Trump Greenlights Historic F-35 Deal With Saudi Arabia in High-Stakes White House Summit

US: In a significant policy shift, President Donald Trump signed a billion dollar deal with Saudi Arabia during a high-profile meeting with Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman at the White House on Tuesday, November 17.

U.S. President announced the approval of F-35 fighter jet sales to Saudi Arabia possibly altering the military balance in the Middle East.

The deal also marks a significant deepening of the US-Saudi defense ties.

When reporters asked President Trump about the F-35 sales, he confirmed, "We will be doing it."

In addition to it, the both leaders signed a framework for civil nuclear cooperation and discussed possible Saudi investments in US artificial intelligence infrastructure.

With all ceremonial honors, the visit of the Saudi leader is focused on broadening ties beyond conventional oil and security cooperation into technology and commerce.

The visit marks the Crown's Prince's first visit to White House in over seven years and also brings a renewed focus on the 2018 killing of journalist Jamal Khashoggi, for which US intelligence concluded the Saudi leader was responsible.

This diplomatic engagement signals a mutual intent to move forward, focusing strategic and economic interests amid ongoing regional tensions with Iran.

23 India-Backed Militants Eliminated in Fierce KP Intelligence Ops

KPK: Security forces have killed at least 15 terrorists, including a ring leader affiliated with Indian proxy Fatah al-Khawarij, in two separate intelligence-based operations in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, the Inter-Services Public Relations (ISPR) said on Tuesday.

The military's media wing in a statement said that the operations took place between November 8 and 9 against the India-backed terrorists.

"On reported presence of khawarij, an intelligence-based operation was conducted by the security forces in general area Kulachi, Dera Ismail Khan district," the ISPR said and added that during the conduct of the operation, 10 terrorists, including the ring leader, Alam Mehsud, were killed.

It added that five more terrorists were successfully neutralised in another intelligence-based operation conducted in the general area of Datta Khel, North Waziristan district.

"Sanitisation operations are being conducted to eliminate any other Indian-sponsored khawarij found in the area as relentless Counter Terrorism campaign under vision 'Azme Istehkam' (as approved by federal apex committee on National Action Plan) by security forces and law enforcement agencies of Pakistan will continue at full pace to wipe out menace of foreign-sponsored and supported terrorism from the country," the military's media wing added.

Separately, a suicide bomber was killed after detonating himself near a police station in Bannu, with no additional casualties reported, police said on Tuesday.

A motorcycle and the body of the attacker were found at the scene.

A heavy contingent of law enforcement reached the site immediately and cordoned off the area as an investigation has been launched into the explosion.

The explosion follows a suicide blast at Islamabad's Judicial Complex on November 11 that left 12 people martyred and at least 36 wounded, including lawyers and petitioners.

The federal government had arrested four members of a Tehreek-e-Taliban al-Pakistan/Fatah al-Khawarij (TTP/FAK) cell linked to the suicide attack at the Islamabad District Judicial Complex, G-11. —RT/Agency

Bilawal Declares PPP Won't Allow AJK Govt to Be Run From Shadows

ISLAMABAD: PPP Chairman Bilawal Bhutto Zardari on Monday said the Pakistan Peoples Party would not run the Azad Jammu and Kashmir (AJK) government "from behind closed doors".

Speaking to the media at the oath-taking ceremony of the AJK prime minister, he congratulated the people of Kashmir and said political activity had now been restored in the region.

Bilawal said the PPP's relationship with Kashmir spanned three generations.

He recalled that following the assassination of Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, protests were held not only in Muzaffargarh but also in Srinagar.

He added that former prime minister Benazir Bhutto had once said that wherever the sweat of Kashmiris fell, the blood of the PPP would also be shed.

He alleged that the PPP's mandate in Kashmir had previously been stolen to bring the PTI founder into power.

The PPP chairman said he personally visited Kashmir during the elections and praised the political awareness of the people of AJK and Gilgit-Baltistan.

Bilawal said the promises made by newly sworn-in AJK Prime Minister Faisal Rathore to the public were now a trust placed with him.

He urged Rathore to resolve public issues using the authority invested in him and to fulfil all commitments made to the people.

Commenting on regional tensions, Bilawal said the world had witnessed Pakistan's strength after the recent conflict with India.

"India is hiding its face from the world. From the United States to other countries, everyone will remind them that seven of their aircraft were downed," he remarked.

He further said that Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi was avoiding the global stage to avoid embarrassment. —RT/Agency

Pakistan Outclasses Zimbabwe by Five Wickets in T20 Tri-Series Opener

RAWALPINDI: Pakistan secured a hard-earned five-wicket win over Zimbabwe in the T20I tri-series opener at Rawalpindi Cricket Stadium on Tuesday.

Thanks to disciplined bowling and a resilient Fakhar-Usman partnership.

Set to chase a modest 148-run target, the home side were made to do hard yards by the Zimbabwean bowling attack as they amassed it with just four balls to spare and lost five wickets in the process.

Pakistan got off to a decent start to the pursuit, with their opening pair of Sahibzada Farhan (16) and Saim Ayub, batting cautiously to add 27 runs in four overs, before Brad Evans opened the floodgates by cleaning up the former.

Evans struck in the fifth over, bagging the prized scalp of Babar Azam, who fell for a three-ball duck, resulting in Pakistan slipping to 27/2 in 4.4 overs.

Tinotenda Maposa inflicted another major blow on the home side's run chase as he trapped their captain, Salman Ali Agha (one) lbw in the next over, bringing the total further down to 30/3.

Following the slump, Saim was then joined by experienced Fakhar in the middle, and the duo cautiously added 24 runs for the fourth wicket until Graeme Cremer denied their recovery by dismissing the opener, who made a 26-ball 22, featuring one six and a four. Fakhar then joined forces with Usman Khan to pull Pakistan back into the hunt, with the pair putting together crucial 61 runs during their partnership until the former was sent back by Richard Ngarava in the 16th over. —RT/Agency

UN Security Council Backs US Blueprint in Pivotal Vote on Trump's Gaza Plan

UN: The UN Security Council voted to adopt a US-drafted resolution endorsing President Donald Trump's plan to end the war in Gaza and authorising an international stabilisation force for the Palestinian enclave.

Israel and the Palestinian resistance group Hamas agreed last month to the first phase of Trump's 20-point plan for Gaza — a ceasefire in their two-year war and a hostage-release deal — but the UN resolution is seen as vital to legitimising a transitional governance body and reassuring countries that are considering sending troops to Gaza.

The text of the resolution says member states can take part in the Trump-chaired Board of Peace envisioned as a transitional authority that would oversee reconstruction and economic recovery of Gaza. It also authorises the international stabilisation force, which would ensure a process of demilitarising Gaza, including by decommissioning weapons and destroying military infrastructure.

Hamas, in a statement, reiterated that it will not disarm and argued that its fight against Israel is legitimate resistance, potentially pitting the fighter group against the international force authorised by the resolution.

"The resolution imposes an international guardianship mechanism on the Gaza Strip, which our people and their factions reject," Hamas said in its statement, issued after the adoption of the resolution.

Mike Waltz, the US ambassador to the UN, said the resolution, which includes Trump's 20-point plan as an annex, "charts a possible pathway for Palestinian self-determination... where rocks will give way to olive branches and there is a chance to agree on a political horizon."

"It dismantles Hamas' grip, it ensures Gaza rises free from terror's shadow, prosperous and secure," Waltz told the council ahead of the vote. —RT/Agency

Zelenskyy and US Envoy Head to Turkey in Fresh Push to Break Russia-Ukraine Deadlock

KYIV, Ukraine: Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said Tuesday that he will travel to Turkey this week in an attempt to jump-start negotiations on ending Russia's invasion, which began nearly four years ago.

U.S. special envoy Steve Witkoff will join Zelenskyy in Turkey, a senior Turkish official told The Associated Press, but the Kremlin said that Russia won't be sending anyone.

Turkey provided a setting for low-level talks between Ukraine and Russia earlier this year, though the only significant progress in Istanbul was on exchanging prisoners of war. U.S.-led international peace efforts have brought no breakthrough, either.

Zelenskyy said that he would be in Turkey on Wednesday, a day after visiting Spain where he hoped for pledges of new support on Tuesday.

"We are preparing to reinvigorate negotiations, and we have developed solutions that we will propose to our partners," Zelenskyy said on social media, without providing details. "Doing everything possible to bring the end of the war closer is Ukraine's top priority."

U.S. President Donald Trump has expressed frustration with Russian President Vladimir Putin's refusal to budge from his demands for putting an end to the invasion.

Heavy new American sanctions on Russia's all-important oil industry, devised to push Putin to the negotiating table, are due to take effect on Friday.

PM Shehbaz Congratulates New AJK PM and Promises Full Federal Backing

ISLAMABAD: Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif on Tuesday telephoned the newly elected Prime Minister of Azad Jammu and Kashmir (AJK), Raja Faisal Mumtaz Rathore, and congratulated him on his election victory.

During the conversation, Prime Minister Shehbaz said that the uplift of the AJK people was among the federal government's priorities.

"We are determined to work with the AJK government for the welfare, economic development and security of the people of Azad Jammu and Kashmir," he said and assured that his government will extend all-out cooperation in this regard.

Rathore was elected as the prime minister of AJK through a vote of no confidence motion in the assembly, which sent the then prime minister, Anwar ul Haq, home. The motion got 36 votes in favour. —RT/Agency

He made these remarks while addressing the 24th meeting of the SCO Council of Heads of Government (CHG) held in Moscow.

The CHG is the second-highest decision-making body within the SCO and oversees cooperation in areas such as economy, finance, trade, connectivity, commerce and socio-economic development, including the organisation's budget. It also adopts joint communiqués, statements and key decisions.

During his address, Dar said that the joint communiqué and documents adopted at the summit would go a long way in guiding collective efforts toward regional prosperity.

He emphasised that the SCO's agenda, spanning trade, economy, culture, and humanitarian cooperation, forms the foundation of a "mature, future-oriented" organisation.

Highlighting the outcomes of the recent Tianjin summit, the foreign minister noted that the SCO is shifting towards deeper economic integration.

He pointed to expanded trade collaboration, improved infrastructure connectivity, investment partnerships, and the promotion of digital economies as key pillars for sustainable growth across the SCO region.

He also underscored the SCO's potential to enhance humanitarian cooperation and disaster response.

He shared that Pakistan has developed a "technology-driven, proactive" disaster management system and expressed Pakistan's willingness to conduct simulation exercises with member states to knowledge. —RT/Agency strengthen regional preparedness.

Calling for stronger engagement with SCO observer and partner states, Ishaq Dar urged the organisation to move beyond "passive observation" and bring these countries into project-based initiatives aligned with their expertise.

The deputy premier outlined several proposals for practical cooperation, including activating financial tools such as the SCO Interbank Consortium and advancing plans for an SCO Development Bank to support connectivity and technical collaboration projects. Stressing the importance of human capital development, Dar advocated an expansion of the SCO University Network into a consortium focused on applied knowledge. —RT/Agency

CM Maryam Vows Full-Scale War Against Crimes Targeting Children in Punjab

LAHORE: Punjab Chief Minister Maryam Nawaz Sharif has said that crimes against children will be eliminated from the province. In her message on the International Day for the Prevention and Healing of Child Sexual Exploitation, Abuse and Violence, CM Maryam said that sexual exploitation, mistreatment, and violence against children are not just crimes—they are a rebellion against humanity. "Children are my red line. I love them all, and it is our duty to protect every child," she said. She stated that those involved in crimes against children are the worst elements of society and will be completely rooted out from Punjab.—RT/Agency

When Hasina Fell — And Why Other Countries Should Pay Attention

The dramatic conviction of former Bangladeshi prime minister Sheikh Hasina is more than the downfall of a once-unshakable political titan; it is a stark warning for nations where power is hoarded, dissent is crushed, and democracy is reduced to a hollow ritual. Hasina spent years presenting herself as the guardian of stability, yet she governed through coercion, rigged mandates, and a suffocating personality cult. In the end, the very machinery she relied on to silence opponents delivered judgement against her — a reckoning she never imagined would come so swiftly.

Her fall was not born in courtrooms but in the fury of a people long denied their voice. Bangladesh's streets erupted because the social contract had been broken beyond repair. A regime that dismissed criticism, persecuted rivals, and bulldozed institutions eventually discovered that no autocrat is stronger than a nation pushed to the brink. The tribunal's verdict is simply the tail end of a collapse that began the moment the public rejected fear as a form of governance.

For Pakistan, the shockwaves from Dhaka carry undeniable relevance. We, too, know the perils of elections, the dangers of personalized rule, and the fragility of institutions bent to serve individuals rather than the state. Hasina's abrupt political annihilation underscores a simple, universal truth: when rulers mistake authority for impunity, and when institutions surrender their independence, the fall — when it comes — is sudden, unforgiving, and irreversible.

Welcoming this verdict is not about endorsing vengeance; it is about reaffirming that accountability is inevitable. Bangladesh now faces the challenge of rebuilding democracy from the wreckage of authoritarian excess. Pakistan would do well to note that the people's patience, once exhausted, becomes a force no leader — no matter how entrenched — can withstand.

Babar Azam Surpasses Shahid Afridi's Unwanted T20I Record

RAWALPINDI: Star Pakistan batter Babar Azam broke former captain Shahid Afridi's unwanted record during the first match of the home T20I tri-series against Zimbabwe here at Rawalpindi Cricket Stadium on Tuesday.

Babar, who scored a match-winning half-century in the home T20I series decider against South Africa earlier this month, could not stretch his form into the on-going tri-series as he fell for a three-ball duck.

The right-handed batter was outfoxed by Brad Evans's length delivery, which nipped back sharply after pitching and thudded into his back knee.

With this, the 31-year-old registered his ninth duck in T20Is, going past Afridi on the unwanted list of Pakistan batters, jointly led by Saim Ayub and Umar Akmal.

Most ducks for Pakistan in T20Is

For the unversed, Babar, who led Pakistan in three editions of the ICC Men's T20 World Cup, had gone out of favour in the shortest format after the three-match away series against South Africa in December last year.

He ultimately failed to make it to the Pakistan squad for the recently concluded ACC Men's T20 Asia Cup 2025 as the former champions shifted their focus to grooming youngsters ahead of next year's ICC Men's T20 World Cup.

However, following the heartbreak in the eight-team continental tournament, the right-handed batter was called up for the recent home assignment against South Africa, who finished runners-up at the T20 World Cup 2024.

Upon his return, the right-handed batter surpassed India's Rohit Sharma to become the all-time leading run-scorer in T20Is.—RT/Agency

Manchester United Legend Identifies Leading Contender to Replace Casemiro

Manchester United legend Paul Scholes has named Elliott Anderson as a potential replacement for Casemiro at the club.

Scholes believes that the 23-year-old has impressed him a lot as England's defensive midfielder, but United would need a bit more as well to get to their desired stage.

Speaking on The Good, The Bad & The Football podcast, Scholes said that Casemiro will not extend his stay after his contract expires at United.

"He has been a great player and I think he's actually been better this year than he was possibly last year. I think you've got to take his age into account and I think he'll probably move on after his deal is done," Scholes said.

Casemiro's contract will expire at the end of the season, but Manchester United have an option to extend it by a year.

Talking about the Brazilian's replacement, he added that Anderson is a good player and he could solve the problems of the Red Devils after Casemiro leaves.

"Elliott Anderson is a really good player. Look, I think they need a bit more than Anderson to get to where they want to be, to challenging, but, no, I think he's a really good player. When he was at Newcastle I thought he was a really good player," Scholes added.

"I thought he was more of an attacking midfielder and I didn't see him in this role that he's playing for England as a number six. But he looks a really good player, I think he's athletic enough as well and, yeah, I think he would be a really good signing but we'll see."—Agency

World No 1 Carlos Alcaraz Withdraws From Davis Cup in Major Blow

Reigning US Open champion and current World No. 1, Carlos Alcaraz, announced on Tuesday that he has withdrawn from the Davis Cup Finals in Bologna because of an injury, saying that he is going back home 'heartbroken'.

The Spaniard's injury worsened during the ATP Finals, particularly during his loss to Jannik Sinner in the final on Sunday.

His subsequent withdrawal from the Davis Cup is a significant setback for the organisers, the International Tennis Federation (ITF) stated. Alcaraz confirmed that he would not be attending the Davis Cup due to Oedema in his right hamstring.

The Spanish star conveyed his deep disappointment in an Instagram post.

"I'm so sorry to announce that I won't be able to play for Spain in the Davis Cup in Bologna," Alcaraz said.

"I have oedema in my right hamstring and the medical recommendation is not to compete. I've always said that playing for Spain is the greatest thing there is, and I was really looking forward to helping us fight for the Davis Cup. I'm going home heartbroken." The world number two, Sinner, also withdrew from the tournament last month. Another member of the Italian team, Lorenzo Musetti, will also miss the tournament. He withdrew for family and health reasons.—Agency

Fabio Wardley Secures Full WBO Championship, Eyes Moses Itauma Clash Next

Fabio Wardley has become the full-fledged WBO heavyweight champion after Oleksandr Usyk vacated the belt and could face Moses Itauma next, international media reported on Tuesday.

Usyk won the WBO heavyweight title in 2021 by defeating Anthony Joshua and successfully defended it four times. The WBO had earlier ordered him to face interim champion Joseph Parker this year, but no agreement was reached.

Parker was then beaten by Wardley on October 25 and claimed the WBO interim heavyweight title, becoming the mandatory challenger against Usyk.

The fight was decided in the 11th round with Wardley knocking Parker out at London's O2 Arena.

Following the victory, Wardley challenged undisputed heavyweight champion Usyk, alerting the Ukrainian that facing him will be no easy task.

After Parker's victory, Wardley's promoter, Frank

Warren, said that the talks with Usyk's team had already begun. It was anticipated that the match would take place in the first half of 2026 between the boxers, but the Ukrainian decided not to fight.

With the belt vacated, Usyk lost the status of undisputed world heavyweight champion. However, he remains the reigning champion of the WBA, WBC, and IBF.

In December 2024, he defeated Britain's Daniel Dubois to reclaim the IBF title and become the undisputed champion once again.

Earlier, in May 2024, Usyk defeated Tyson Fury to secure a four-belt title, though he later relinquished the IBF belt due to mandatory fight obligations.

The WBO emphasised that Usyk's departure represents a respectful pause rather than a farewell.

"The doors of the WBO will always remain open to Oleksandr Usyk and his team," WBO President Gustavo Olivieri said.—Agency

Brazil Coach Sets Firm Fitness Deadline for Neymar Ahead of World Cup

Brazil's coach Carlo Ancelotti has given a six-month period to Neymar Jr to prove his fitness ahead of the FIFA World Cup 2026, scheduled in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Neymar, 33, has not featured for Brazil in two years, with injuries hampering his ability to perform consistently since returning to Santos last year after a stint in Saudi Arabia. In a press conference on Monday, Ancelotti said that, fortunately, the Brazilian forward has recovered from his injury and he is in his plans for the World Cup.

He added that Neymar has six months to prove his fitness and make a place in his final squad.

"I thought Neymar was just a topic in Brazil, but I see it's a global issue," Ancelotti said. "Fortunately, he recovered from his injury."

Now he has six months to play. "Neymar is on the list of players who could be at the World Cup. Now he has six months to make the final list. We just have to observe him and other players to avoid making mistakes in the final selection." The former Barcelona and Paris Saint-Germain forward last wore the famous yellow jersey in October 2023, when he suffered serious knee ligament damage that has plagued comeback attempts. Ancelotti, who became Brazil's coach in May, said that Neymar has enough time to return to his best form and represent his country again. "The Brazilian Championship stops on December 7, then he can take a vacation, but then he'll have the Brazilian Championship again to show his quality and, obviously, his physical condition," he said.—Agency

Button Reveals the One Hamilton Surprise That Shocked Him During Their 2010 Partnership

Former Formula One champion Jenson Button has said that Lewis Hamilton was surprised after finding that McLaren was supporting the former more when he joined them in 2010.

Button revealed that he used to spend more time with engineers to build a strong team around himself.

Button won the world championship with Brawn GP in 2009 and moved to McLaren one year later. He was paired with 2008 F1 champion Hamilton there.

The 45-year-old has revealed that he quickly adjusted in the British team and received their support. Even though his teammate had already become an influential individual.

Speaking with Sky Sports, Jenson Button shared his journey with Lewis Hamilton as a teammate. They raced together at McLaren from 2010 to 2012 until the seven-time world champion left for Mercedes.

After explaining how it was to go up against one of the brightest stars at the time, Button opened up about a thing that surprised Hamilton in 2010.

"The thing that probably is a lot stronger with now than in 2010 is the mental side of things. You know, it was a lot more difficult back then. I think he felt that it was his team, and I came in and I didn't make it my team, but I spent a lot more time with the mechanics and the engineers to build a team of people around me," said Button.

"And I think he was surprised by that and that they were supporting me as much as they were him."—Agency

Asjad Iqbal Floors India's Advani to Storm Into Snooker World Cup Semi-Finals

KARACHI: Pakistan's seasoned cueist Asjad Iqbal outclassed India's Pankaj Advani 4-0 in the World Cup of Snooker quarter-final here at the Active Oman Sports and Entertainment Hub in Muscat on Tuesday.

Asjad got off to a blazing start to the knockout fixture as he registered a sensational break of 81 to clinch the opening frame 100-0.

Advani managed to offer some resistance in the subsequent frame, scoring a total of 37 points, but Asjad moved 2-0 up by piling on 92.

The third frame saw Asjad registering another 50-plus break (68) and effortlessly won it 117-16 to move one within victory.

He denied Advani any chance to force a comeback and won the decisive fourth frame 83-21 to round up a perfect 4-0 victory, which propelled him into the semi-finals, where he will square off against France's Nicolas Morreux, who booked his place in the Final Four by defeating Hong Kong China's Nansen Wan 4-1.

For the unversed, Asjad Iqbal defeated another Indian opponent, Hussain Khan, 3-0 in the round of 32.

Interestingly, after the match, both players showed sportsmanship by shaking hands and also hugged each other, which is a rare occurrence due to India's politicisation of sports, which emerged from the ACC Men's T20 Asia Cup 2025 in September. The arch rivals met thrice in the continental tournament, and Indian players noticeably avoided post-toss and post-match handshakes with their Pakistani counterparts.

The controversy did not remain limited to the men's events, as a similar situation occurred at the ICC Women's World Cup 2025, where both teams' captains, Harmanpreet Kaur and Fatima Sana, avoided shaking hands at the toss. The handshake controversy between the arch-rivals resurfaced on Sunday during the ACC Men's Asia Cup Rising Stars 2025 clash between India 'A' and Pakistan Shaheens, as captains Jitesh Sharma and Irfan Niazi skipped the customary handshake at the toss.—Agency

Dasha's Austin Hits One Billion Spotify Streams, Trailing Only Taylor Swift

Dasha has made new history in the country music industry, as she has officially joined the Spotify Billionaires club with her song, Austin.

"I still can't wrap my head around this. 'Austin' changed my life, and now just two years after I put it out on my own ... it's officially hit a billion streams on Spotify," the Not at This Party hitmaker said in a statement.

She further said, "All I've ever wanted is to make music that helps people feel like the strongest, most badass version of themselves."

"'Austin' was written in pure rage, but it somehow turned into this beautiful source of community and empowerment. I'm the luckiest girl in the world," continued Dasha.

The Love Me Till August songstress added, "I have the best team, the best family and friends, and now a billion streams on my first breakout song ... that's the juiciest cherry on top."

For those unversed, Dasha released her breakthrough hit, Austin, on November 17, 2023.

Ariana Grande Teases Whether Wicked 3 Is Moving Forward

Ariana Grande is spilling the beans on a potential new part for Wicked.

The singer turned actress recently shared a new video on her Instagram account to dish out a conversation in a panel about her upcoming work.

Ariana was spotted chatting with her Wicked: For Good costar Cynthia Erivo in the clip.

"You mentioned 'farewell tour.' If we've learned anything from Cher, we can count on there always being another farewell tour," Grande quipped. "So I don't think anyone's going anywhere."

"Was that a confirmation of Wicked 3 just now?" a moderator on the panel then asked Grande.

"No, no, I don't know," Grande added. "I mean, first of all, I know that there's a great peace that's coming along with this coming out and I think there's a peace that's felt, because people will finally get to know the full truth of these women."

The actress then added that she is "really relieved people will finally get to see and know and love"

Irina Shayk Shares How Motherhood Transformed Her Confidence

Irina Shayk is sharing some insights into her journey of motherhood and how she gained more confidence after becoming a mom.

The Russian Fashion model, who shares an 8-year-old daughter, Lea De Seine, with ex-partner Bradley Cooper, opened up about how motherhood has uplifted her confidence.

"To be a woman in power," the dotting mom-of-one remarked. "You have to feel comfortable in your own skin."

Referring to her debut in the iconic Pirelli Calendar, she continued, "To be part of the Pirelli Calendar — I'm literally in the right time in my life."

"I'm a mother and I know who I am. I know what I stand for..." Irina added.

She further revealed how she teaches her daughter self-love. "I just feel like there are so many beauty standards out there that of course I try to protect my daughter from."

Elsewhere during the conversation, she also shed some light on co-parenting with Bradley amid their high-profile careers.

"She has very, very little digital access, almost down to none," Irina detailed.

The model revealed that she prioritizes "building community, friends and just giving love." "This is the best thing that you could give to your kid, raising them in a loving family," she noted.

MBS Tells Trump Saudi Investment in US Will Surge Toward One Trillion Dollars

US: Donald Trump on Tuesday hailed Saudi Arabia's Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman $1 trillion investment pledge as the US president laid on a lavish welcome at the White House.

Trump moved to consolidate his growing bromance with the Saudi leader, who is at the Oval Office for the first time in seven years, giving him a parade of soldiers on horseback and a military flypast featuring F-35 jets that he said "Washington hammered said in the Oval Office.

A grinning Trump asked him to confirm the figure, to which the Saudi royal replied: "Definitely."

Rose Garden tour Trump pulled out all the stops for the Saudi prince, giving him treatment normally reserved for a state visit to the White House, despite the fact that he is not a head of state.

He welcomed bin Salman, who is widely known as MBS — on the South Lawn of the White House as cannon fire boomed out, before they watched the noisy flypast by US military jets.

The 79-year-old Republican then showed the prince a new gallery of presidential portraits by the Rose Garden — including one portraying his Democratic predecessor Joe Biden as an autocrat. —RT/Agency

ECC Signs Off Major Grants to Power Critical Security and Defence Initiatives

ISLAMABAD: The Economic Coordination Committee (ECC) on Tuesday approved grants pertaining to Pakistan's security and defence.

In a post on social media platform X, the finance ministry said Finance Minister Muhammad Aurangzeb chaired a meeting of the ECC that was attended by federal ministers, special assistants to the prime minister, secretaries, and senior officials from relevant divisions.

It said the ECC approved "several strategic grants and reforms aimed at strengthening Pakistan's security framework, defence capabilities, food security, and petroleum sector operations".

According to the ministry's statement, a technical supplementary grant of Rs100.3 million was approved for the maintenance of defence equipment used by the federal civil armed forces.

A technical supplementary grant of Rs841.56m was also approved for enhanced border management, internal security and law and order. Further, a technical supplementary grant of Rs50 billion was also approved for defence services projects.

The ECC also decided to establish a new special purpose vehicle, with initial paid-up capital of Rs1,000,000, to take forward the winding up of Pakistan Agriculture Storage and Services Corporation, along with "measures to incentivise foreign participation in offshore oil and gas exploration, including licence extensions and working interest assignments".

Bannu Blast Backfires as Terrorist Dies When Own IED Detonates Mid-Attack

BANNU: Terrorists' bid to blow up a bridge in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa's Bannu district failed on Tuesday when an improvised explosive device (IED) detonated prematurely while it was being installed, police said.

Amir Khan, the spokesperson for the District Police Office in Bannu, told Dawn that two terrorists intended to blow up Doghoda terrorist had also been initiated, he said.

A search operation was also under way to track down the other terrorist, he added.

Today's incident comes around a month after law enforcers foiled an attack by terrorists at a police station in Bannu.

According to police, terrorists belonging to Fima-al-Khawarij — a term the state uses for the banned Tehreek-e-Taliban Pakistan (TTP) — had tried to attack the Baka Khat police station from a distance in the October 19 incident.

But, police personnel opened fire on them after detecting their movement, preventing the terrorists from coming near the police station. Eventually, the terrorists fled, a police statement said. —RT/Agency

Man Cleared After 39-Year Ordeal as 100-Rupee Bribe Case Finally Crumbles

INDORE, Madhya Pradesh: Jagdishwar Prasad Audhia, a former clerk in the undivided Madhya Pradesh State Road Transport Corporation, has been acquitted by the court nearly 39 years after being arrested in 1986 on charges of accepting a 100-rupee bribe.

Speaking to the media,

Audhia expressed mixed emotions. "The High Court has declared me innocent, but the certificate of acquittal hardly compensates for the enormous burden my family and I have carried for nearly four decades," he said.

He revealed that he was unable to educate his children, arrange their marriages, and suffered the loss of his wife due to lack of proper medical care. Additionally, strained relationships with relatives left lasting scars.

"I ask, who will restore all that I have lost?" Audhia questioned, highlighting the human cost of prolonged legal delays in India's justice system. —RT/Agency

TTAP Erupts in Streets, Warns 27th Amendment Has Slammed Every Door to Justice

ISLAMABAD: The joint opposition alliance, Tehreek Tahaffuz-e-Ayeen-Pakistan (TTAP), on Tuesday held a protest rally against the 27th Constitutional Amendment, marching from Parliament House to the Supreme Court.

TTAP chief Mahmood Khan Achakzai and other leaders, including Allama Raja 27th Constitutional Amendment, marching from Parliament House to the Supreme Court.

Speaking to newsmen, Allama Abbas said that the march symbolised their struggle for the "protection" of the Constitution, adding that all roads to justice have been "closed" in Pakistan.

"We walked from parliament to the Supreme Court to highlight how all avenues of justice have been closed for the people of Pakistan," he stated.

Allama Abbas said the unanimously agreed-upon Constitution has been turned into a "contested document". He said that no legislation should contradict the spirit of the Constitution.

The TTAP leader went on to say that freedom of expression is being "suppressed" in Pakistan.

"People have been silenced, fundamental human rights are being violated, and we will not remain quiet as long as we live," he remarked.

Announcing future course of action, Allama Abbas said that they would observe "Black Day" across the country next Friday, with supporters wearing black arm-bands. He added that a national conference is also being convened as part of the ongoing movement.

It is to be noted here that last week, parliament passed the 27th Constitutional Amendment with a two-thirds majority, changing the judicial structure and military command. —RT/Agency

ISLAMABAD: Following the controversial 27th Constitutional Amendment, empowering the Judicial Commission of Pakistan (JCP) to transfer high court judges across provinces without their consent, fresh indications have emerged that as many as four high court judges may be contemplating resignation.

Well-placed sources told The News that these four judges have recently approached their respective high court's accounts department to seek detailed information regarding their post-retirement entitlements.

Their queries, all made verbally, relate to pensionary benefits, the exact dates on which such benefits become due in two of the cases, the status of their accumulated leave balances, and the depreciated value of the official vehicles currently in their use if they opt to purchase them now.

According to sources, these inquiries have triggered strong speculation within judicial circles that the four judges — already understood to be on the government's list for transfer after the passage of the 27th Amendment — are actively weighing the option of stepping down instead of being reassigned to new provinces or regions. —RT/Agency
