his previous visit took place in 2011.

DPM Dar held a one-on-one meeting as well as delegation-level talks with his Polish counterpart. The two sides are expected to discuss the full spectrum of bilateral relations, and the talks followed by a joint press stakeout.

DPM Dar said that Pakistan highly appreciates its "historically warm and friendly" relationship with Poland, hoping that the bilateral relations would keep progressing positively in the future.

He said that bilateral relations between Pakistan and Poland are based on mutual respect, goodwill, and amity since the establishment of diplomatic ties in 1962.

Referring to the "unique historic" connections between the two countries, the deputy prime minister recalled that during World War II, the Polish refugees had taken shelter in Karachi and Quetta cities of today's Pakistan.

"The Polish air force veterans also played an invaluable role in laying the foundation of Pakistan Air Force for which the country continued to remember them as 'national heroes," DPM Dar added.

He said that Pakistan took inspiration from Poland's long struggle for freedom and sovereignty and that modern-day Europe owed a lot to the founder of the Second Polish Republic.

"Poland's transition from 1991 to now, becoming a trillion-dollar economy, is truly impressive," the deputy prime minister said. DPM Dar also congratulated his Polish counterpart on the successful and smooth presidential elections held recently.

Dar said that he looks forward to Sikorski's further visits to Pakistan with reduced gaps.

In his remarks, Radoslaw Sikorski termed the visit "sentimental as well as official." He said that relations between Pakistan and Poland are good, as both countries have things to "offer" to each other besides discussing the regional and international matters

The FO in an earlier statement said, "the Polish high-up's visit "marks a significant milestone in Pakistan–Poland relations […] Pakistan remains committed to enhancing cooperation with Poland for the mutual benefit of both countries."—RT/Agency

US President Pressures Putin, Sanctions Top Russian Oil Firms; EU Bans LNG

WASHINGTON/BRUSSELS: US President Donald Trump on Wednesday imposed Ukraine-related sanctions on Russia for the first time in his second term, targeting oil companies Lukoil and Rosneft as his frustration grows with Russian President Vladimir Putin over the war.

The move came after EU countries on Wednesday approved a 19th package of sanctions on Moscow for its war against Ukraine that included a ban on Russian liquefied natural gas imports. Trump's measures also followed Britain's sanctioning last week of Rosneft and Lukoil.

The US Treasury Department said it was prepared to take further action as it called on Moscow to agree immediately to a ceasefire in Russia's war in Ukraine, which began in February 2022.

"Given President Putin's refusal to end this senseless war, Treasury is sanctioning Russia's two largest oil companies that fund the Kremlin's war machine," Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent said in a statement. "We encourage our allies to join us in and adhere to these sanctions."

Oil prices jumped more than $2 a barrel after the US measures, with Brent crude futures extending gains after settlement, rising to about $64.

The sanctions are a major policy shift for Trump, who had not put sanctions on Russia over the war and instead relied on trade measures. Trump earlier this year imposed additional 25% tariffs on goods from India in retaliation for its purchasing discounted Russian oil.The US has not imposed tariffs on China, another major buyer of Russian oil. A $60 price cap on Russian oil imposed by Western countries after Russia's invasion has shifted Russia's oil customers in recent years from Europe to Asia.—RT/Agency

ISLAMABAD: Rawalpindi police on Thursday refrained from arresting Aleema Khan, the sister of Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) founder Imran Khan, even though she complied with the arrest warrant issued against her.

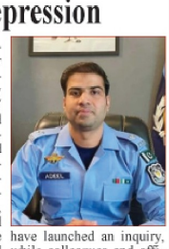

An Anti-Terrorism Court (ATC) in Rawalpindi had issued a non-bailable arrest warrant for Aleema Khan for the fourth time in relation to a protest case on November 26. However, it appears the police have decided not to arrest her.

At the previous hearing, the police submitted a report claiming that Aleema Khan had gone into hiding. However, Judge Amjad Ali Shah rejected the report, labeling it as "bogus."

The ATC had also issued notices to Rawal Division SP Muhammad Saad and DSP Waris Khan Circle Naeem, directing them to appear before the court on Friday for contempt of court proceedings.

Today, she appeared at the Islamabad High Court (IHC) for a hearing related to a petition filed by the Chief Minister of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, Sohail Afridi, requesting a meeting with Imran Khan.Rawalpindi police also arrived at the IHC to comply with the arrest warrant. She signed the arrest warrant and surrendered to the police for arrest. Surprisingly, the police chose not to arrest her.—RT/Agency

KP CM Afridi Returns From Adiala Jail After Being Denied Meeting With Imran

ISLAMABAD/RAWALPINDI: Khyber Pakhtunkhwa (KP) Chief Minister Sohail Afridi has left Rawalpindi's Adiala jail after prison authorities did not grant permission for a meeting with incarcerated Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) founder Imran Khan, despite the Islamabad High Court's (IHC) order to allow such meetings.

Earlier today, the high court directed the superintendent of Adiala jail to allow meetings of the PTI leaders with the party's jailed founder.

The directives came on the PTI's leaders' petitions, including CM Afridi, who have sought a meeting with Imran to discuss "policy matters" and cabinet formation of the newly elected provincial government.

Hearing a bunch of pleas filed by several PTI leaders, an IHC bench, headed by Chief Justice Sarfraz Dogar, directed the Adiala jail superintendent to implement the court's March 24 decision regarding jail meetings with the PTI founder.

The three-member bench also comprised Justice Arbab Muhammad Tahir and Justice Azam Khan.

Soon after the decision, CM Afridi arrived at Adiala Jail to meet Imran, but his convoy was stopped by police at Dahgal checkpoint near the prison.

He staged a short sit-in outside Adiala jail, demanding the implementation of the high court's directives to permit his meeting with the incarcerated party founder.Speaking to journalists at the check post, Afridi said that he wanted to meet his leader, adding that he would still wait for the PTI founder's instructions even if he is not allowed to meet him.—RT/Agency

Trump Heads To Asia Seeking Deals With Xi Jinping

WASHINGTON: US President Donald Trump is set to embark on a major trip to Asia this week with all eyes on an expected meeting with Chinese leader Xi Jinping that has huge implications for the global economy.

Trump said on Wednesday he was making a "big trip" to Malaysia, Japan and South Korea, his first visit to the region since he returned to the White House in a blaze of tariffs and geopolitical brinkmanship.Much of the trip remains shrouded in uncertainty. The White House has given almost no details, and Trump has warned that his anticipated sit-down with Xi in South Korea may not even happen amid ongoing tensions.But Trump has made it clear he hopes to seal a "good" deal with China and end a bitter trade war between the world's two largest economies that has caused global shockwaves.

The host nations are meanwhile set to roll out the red carpet to ensure they stay on the right side of the unpredictable 79-year-old, and win the best deals they can on tariffs and security assistance.

Malaysia and Japan

His first stop is expected to be Malaysia for the October 26-28 summit of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) — a grouping Trump skipped several times in his first term.

Trump is set to ink a trade deal with Malaysia — but more importantly to oversee the signing of a peace accord between Thailand and Cambodia, as he continues his quest for a Nobel Peace Prize."President Trump is keen to see the more positive results of the peace negotiations between Thailand and Cambodia," Malaysian Prime Minister Anwar Ibrahim said on Wednesday.

The US leader may also meet Brazilian counterpart Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva on the sidelines of the summit to improve ties after months of bad blood, officials from both countries told AFP.—RT/Agency

Russian Drone Kills Two Ukrainian Journalists In East

KYIV, Ukraine: A Russian drone killed two Ukrainian journalists and wounded another in the eastern Ukrainian city of Kramatorsk on Thursday, their news outlet and regional officials announced.

Freedom Media, a state-funded news organisation, said the crew had been struck by a Russian Lancet drone while in their car at a gas station in the industrial city.

The news outlet named the killed television crew as 43-year-old Donetsk region native Olena Gramova and Yevgen Karmazin, 33, from Kramatorsk.

It added that another reporter, Alexander Kolychev, was hospitalised after the attack.

The Donetsk regional governor earlier announced details of the strike and posted images showing the charred remains of the journalists' car.

The proliferation of cheap but deadly drones used both by Russian and Ukrainian forces has made reporting from frontline regions of Ukraine increasingly dangerous and unpredictable.

Thursday's attack comes after a Russian state media correspondent was killed in a Ukrainian drone strike in the Moscow-occupied part of Ukraine's Zaporizhzhia region.—RT/Agency
